CONFESSES: "I KILLED LANG"

SHARE WEALTH TAX BILL IS PUT BEFORE HOUSE

Surtaxes on $50,000 and Up Raised.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—A 72 year old North Carolina mountaineer, tall, shambling, weather beaten Robert L. Doughton, stepped up to the speaker's dais in the house this afternoon and dropped a 20,000 word bill in the hopper. So doing, he started the legislative machinery to grinding out President Roosevelt's projects for the redistribution of wealth.

The bill provides for inheritance taxes designed to break up large fortunes and increased income taxes on rich individuals and on corporations, all of which, it is estimated, will yield from 200 to 250 million dollars of additional revenue.

Having introduced the bill, which had been framed by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee behind closed doors, Congressman Doughton convened the full committee, of which he is chairman, and gave the Republican minority its first glimpse of the measure.

G. O. P. Changes Beaten Down.

The Republicans fumed and spluttered over the bill, which they called a political gesture to take the wind out of Wealth Sharer Huey Long's sails, and offered amendments which they said would make it a real move toward balancing the budget, unbalanced last year by 3½ billions, this year prospectively by 4½ billions. Chairman Doughton put the motion and by a strict party vote all amendments were swept aside and the bill was ordered favorably reported to the house.

Chairman Doughton will bring in the bill when the house convenes tomorrow in accord with a program calling for its passage by the end of the week. The senate having tabled 52 to 10 a Republican resolution to adjourn congress Aug. 10, its finance committee will begin hearings at once on the house bill.

Summary of the Bill.

The ways and means committee bill provides for the following new taxes:

1. A tax on inheritances in excess of $50,000 in the case of blood relatives or $10,000 in the case of nonrelatives at rates beginning at 4 per cent and mounting to 75 per cent, which, together with the present federal estate taxes, would take for the government 87 per cent of a fortune over 10 millions.
2. An increased tax on gifts, fixed at 75 per cent of the tax on inheritance, for the purpose of circumventing avoidance of death duties.
3. Increased surtaxes on individual incomes of $50,000 or more, the rates beginning at 31 per cent and rising to 75 per cent on all income over 5 millions.
4. A tax of 13¾ per cent on corporation net income not exceeding $15,000 and 14¾ per cent on incomes thereover.
5. Increased excess profits taxes graduated from 5 per cent on profits of 8 per cent or over to 20 per cent on profits over 25 per cent.

Surtaxes Rise at $50,000.

The inheritance and gift tax schedules of the bill were published in THE TRIBUNE last week. The individual income tax schedule was revised in such manner as to start the increased surtaxes at $50,000 instead of the $150,000 first adopted by the committee. The revised individual income surtax schedule follows:

Net Income—			Present tax...	Proposed tax..	Yield on new rate—maximum...
$ 50,000	to	56,000	30	31	9,560
56,000	to	62,000	33	35	11,660
62,000	to	68,000	36	39	14,060
68,000	to	74,000	39	43	16,580
74,000	to	80,000	42	47	19,400
80,000	to	90,000	45	51	24,500
90,000	to	100,000	50	55	30,000
100,000	to	150,000	52	58	59,000
200,000	to	250,000	54	62	120,000
250,000	to	300,000	54	64	152,000
400,000	to	500,000	56	68	286,000
500,000	to	750,000	57	70	481,000
750,000	to	1,000,000	59	72	641,000
1,000,000	to	2,000,000	59	73	1,371,000
2,000,000	to	5,000,000	59	74	3,591,000
5,000,000	and	over	59	75	....

On the confiscation of large fortunes through inheritance taxes the President confined himself to generalities and the committee wrote its own ticket. On individual income taxes he suggested increased surtaxes on incomes over 1 million dollars, but the committee extended the increase downward first to $150,000, then to $50,000 incomes. Inasmuch as $50,000 is a 5 per cent income on 1 million, the committee wrote what it regards a millionaire tax schedule.

It was on the tax to penalize big-

$100,000,000 WPA PROGRAM HERE APPROVED

Kelly Speeds Plans; Jobs for 65,000.

Definite approval of a hundred million dollar program of works relief projects for the city, parks, and schools was announced late yesterday by Mayor Kelly. The announcement followed a conference between the mayor, Harry Hopkins, national works progress administrator, and Robert J. Dunham, state director of the WPA.

The mayor said he hoped to have work started on the street resurfacing project within six weeks and to have the other improvements under way shortly thereafter, giving jobs to 65,000 persons.

Hopkins shied away from reporters during the day and said as he left the conference that the mayor would do the talking. Previously the WPA chief, who is also national relief administrator, met with Howard O. Hunter, regional director, and members of the federal works progress staf in Chicago, at a luncheon at the Stevens hotel. Last night Hopkins spoke on "From Relief to Work" in Mandel hall at the University of Chicago, predicting increased employment, "better times," and adding a thrust for the New Deal's social security program.

Mayor Outlines Program.

"You may say that we decided definitly on projects totaling approximately 100 million dollars," said Mayor Kelly after the conference. He then outlined the major projects as follows:

1. City—Street resurfacing, $31,000,000; sewer rehabilitation, $40,000,000.
2. Parks—$22,000,000 total for rehabilitation, landscaping, and improvements, including new swimming pool, 600 by 200 feet, for Washington park.
3. Schools—Improvements, additions, and landscaping, $9,000,000.

The program will provide jobs for several thousand white collar workers, Mayor Kelly explained, in the conduct of surveys on traction, housing, recreational facilities, and streets. During the day the state WPA administration under Dunham, who also is president of the Chicago consolidated park district and former chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, sent to Washington for approval a professional musician-theatrical entertainment project at a cost of $718,840, with employment for 7,000 Chicago men and women.

Major Portion for Salaries.

This project was submitted by the city and would employ musicians and entertainers in the production of plays variety performances, and concerts at the parks, playgrounds, Navy pier, and other suitable places including hospitals and institutions. More than 96 per cent of the money allocated would be used directly for salaries.

In connection with the street paving operations to be financed by federal funds, the city council yesterday approved Mayor Kelly's recommendation that North Michigan avenue between Randolph street and East Wacker drive be transferred to the jurisdiction of the Chicago park district.

An ordinance for the transfer will be given to the council Friday. The park district is proposing a $1,250,000 federal project to resurface Michigan avenue from 55th street on the south to North avenue on the north. The Randolph-Wacker stretch of pavement is all that is not within park jurisdiction.

Expects $175,000,000 Total.

With additional projects planned for the future, Mayor Kelly said that the completed WPA program for the city would probably cost a total of $175,000,000.

The lake front airport and the Outer drive bridge projects were not discussed at the conference yesterday.

Recently Dunham announced that the park board would go ahead on the bridge spanning the city's north and south sides at the mouth of the Chicago river without appealing again to a governmental agency.

Robert Black, chief civil engineer for the park district, conferred yesterday with engineers for the Illinois Central railroad on the problems involved in the construction of the bridge. Black said the park engineering department today will ask the commissioners for permission to advertise for bids on contracts for construc-

EX-SEN. GILLETT REPORTED NEAR DEATH IN EAST

Springfield, Mass., July 29.—(AP)—Former U. S. Senator Frederick H. Gillett, 83, was reported tonight to be dying at the Springfield hospital, where he has been for three weeks.

Hospital officials said physicians felt he might not live through the night, and that in any case his death would occur within a day or two.

Gillett, a Republican, succeeded Champ Clark as speaker of the house of representatives, in which he served 32 years until he was elected senator from Massachusetts in 1924.

Since he left the senate in 1931 Gillett has been in retirement, writing his memoirs.

Divorcee Dies; Escort Tells of Quarrel in Car

Du Page county authorities last night were investigating the death in Elmhurst hospital yesterday noon of Mrs. Gladys Sweeney, 32 years old, 1433 North State parkway, a divorcée, from injuries incurred in a mysterious accident on an automobile ride late Sunday night.

Glenn Farrell, 41 years old, 7047 Calumet avenue, her escort on an automobile ride home from a picnic in Des Plaines, who brought her to the hospital, was questioned by Coroner Paul Isherwood, State's Attorney Russell Keeney, and Alan Myers, chief investigator for the state's attorney. He was released in the technical custody of Dr. Frank Leahy, health commissioner of Elmhurst, for the inquest, which will be set later.

Divorced a Year Ago.

Farrell is assistant superintendent of mails in the Chicago postoffice. He told investigators that for eight months he had been keeping company with Mrs. Sweeney, a bookkeeper for the Peter Hand Brewing company, 1636 Sheffield avenue, who was divorced a year ago.

By a prearranged plan, Farrell said, he and Mrs. Sweeney met Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sweeney (not relatives of the dead woman) of Villa Park and went to the picnic together. All of them drank beer, Farrell told Investigator Myers, and at 10 p. m. they left.

The Richard Sweeneys had invited them to a late fish supper at their home, Farrell recounted. But when he and Gladys started to drive there, said Farrell, she complained of the late hour and asked to be driven home. Accordingly, he turned his car about and started driving east in Roosevelt road from Villa Park.

Tells of Quarrel in Car.

"About a couple of blocks further on we got into a little quarrel about going to the Sweeneys in Villa Park," said Farrell. "Gladys changed her mind again and said she wanted to go back there. It wasn't much of a dispute, but there were some words.

"Two blocks east of the Salt creek bridge (on the southern outskirts of Elmhurst) she suddenly said she was going to get out. She pulled open the door and the next thing I knew she was on the road. I stopped the car, backed up, and finally got her into it."

Farrell then drove the young woman to the Richard Sweeney home, where they treated her many bruises. When she remained unconscious, Dr. Leahy was summoned, two hours later, and ordered her taken to the hospital.

Chief of Police William Higgins of Villa Park said last night he wanted to question Dr. Leahy to learn why the local police were not summoned when the physician reached the Sweeney home at 1 a. m. The ambulance to take Mrs. Sweeney to the hospital was not called until 5:30 a. m., Chief Higgins said.

Report Seeing Body at Road.

Investigator Myers had received a call about 10:30 Sunday night from the Berkeley village police that a passing motorist had seen the body of a young woman lying on Roosevelt road near the Salt creek bridge. Police went there, but found nothing.

Another puzzling circumstance, said Myers, was the finding later of Mrs. Sweeney's shoes placed carefully along the roadside with her wrist watch near by and her skirt draped over a bush. Farrell suggested that the skirt may have been pulled off when he tried to put her in his automobile. Mrs. Sweeney had been complaining that her feet hurt, said Farrell, and she may have had her shoes in her hand when she went out of the car.

M'CUTCHEON IN THE AIR

Cartoonist awed by scenery on 1,062 mile flight along Pacific coast.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 29.—There was a good illustration today of why South America likes air passenger transport. We flew in a Douglas airplane from Arica, Chile, to Santiago, a distance of 1,062 miles, in five and a half hours' flying time, mostly at an altitude of 12,000 feet.

The scenery was on a tremendous scale. On the left was the awe inspiring wall of the snow capped and sunlit Andes. On the right, like an arctic ice field, was a characteristic winter coastal fog. It totally obscured the Pacific ocean throughout the day and made islands of the lower mountains. The fog spilled over the edges like waterfalls.

Below was the vast nitrate desert, later becoming mountainous, with occasional fertile river gorges.

There were brief stops at Antofagasta and Ovalle. We had six passengers. The plane was steam heated and we had luncheon on board. I read William Albert Robinson's "Ten Thousand Leagues Over the Sea" to divert too frequent contemplation of ten thousand feet under the plane. Nazis Alarmed Over Anger in Foreign Lands

BERLIN, July 29.—(AP)—Nazi chieftains today called off their drive on "state enemies," it was learned from a high source. The suppression of Jews and Catholics was ordered "soft-pedaled" because of repercussions of the Nazi drive in foreign lands.

The decision was reached after a hurried council at the mountain retreat of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at Obersalzberg. In attendance, it was said, were Gen. Werner von Blomberg, minister of war; Hermann Wilhelm Goering, head of the secret police, and other Nazi leaders.

Impressed with the political expediency of halting publisher Julius Streicher's Jewish strictures, the leaders at the week-end conference considered whether to call a national plebiscite to show confidence in the Nazi régime.

Offer Jews Military Service.

The plebiscite, if held, probably would be much like previous demonstrations. The populace, after a fanfare of propaganda, would be asked to vote its confidence on the administration's recent actions despite "all the attacks by enemies abroad."

The leaders were told of inimical reactions abroad to moves against Jews, Catholics and the Steel helmets veterans' organization. The council effected a change whereby Jews will be considered for military enlistment if they have only two Jewish grandparents, a proposal seen as the first letup in the non-Aryan warfare.

A national police campaign was planned against individual acts of terrorism which made it plain that further pressure against Jews, bolshevism and other "reactionaries" will be in the state's hands. Evidence that the battles are abating is noticed in the removal of "Don't Buy from Jews" stickers from Jewish shops.

Schacht Seeks Moderation.

Special attention was reported to have been paid to reactions in England, with whom Germany seeks to cultivate a great friendship. The episodes in New York—the riot on the liner Bremen and Mayor La Guardia's denial of a license to a German masseur—also were discussed.

It was reported that Franz Seldte vainly sought an interview regarding the action against the Steel Helmets, which he heads.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, ambassador extraordinary, and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the Reichsbank, are reported to have warned Hitler of the unfriendly reception of war veterans abroad of the Nazi drives, especially the suspension of the Steel Helmets.

Cognizance also was taken of the possible effect of the state's policies on the 1936 Olympic games, on which Germany was banking strongly as an agency of favorable propaganda as well as a successful financial event.

NEW ATTACK ON U. S.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 29.—German newspapers, adding new fires to the anger over the riot and flag tearing incident on the liner Bremen in New York last week, today printed reports of increased anti-German boycott propaganda in America and threats against German ships. Most papers threaten that if American officials do not take the necessary action "a situation will develop in which Germany must adopt another attitude toward such attacks."

Washington's expressions of regret were derided as "totally inadequate." The official newspaper, Der Angriff, declared that this was clearly confirmed by threats of new anti-German demonstrations.

The Boersen Zeitung demanded intervention by the American govern-

EVELYN SMITH TELLS STORY OF SWAMP MURDER

Mystery Is Solved in Midnight Drama.

Mrs. Evelyn Smith, faded blonde laundress and former burlesque dancer, confessed early this morning that she strangled Ervin Lang, severed his legs, and threw the torso into the swamp near Hammond, where it was found on July 9, three days after the murder.

Her confession, made after nearly eight hours of grilling at the state's attorney's office, came as a surprise to Assistant State's Attorneys Charles S. Dougherty and Francis T. McCurrie, who were conducting the midnight inquiry.

Defies Her Questioners.

Mrs. Smith was brought to Chicago by airplane at 4:45 p. m. yesterday from New York, where she was captured last Saturday. She had maintained her innocence despite the story of Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, mother-in-law of the slain man, that Mrs. Smith had been hired to commit the crime for $500.

In the face of her continued inquisition and in spite of two dramatic scenes in the Criminal courts building when Mrs. Dunkel confronted her, Mrs. Smith during the night presented a half smiling and defiant mein toward her questioners.

Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning the prosecutors had temporarily given up hope of getting a confession. Preparations were made to take Mrs. Smith to a nearby hotel for the night.

A Surprise to Prosecutors.

Then, suddenly, and without the spur of further questions, the former dancer began to talk.

She told how Mrs. Dunkel, wrathful because Lang had been unfaithful to the memory of his dead wife [Mrs. Dunkel's daughter], offered her $500 to "get rid of" her son-in-law.

She told of the luring of Lang to her apartment at 721 Barry avenue with the help of Mrs. Dunkel on the night of July 5. She told of plying him with liquor and drugging him into unconsciousness. Then, according to the story as given out by the prosecutor, she [Mrs. Smith] knotted a rope about Lang's neck and strangled him.

Chinese "Scared Stiff."

While she was engaged in this grisly work, Harry Jung, her Chinese paramour who is still sought by police, was in a car outside.

"Harry knew what I was doing," Mr. Dougherty quoted Mrs. Smith as saying, "but he didn't come in the apartment then. When I saw him outside he was shaking like a leaf, and scared stiff."

From a nearby hardware store early the next morning Mrs. Smith said she procured a hacksaw. With this and with knives she severed the legs of Lang's body. The legs were put into a trunk.

She and Jung, according to the story, carried the torso in the trunk to an automobile outside. The body was thrown out in the Hammond swamp and the trunk containing the legs was hurled out near Munster, Ind., five miles south of Hammond.

"Jung and I separated after that," Mrs. Smith said. "He went his way and I went mine. I don't know where he is now."

Denies Receiving Any Cash.

Mrs. Dunkel, according to the confession, did not live up to her agreement, and Mrs. Smith received "not a penny" for the murder. Mrs. Dunkel had previously told prosecutors that she had paid the former burlesque girl $100 "on account" toward the $500.

The whole of Mrs. Smith's story was taken down in shorthand and she signed the notes and promised to sign the entire confession in typewritten form later today.

When Mr. Dougherty opened the door of his office and told waiting newspaper men that she had made a confession photographers begged her for "just one more picture." Mrs. Smith at first refused, then changed her attitude and almost cheerily waved and called to them. Gesturing with the cigaret she said:

"Well, this is the last of this kind of punishment I'm going to take. I'm heading for the last roundup now. And don't ask me to look into more than half a dozen cameras at one time. I only have one face."

WOMEN FACE EACH OTHER

The dramatic climax to the day and night of questioning came after two dramatic meetings between Mrs. Dunkel and the show girl she had accused of murdering for money. It also followed the mysterious arrest of Andrew Culler, 1325 North Dearborn street.

Culler was handcuffed and taken to the state's attorney's office with only the explanation from Mr. Dougherty that he "knew both women" and was "an important figure in the case."

His arrest came shortly after Mrs. Dunkel and Mrs. Smith had been brought face to face for the second time in the state's attorney's office.

The first meeting of the two women also took place in the state's attorney's office about an hour after a plane landed Mrs. Smith at the Chicago airport. It was brief, having been arranged so that Mrs. Smith could be identified by Mrs. Dunkel, the grandmother who has accused the Smith woman of killing Lang, a 28 year old grocery clerk who was the husband of Mrs. Dunkel's daughter Mallie, now dead.

The women were in adjoining rooms, Mrs. Dunkel pale with emotion, Mrs. Smith calm. Assistant State's Attorney Dougherty threw open the connecting door was closed and the questioning of the Smith woman was resumed.

"Is that the woman you accuse?" Dougherty asked Mrs. Dunkel. She nodded.

Stands Pat on Story.

Mrs. Dunkel was also quizzed again on the story she has told, but she would not elaborate on it. "I've told all I know," she said. "There isn't any more. I've told just what I'm going to tell the grand jury."

Mrs. Dunkel, who lived with Lang at 1212 Waveland avenue but who has been a voluntary prisoner of the state's attorney's police, charged from the start Mrs. Smith strangled Lang on the night of July 5 in her flat at 731 Barry avenue, then cut off his legs and disposed of the torso and the legs with the help of her Chinese husband, Harry Jung. Jung has never been apprehended.

The torso was found on July 9, four days after the murder, in a Hammond swamp. Nine days later the legs were found in a trunk beside a road in Munster, Ind., eight miles south of the swamp. According to Mrs. Dunkel, she paid Mrs. Smith $100 of an agreed price of $500 for the murder. Her motive, Mrs. Dunkel has maintained, is that Lang was unfaithful to the memory of her dead daughter and was about to remarry.

The early questioning of Mrs. Smith last evening after her arrival was disappointing to investigators. In New York she said she knew nothing of the murder.

On the plane, however, her position changed and it was believed for a time that she was headed for a confession, according to Investigator Roy Arnold of the state's attorney's staf, who with Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the police homicide squad accompanied her from New York.

According to Arnold, Mrs. Smith admitted to him that she and Mrs. Dunkel were together in the Barry avenue flat on the night of July 5. They were waiting for Lang, she said, but when he had not arrived by 12:30 a. m. Mrs. Dunkel decided to go home.

"I took her to the street car," Mrs. Smith continued, "but I didn't lock my door. It didn't close easily so I left it half closed. When I returned I found it shut tightly. My landlady had no key, so I took a taxicab to my husband's laundry at 3251 Armitage avenue. He gave me his key to the flat and $1 for taxi fare and I returned home.

Trunk and Blanket Gone.

"Before I entered I knew some one had been in my apartment. All the shades were down when I left but when I got back I saw that one had been raised. And there were more lights on than there were when I left. I went in and found my trunk and a blanket gone."

At that point, according to Arnold, the woman stopped talking. She pondered a moment, then said: "It looks like I'm in a jam."

"What do you mean, a jam?" Arnold asked.

"I guess I'm trapped," the woman replied, then refused to say anything more.

Her refusal to talk further, Arnold said, was apparently due to her realization that in mentioning a trunk she had virtually confessed having had knowledge of the murder. She denied having had any such knowledge when arrested in New York.

Mrs. Dunkel's Story Contradicted.

The investigators also pointed out that this earlier story of Mrs. Smith's was in direct contradiction of that told by Mrs. Dunkel. The latter said she waited for Lang with Mrs. Smith in the Barry avenue flat and that when he appeared the two women plied him with whisky until he became unconscious.

Then, Mrs. Dunkel said, she departed, leaving the rest to Evelyn. Later, according to her story, Evelyn told her that she [Evelyn] had strangled Lang and afterward had cut off his legs with the help of Jung.

There were other points of contradiction throughout the evening. In her earlier answers Mrs. Smith denied that Mrs. Dunkel had paid her $100 of the promised $500 fee for the killing.

In the preliminary quizzing the Smith woman sought to justify her trip to New York with the statement that she feared she might be implicated in a crime of which she was innocent. She contradicted herself on the date on which she left.

First she insisted it was on July 8, the day before Lang's body was found. Later she insisted that it was on July 5, the night of the murder. Mrs. Dunkel has declared that Mrs. Smith visited her in the Passavant hospital on the afternoon of July 10 while she was recuperating from a tonsil operation performed that morning.

Tells of May Conversation.

Mrs. Smith declared that last May Mrs. Dunkel had talked with her about "getting rid of Lang."

"She said she was getting sick and tired of his running around with other women," Mrs. Smith said. "She asked me if I knew some one who would put him out of the way. I told her I didn't and that's all she ever said about it."

In a room at the other end of the corridor Mrs. Dunkel denied the May conversation.

She Takes Jung's Advice.

Mrs. Smith, in her earlier story, told Investigator Arnold that she went to New York on Jung's advice and that she saw him last on July 8.

"I worried about the disappearance of my trunk and blanket and he told me to get out of town," she said. "I was glad to do that because I was about ready to break off with him."

She was living with a man in New York, Lieut. Erlanson and Arnold learned, but this person was not held, the police feeling confident that he did not know her identity.

When arrested Mrs. Smith had $40 in her possession. She told Arnold that she had drawn $47, all of a joint account she and Jung maintained, from a Chicago bank before she took a bus to New York. Arnold talked with the proprietor of a New York rooming house where she first lived, who told him that she had only a $20 bill in her purse when she checked in.

He changed the bill for her, the landlord said, subtracting $2.50 for the first week's rent.

Windblown but smiling and perfectly poised, Mrs. Smith alighted from a Douglas air liner at Chicago airport at 4:40 p. m.

It was her first trip in an airplane. Stewardess Lily Stenson said that Mrs. Smith had enjoyed the journey, sitting relaxed in her chair and gazing straight ahead most of the time. Occasionally she looked out of the window.

The prisoner refused to talk to reporters at the airport, but Arnold declared that she had shown eagerness to confront Mrs. Dunkel, whose accusations she treated with scorn upon her arrest.

Police Meet the Plane.

An array of police met the plane. In the vanguard was Capt. Daniel A. Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office. With him were Supervising Police Captain Ira McDowell and the members of the homicide squad. Also at hand was Policewoman Tess Johnson, who was assigned to guard the prisoner.

After alighting from the plane Mrs. Smith posed willingly for photographers. She wore a pink silk dress with a brown belt, brown stockings and black shoes. She had neither coat nor hat.

"Look this way, Evelyn. Look over here!" commanded the cameramen, and their subject turned willingly until the multiplicity of commands confused her.

"I can't look at more than a dozen of you at the same time," she finally said. It was the only remark she made at the airport. Then Capt. Gilbert stepped up, took her arm and led her to a waiting squad car for the trip to the Criminal court building.

Carry On Hunt for Jung.

New York police are continuing their search for Jung, or Jung Moy Gee, as he is also known. They expected to find him close to the rooming house where the Smith woman was seized.

An unidentified informant was reported to have furnished a Brooklyn detective with her address on the lower east side of Manhattan. This detective and other policemen trailed her for more than a week during which she changed her address once.

The return of Mrs. Smith to Chicago was delayed over Sunday by a technicality of New York law which made it necessary for her to appear in court on a fugitive warant despite the fact that she was willing to waive extradition. In acordance with this requirement she was taken before Supreme Court Justice Meier Sternbrink in Brooklyn yesterday.

She waived extradition immediately after the hearing and Justice Sternbrink then signed the order permitting her to be turned over to Lieut. Erlanson and Investigator Arnold.

MONGOL BANDITS KIDNAP U. S. AND GERMAN WRITERS

TOKIO, July 30 [Tuesday].—(AP)—The vernacular press reported today the kidnaping of John Goette, 39 years old, an American newspaperman, and Dr. Herbert Mueller, German correspondent of the Deutsches Nachrichten Buero, official German news agency, by bandits in inner Mongolia, three weeks ago.

The men were touring in an automobile, and according to reports, the chauffeur was released and ordered to carry back a demand for a ransom of 100,000 yuan [about $39,000].

American and German diplomats at Peiping are negotiating with authorities in an effort to obtain their release, it was understood here. Goette was an employé of the International News service. Earlier reports from Kalgan, inner Mongolia, said Gareth Jones of the Manchester Guardian, former secretary to David Lloyd George, had been kidnaped with the German writer.

DANISH PEASANT ARMY SQUATS 'TIL AID IS PROMISED

COPENHAGEN, July 29.—(AP)—The army of peasants which marched on the king's palace to deliver its demands for relief prepared to return home today upon the Danish government's promise of help.

Until Prime Minister Theodore Stauning received their deputation and assured them the cabinet would consider their plight, the peasants squatted in the courtyard of Amalienborg palace. Their ranks estimated at 50,000, they muttered a threat of a farm strike and expressed a determination not to move until the premier heard heir case.

King Christian addressed them from a balcony and expressed the hope that their justifiable complaints might be remedied. He reminded them of his position of constitutional monarch and referred them to Premier Stauning.

"Poison Mongers" Hit.

The same paper expresses this conviction:

"Washington does not desire such a development. But action is necessary. It is the highest time that America puts an end to the dangerous activities of international poison mongers."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung finds consolation in the theory that the world is turning against Germany only because "she has been successful."

It asks its readers: "Why must it always be Germany?" and consoles them with the explanation: "Throughout the world the news is spreading that the Versailles treaty is dead and there are still many to whom this is displeasing. Therefore, they seize on every small failure of discipline because their only aim is to damage Germany's increased prestige. Our firm political success provides a physiological explanation of the increased anti-German activities."

Chase Jewish Campers.

Meanwhile, isolated activities against Jews were reported.

Members of the Jewish Rowing club, Welle Poseidon, in Berlin who were camping on the shores of Lake Lycken, were forced by a detachment of Nazi party members and Hitler Youth leaders to pack their tents and return to Berlin. Their alleged offense was that they shouted "impertinent comments" at Rudolf Hess, deputy leader of the Nazi party, when he was passing in a boat. Hess has been recuperating at Lycken after a skiing accident.

BRITON SEEKS TO BAR WIFE FROM ENTERING U. S.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—An attempt to bar the Hon. Calypso Baring-Liddell, daughter of the late Baron Revelstoke, and her four children from the United States became known tonight when it was learned that she had been held aboard the liner Normandie when it arrived today.

Two immigration inspectors stood guard for more than four hours over her stateroom, it was learned, permitting her to leave only after relatives here had obtained Sol A. Rosenblatt, New York attorney, as counsel. He induced immigration authorities at Ellis Island to parole the English woman and her children in his custody pending a hearing tomorrow on whether she shall be admitted to the United States.

Instructions from her husband to prevent her from landing in the United States were said by friends to have led to the action of the immigration officers. He charged, it was said, that she had left England without his permission, taking the children with her. Under English law, it was explained, he could act to prevent such a departure.

The Hon. Calypso, although an English woman, has many relatives in the United States. She is a half sister of Lorillard Suffern Tayler of Rumsen, N. J., and is a granddaughter of the late Pierre Lorillard of New York and Tuxedo Park.

ACTION IS ASKED ON PERSECUTION QUIZ IN SENATE

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—Senator William H. King [Dem., Utah] said tonight he had requested action "within a very few days" on his resolution demading an investigation of reports of religious persecution in Germany.

He added that unless the foreign relations committee, to which his resolution was referred, grants a hearing, he will take the issue to the floor of the senate.

It was understood that the resolution now is being studied by the state department, which customarily would report back to the foreign relations committee.

State department officals, meanwhile, continued their silence on all phases of German-American relations, including demands of the German press for an apology because radicals ripped a flag from a steamer in New York.

CHURCH COUNCIL HEAD ASSAILS NAZI 'BARBARISM'

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—(AP)—Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, president of the Federal Council of Churches, today deplored "the barbaric treatment of Jews and Christians in Germany."

"Let us in American pray, write to our Protestant friends in Germany, and work with real concern lest religion be crushed in a land which has given so much religious inspiration," Dr. Holt said.

"The Roman Catholics seem to be suffering just now worse than the Protestants, but in the whole movement directed against Germans of other faiths than mine I find such a tendency to paganism as to make me wonder whether the reports I read from Germany can be true," he said.

Ontario's 15,000 Single Jobless to Get Farm Work

TORONTO, July 29.—(AP)—Ontario's 15,000 or more single unemployed men will be crossed off the relief rolls Thursday under Premier Mitchell Hepburn's plan to increase the available supply of farm labor. A protest movement led by Mayor James Simpson of Toronto appeared to have little support from other municipal leaders.

RACIAL HATRED THEME OF NEW DRAMA STAGED BY PASSION PLAYERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany, July 29.—Oberammergau residents, who at ten year intervals present the Passion Play glorifying Christian devotion, now, under compulsion of the Nazi town council, are presenting a play depicting racial hatred. The Passion Play was produced last year and in intervening years the players usually search for new talent by producing minor Biblical plays.

"The Harvest," this year's play, has nothing to do with religion. It is the tragedy of a farm girl seduced by a Jew. The girl dies in childbirth in punishment "for a crime against the race."

Alois Lang, long the portrayer of the Christus rôle in the Passion Play, in "The Harvest" takes the part of a farmer in the toils of a Jewess. The part was written to further "demonstrate the racial curse of Jews."

PROTEST DENIAL OF TRADE PERMIT TO GERMAN ALIEN

New York, July 29.—(AP)—Six uniformed policemen and a detail of plainclothes men guarded the offices of the German consulate-general today as a precaution against any possible disturbance arising out of the case of a German born masseur being refused a city license by Mayor F. H. La Guardia.

Acting Consul General Albert Mueller today said the mayor's action in refusing Paul Kress a license on the ground that he was a German alien and that American Jews have been discriminated against in Germany, if allowed to stand, would lead undoubtedly to discrimination against other German citizens legally admitted to this country, in direct violation of treaty rights.

Ald. Lambert Fairchild, Republican, of Manhattan, filed with the board of aldermen today a proposed amendment to the code of ordinances which would limit the granting of licenses by the city government to citizens.

Mayor La Guardia was inclined to make light of the Kress case today and appeared somewhat surprised that it had attracted such prolonged attention.

BANDITS KILL 12 IN MANCHUKUAN TRAIN ROBBERY

TOKIO, July 30 (Tuesday).—(AP)—The Rengo [Japanese] news agency correspondent reported today from Hsinking that Manchukuan bandits held up the Hsinking-Tumen express last night and killed twelve passengers, mostly Japanese. Among the slain were one Russian and four Manchukuans. An unknown number of persons were wounded. Twelve train guards were reported kidnaped.

The bandit gang, numbering sixty or seventy, pulled spikes from the track about fifty miles east of Hsinking. The train was partially derailed. The bandits entered the coaches with drawn revolvers, deliberately sought out the Japanese passengers, the correspondent reported, and shot them down. The first victim was Sergt. Imamura of the Independent Guard corps of the Kwantung army. After shooting Imamura, the correspondent said, the bandits poured inflammable liquid on his body, ignited it, and danced about shouting, "Down with the Japanese."

Japanese and Manchukuan troops were dispatched from Kirin and Hsinking in an effort to rescue the prisoners alive and capture the bandits.

FIRE DESTROYS VON LUCKNER'S SHIP AT BREMEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BREMEN, Germany, July 29.—Count Felix von Luckner's four masted schooner Mopelia was destroyed by fire in the harbor here. The blaze was caused by a short circuit in the engine room. The schooner was not insured.

Aboard the ship when the fire started were Countess von Luckner, her sister, Capt. Lauterbach and his wife and son, and nine members of the crew. None was injured. Count Von Luckner is abroad.

The schooner was built in the United States in 1918 at a cost of $500,000 and was christened the Vaterland. When the famous sea raider acquired the vessel he renamed it in honor of the tiny island where his raider, the Seeadler, was wrecked in the world war.

Hopkins Sees "Better Times."

In his Mandel hall address Mr. Hopkins predicted an employment increase of between one million and two million workers in private industry during the coming year, and declared that economic conditions are steadily improving. He also took occasion to defend the New Deal's social security program and proposed "soak the rich" tax bills.

"If the number of persons on relief may be taken as a criterion of our economic status," declared Mr. Hopkins, "then it is clear that conditions are steadily improving in terms of employment and other factors which lead to self-support. The relief load is dropping, and will drop still further."

Poverty: A Political Issue.

Persons "at the bottom of the ladder," Mr. Hopkins continued, are no longer going "to take it on the chin." Public education has resulted in an "aroused public opinion" which now makes "poverty in a land of plenty" the foremost political issue of the day.

"These people," he said, "are asking—and rightfully so—for social security, such things as old age and unemployment insurance. The only way to secure these necessary reforms is by compulsory legislation.

"People talk of the national debt, and of the government borrowing, yet when a fairly modern tax bill is proposed, they throw cat fits. As for me, I am proud to be on the national pay roll of this government, for the government is the only thing left to the masses."

RECORD NUMBER LEAVE CCC FOR JOBS BACK HOME

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—The number of young men who left the Civilian Conservation corps in June to accept private jobs broke all records and indicated that such opportunities are finally developing in volume, CCC officials reported today.

A total of 12,709 between 18 and 25 left during June to accept private employment, an increase of 20.3 over the previous peak 10,693, recorded in June of last year.

The hiring was not limited as to section, but spread quite evenly throughout the nation. In the Ninth corps area on the west coast, which comprises seven states, including California, 3,551 were hired. In the Second corps area, comprising New York, New Jersey, and Delaware, 856 were hired.

There has been a steady pickup for the last five months in the number of corps members hired. In February 6,997 were hired; in March, 8,068; in April, 8,511, and in May, 9,774.

RELIEF WORKERS' PROTEST BALKS CORSET DECREE

Westboro, Mass., July 29.—(AP)—A short lived attempt of an emergency relief administration to dictate feminine attire among relief workers ended tonight with the surrender of the administrator.

A few days ago Administrator William M. Crosby decreed that women employed on a sewing project must don corsets and stockings or quit.

Immediately came an outburst of feminine opposition which reached a point where the workers told Crosby they would take their fight for fashion freedom direct to Washington.

"I give up," said Crosby tonight. "They can wear what they want as far as I'm concerned. I can't be responsible for the morals of this town."

JARECKI RUSHES RELIEF PROGRAM ON REALTY TAXES

Acts on Penalty Waiver; Extends 15% Cut.

County Judge Jarecki will act at once to put into effect the provisions of house bill 209, enacted at the session of the legislature just closed, he announced yesterday. The bill authorizes the County court to waive all past penalties against home owners who pay their back taxes in full and to set aside up to 50 per cent of the accrued penalties on other forms of real estate.

Judge Jarecki's announcement came after he had conferred with State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney and Assistant State's Attorney Hayden Bell, expert on tax matters. Both Courtney and Bell said that in their opinion the new bill is constitutional.

Hold Bill No. 783 Unconstitutional.

They held, however, that house bill 783, also passed at the recent session, is unconstitutional because it confers judicial discretion upon the county collector, whose "proper" duties are merely administrational. As a result, Judge Jarecki said that he will take no action immediately with respect to house bill 783, which provides that delinquent taxes for 1932 and prior years may be paid in seven annual instalments at an interest rate of 6 per cent a year.

The judge also announced that he would begin immediately to observe the amendment to the Skarda tax receivership law so as to permit owners of income bearing real estate on which taxes are delinquent to manage their own properties. Under the law before it was amended the county treasurer was authorized to appoint a receiver to collect delinquent tax money from income.

Signs Tax Cut Extension Order.

Earlier in the day Judge Jarecki signed the order extending the benefits of the 15 per cent reduction in 1931 taxes on single residences and two- and three-flat buildings to those who had paid their 1931 bills in full before the reduction was ordered by the court.

The order directs County Treasurer Joseph L. Gill to credit an amount equal to the reduction to all eligible taxpayers paying their tax bills for 1932, 1933, or 1934. All the taxpayer need do to obtain the credit is produce the receipt showing that he paid his 1931 realty taxes in full.

Widens Reduction Eligibility.

Originally the cut was available only to those who still owed all or part of their 1931 taxes, due to the treasurer's legal inability to refund tax money that has been paid in. A law authorizing credits for the amount of the reduction on subsequent unpaid taxes was recently passed.

A. J. Brockman, chairman of the citizens' advisory committee appointed by Assessor John S. Clark to aid him in making the 1935 quadrennial assessment, announced that the group will hold its first meeting at 2:30 p. m. today in the county board rooms.

SETTLE 17 MILLION RUM SMUGGLING SUIT FOR $500,000

Seattle, Wash., July 29.—(AP)—Sam E. Whitaker, special assistant attorney general, announced tonight the government's civil action to collect $17,250,000 from the Reifel liquor interests of Vancouver, B. C., has been settled out of court for $500,000.

Whitaker said he would ask Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer to dismiss the suit tomorrow when the case is called for trial.

The government took court action to collect the huge sum from Henry Reifel and George C. Reifel, his son, for customs duties, customs penalties, and internal revenue taxes alleged due on $10,000,000 worth of liquor they were accused of smuggling into the United States.

Criminal indictments charging the pair with smuggling during prohibition days still are on the docket. Whitaker would not say whether these charges would be dismissed.

Capt. John O. Anderson of the Old Chicago coast guard station had his first opportunity to use the station's new 40 mile an hour speed boat yesterday when he rescued a police dog from the river near the Cermak road bridge.

Efforts to lasso him failed when he swam to the center of the river, where he paddled about in a panic for half an hour until the coast guard boat arrived.

KILLER INSANE, DEFENSE ARGUES AT PEORIA TRIAL

Fans' Riot Quelled; State Ends Case.

BY KIRK EARNSHAW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., July 29.—[Special.]—A story of insanity transmitted from father to son will be the defense of Gerald Thompson, 26, confessed rapist and murderer of 19 year old Mildred Hallmark. The defense plans were outlined this morning by Ren Thurman, state appointed defense counsel.

In the court of Circuit Judge Joseph E. Daily, Thurman made his opening statement after State's Attorney E. V. Champion closed his case this morning. The defense, caught unprepared by that action, sought and obtained an adjournment until tomorrow morning before presenting its witnesses. Thurman, however, outlined his case.

Mother Will Be Witness.

In the defense of her son Mrs. Florence Whiteside will "tell the tragic experiences of her first marriage," Thurman said to the jury. The insanity defense had been indicated from the start of the trial.

"The young man's mother," Thurman added, "will tell you the story of her life—an unusual story of her marriage at the age of 14. She will tell you of six years that she spent with the brutal psychopathic man who was the father of this defendant. It will be shown that type of insanity is hereditary and this defendant is the tainted offspring of tainted ancestry."

Following the reading of Thompson's confession on Saturday the court was crowded again today. An hour before court opened police and the sherif's deputies were called to control a crowd of women—and a few men—who rioted at the Main street door of the courthouse.

Tear Door Off Hinges.

A door was torn from its hinges, windows broken, two women were knocked down, and dresses of others torn. The temper of the crowd, on edge during the worst hot spell of the summer, was declared to be dangerous.

So great is public interest in the murder trial that at noon more than 100 sensation seekers sat in court listening to several civil cases, refusing to believe the statement of bailifs there would be no afternoon session of the Thompson case. Still others waited for the four-times-a-day "changing of the guard" that marks the removal of Thompson, manacled and closely guarded, from the courthouse to the nearby county jail.

In his opening statement Attorney Thurman expressed the fear that Mrs. Whiteside [Thompson and his younger brother, Victor, are the wards of their grandparents; their mother has remarried] will be unable to testify because of a nervous breakdown. At the Proctor hospital, however, where she has been undergoing treatment, it was reported that she had recovered.

Mother Wed When 14.

"This mother will tell you that she was married when she was 14 years old," Thurman declared. "She married a man named Bowers, who was then 23 years old and a motion picture operator at Quincy. She knew nothing of right or wrong.

"For six years she lived with this man. For six years she was subjected to perversions and brutality."

As Thurman talked of that father and mother, women spectators gasped and the defendant sat silent.

"From this marriage two children were born," Thurman said, "this young man and his brother Victor. When they were little tots this brute father deserted them. He never has been seen since. They have made their home with their grandmother, who has given them the best of school opportunities.

Both Brothers in Jail.

"But today this young man is here and in the county jail, his brother is awaiting trial for another sex crime, taking indecent liberties with a little child. These young men are insane on that subject."

Thurman later said he would renew his efforts to obtain possession of the "little black book" in which Thompson kept a record of seven years of sex adventures. In this diary Thompson names sixteen girls whom he has raped and sixty-seven others who resisted him successfully.

Also to be sought by the defense will be a collection of photographs, fruits of an unsuccessful commercial "art" enterprise, launched by Thompson. In these pictures Thompson is posed in the nude with professional models.

Both the diary and the pictures will be sought as exhibits in support of the insanity defense.

Nolle Prosse Nineteen Counts.

Before announcing that the state had completed its case, Prosecutor Champion nol prossed several of the 19 counts in the indictment. Stricken from the indictment were the manslaughter charges. The jury will deliberate only on charges that carry life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

The only witness of importance as the state closed its testimony was John Manias, owner of an apartment building at the lonely street car transfer corner where Thompson met Miss Hallmark on the night of June 16. From that place Thompson took her in his auto to the cemetery.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide yesterday at the inquest into the death of Paul Mudrak, 49 years old, 1304 Ridgeland avenue, Berwyn, who hanged himself in his cell at the Berwyn police station earlier in the day. He was awaiting trial on a charge of annoying a 5 year old girl.

HUNT 3 BANDITS AFTER N. W. DEPOT HOLDUP KILLINGS

Wounded Policeman Is Given Chance to Live.

Police squads combed the west side yesterday and last night for three of a band of four gunmen who late Sunday night killed one man and seriously wounded a policeman in a robbery raid on the Liggett drug store in the Chicago and North Western railway station. The fourth bandit was fatally wounded during the revolver battle in the station lobby after the holdup.

Policeman James H. Frawley, 39 years old, 3851 North Kedvale avenue, of the homicide squad, who was shot in the right side of his jaw, was reported to have an excellent chance to recover at the Mother Cabrini hospital yesterday. At first his condition was considered critical, but a blood transfusion which physicians earlier considered vital for Frawley, was pronounced unnecessary.

Elevator Operator Slain.

Daniel Haskell, 38 years old, 1257 Washburne avenue, an elevator operator in the depot, was slain by the robbers when he inadvertently stepped into their path of escape. Dozens of persons waiting for late suburban trains witnessed the gun battle between the robbers and Policemen Frawley and Franklyn Smith, 38 years old, 4259 North Hamlin avenue, of the bureau of identification.

Both policemen were in the station, awaiting the departure of trains, when they heard the robbers' first shot. They separated immediately to halt the gunmen's flight—at the Clinton street and Madison avenue entrances to the station. Frawley had started toward the Madison street entrance when he encountered the gunmen as they left the store and shot down Haskell.

Slain Bandit Has Record.

Sam Manno, 22 years old, 825 South Marshfield avenue, the slain bandit, had been arrested several times previously as a robber suspect, police department records showed.

Three known companions of Manno who were arrested several months ago as robber suspects were being sought for questioning yesterday. They are Louis Filecetti, Joseph Gallichio, and James Micelli.

Vincent Ferrindino, 29 years old, 1009 Cypress sreet, was taken into custody when the police received information that that he had been a close friend of the slain bandit. He denied that he had been with Manno Sunday night, asserting that he had been at a lake beach with a young woman until 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

Manager Slugged at Safe.

Louis Herzer, 65 years old, 2143 Humboldt boulevard, manager of the drug store, was preparing to close the store for the night and was placing money in the safe when the four bandits sauntered in. One of the quartet had walked back of the counter and struck Herzel over the head with a pistol when one of the store employés sounded an alarm in the lobby of the station. This alarm, followed quickly by a shot as the frightened bandits fled, firing at Haskell, attracted the attention of the two policemen.

Policeman Frawley fired several shots at the scattering group before he fell wounded, and Policeman Smith, who had hurried to guard the Clinton street entrance of the building, shot down the fleeing Manno as the bandit fired twice at him.

It first was reported that the bandits had gotten $125 from the safe, but it later was found that in their fright and rush to escape they had obtained nothing.

An inquest into the deaths of Manno and Haskell will be held at the county morgue this morning.

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED AS AUTO FALLS IN CANYON

Fredonia, Ariz., July 29.—(AP)—Seven persons were killed tonight when their motor car plunged from the highway on Houserock hill and somersaulted 75 feet into a canyon nine miles south of the Colorado bridge. Five in one family were among the dead. Only one of eight persons in the car survived. All were from the Mormon settlement at Tucson.

Police Asked to Search for Missing Realty Man

South Chicago police were asked yesterday to search for Norman Brophy, 33 years old, 8241 East End avenue, a real estate man, who has been missing since Saturday. He was last seen when he left the office of the John R. O'Connor Real Estate company at 1663 East 79th street. His automobile was found yesterday at 95th street and Vincennes avenue. Members of his family said Brophy had no reason to disappear.

MYSTERY RAY FINDS VESSELS OR PLANES 50 MILES OFF COAST

Highlands, N. J., July 29.—[Special.]—A new "mystery ray," which is said to be able accurately to detect the presence of enemy ships more than fifty miles off the coast even though the ships are drifting without their engines running, has been perfected by the United States signal corps laboratory at Fort Monmouth, N. J., it was learned today.

The new ray, which can also be applied to the detecting of high flying aircraft, is expected, if successful, to revolutionize modern naval and aircraft warfare tactics. By use of the ray, enemy craft can be located and gunfire accurately directed to their position.

Whether or not this new ray bears any relations to the present electrically impelled sonic altimeters or depth finders and submarine detectors could not be learned, as the entire device has been enveloped in great secrecy. The ordnance department at Aberdeen, Md., also has recently developed sonic devices for locating airplanes to use in connection with anti-aircraft guns.

The first practical test of the new ray is expected to be held some time this week at the lighthouse station on the Navesink hills.

LINDQUIST GIVES UP FOR TRIAL IN DAVE BARRY PLOT

Gustaf Lindquist, former insurance commissioner for Minnesota, who has been a fugitive since he was indicted last November in connection with a plot to loot the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance company of Springfield, Ill., surrendered yesterday to Acting Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court. Lindquist, at the time he is alleged to have participated in the conspiracy, was president of the company. Among the six persons indicted were David [Long Count] Barry, Joseph Balata, and Abraham Karatz, all of whom are serving sentences.

Judge Harrington granted the petition of Attorney Grenville Beardsley, who accompanied Lindquist, for a reduction to $2,500 of the $10,000 bond set by the grand jury. The bond was posted and Lindquist was released immediately.

Preliminary motions are to be heard on Sept. 16 by Judge Joseph Burke. At that time, Attorney Beardsley said, he will ask that the indictment be quashed on the ground that no evidence was presented against Lindquist before the grand jury which returned the true bill.

The indictment of Lindquist and five others followed the confession of Otto Van Derck, youthful teller in the Amalgamated Trust and Savings bank, that more than $50,000 had been taken from the bank in a bold scheme to buy the insurance company.

2,000 ACRE BEDS OF LOTUS BLOOM AT GRASS LAKE

The two thousand acres of lotus beds in Grass lake, one of the Fox river valley chain of lakes, in western Lake county, broke into bloom over the week-end and the area now is covered with the yellow flowers. Grass lake is 57 miles from the loop.

John J. O'Connor, hotel keeper, known as the "King of Blarney Island," said the blooms this year are several weeks late because of the late spring and heavy rains. Several days of hot weather are required to bring out the lotus blooms. The beds can be viewed from a 37 foot tower in Grass lake near Blarney Island in the heart of the flower area or visitors can row through the beds in a boat.

The large yellow blooms, which are from six to ten inches in diameter, supported three or four feet above the water on stems, will remain for about six weeks.

Hunter Heads Great Lakes Institute of Social Work

Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago, was elected president of the Great Lakes Institue of Social Work at the institute's concluding session in college camp, Lake Geneva, it was announced yesterday. The institute, comprised of administrators of public and private welfare agencies from 50 cities in the Great Lakes region, meets annually.

Trusty at Joliet Finds Half Dollar; Turns It In

Elmer Smith, 31 years old, a trusty at the Joliet penitentiary, was cutting weeds outside the old prison yesterday when his sickle struck a 50 cent piece. Smith turned the coin in to Warden Whipp who, when he was unable to find the loser, credited the coin to Smith's prison account. Smith has served five years of a one to ten year term from Cook county for larceny.

CLASH ON FAITH OF BABY; JUDGE WINS 1ST ROUND

Calls Rabbi and Priest to Save Marriage.

New York, July 29.—(AP)—The religious beliefs of a young wife and husband clashed today in Brooklyn Supreme court, but under the benevolent guidance of Justice Meier Steinbrink it seemed headed for a happy compromise.

The center of the controversy was 6 weeks old Robert Kenneth Miller, son of a slender, dark-haired Irish mother, and a husky truck-driving Jewish father—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller.

The mother wants their son to be raised in the Catholic faith. The father wants the boy brought up in the faith of his fathers. Miller brought his wife into court in response to a habeas corpus writ and charged she had violated a written agreement to bring the boy up in the father's faith.

Wife Has "Contract" Too.

Mrs. Miller promptly produced another signed agreement, made out a year earlier than the one produced by her husband, saying any children would be raised in the Catholic faith. The second agreement held the statement: "God rules the world through the justice of love."

Justice Steinbrink remarked:

"I wish you two young people would read that over and over again and bear it in mind."

Justice Steinbrink, thoughtfully regarding a courtroom full of huffy in-laws, and observing an obviously friendly attitude between wife and husband, was moved to add:

"It reminds one painfully of the old days of the religious wars when people killed and slaughtered each other in the name of God.

Maybe Sun Faith Is Right.

"After all, we recognize one God, some directly and others through Christ as the savior, but who can say which is right? If the earth were deprived for 24 hours of the sun's rays, everything on it would perish, so maybe the sun worshippers have the right idea."

The justice then ordered that the Catholic priest and the Jewish rabbi who performed the marriage ceremonies for the couple be present in court next Thursday to straighten out the tangle and save the marriage. He also provided for provision for support of young Robert during the separation.

While in-laws still argued after the case was adjourned, Jacob, gallantly socked a bystander for an imagined annoyance to Mrs. Miller in the courthouse corridor.

TAHITI GETS FIRST BEAUTY PARLOR; NATIVES RUEFUL

PAPEETE, Tahiti, July 29.—(AP)—Natives of this romantic south sea isle today ruefully awaited civilization's final conquest.

In steady procession have come automobiles, electric lights, filling stations, radios, electric refrigerators, telephones and movies. From a quaint simplicity, life here has been transformed into the counterpart of most any thriving, bustling American city.

But it was not until today that ground was broken—for a beauty parlor! Already, a few of the island's more courageous maidens have disported crimson finger and toe nails, plucked eyebrows, mascaraed eyelashes and permanent waves, much to the consternation of the native fathers.

The radio operators will be assigned to Fort Sheridan, Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and Fort Wayne, Ind., while the meteorologist will be sent to Scott field, Belleville, Ill.

THREE FACTORIES OF U. S. BUILDING SUPERAIRPLANES

One to Fly 280 Miles Hour and Carry 48 Persons.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Some of the details and specifications of supertransport airplanes now under construction in the shops of three of the great aeronautical engineering firms of the United States were disclosed here yesterday. The planes are being built to carry more passengers for longer distances, at cruising rates equaling or exceeding the speeds of the best ships now flying transport routes.

Two of the new planes have been designed to fly at high altitudes at speeds from 230 to 280 miles an hour. They are expected also to be able to cross the continent with only one fuel stop.

Carries 28 as a Sleeper.

The third plane is a modification of the Douglas DC-2 air liners, which are standard equipment on American Airlines, Transcontinental Western Air, Eastern Airlines, and upon certain of Pan-American Airways' land routes. This ship is expected to fulfill the commercial operator's demand for more seats, since its passenger capacity has been stepped up from the fourteen of the DC-2 to twenty-eight persons when flown as a "sleeper" plane and forty-two as a "day coach."

Donald Douglas, head of his own design crew and manufacturer of the now internationally famous DC-2, has had a full scale model of this latest air liner for several months in his factories at Santa Monica, Cal. Pilots, engineers, bankers, and operations executives of several of the larger air lines have studied it and offered criticisms.

Changes in Construction.

According to these observers, the new Douglas will be of slightly greater wing spread than the present model, which is 89 feet from wing tip to wing tip. The fuselage will be of considerably larger circumference, probably seating two passengers on each side of a central aile. Two motors of approximately 1,000 horse power will be faired into the wing, one on each side of the fuselage.

These are the main changes. In other details the new ship is to repeat, save for the slightly increased scale, the lines of the exceptionally "clean" low wing monoplane, type DC-2. The new motors are to add 550 horse power to the Wright Cyclone engines of 725 horse power each in the prototype.

Economy of Design.

The new Douglas is intended to cruise at 160 to 170 miles an hour for approximately 1,000 miles—the extreme limit of the present Douglas transport. The invisible changes, increased efficiency of wing curve, fairing of wing into fuselage, and engine cell into wing, are the magics which are expected to do more than double the pay load with only a 50 per cent power increase.

One of the new high altitude transports is being built by the Boeing Aircraft company of Seattle, Wash. This ship will be a commercial version of the new army bomber 299, which was flown for the first time on Sunday afternoon.

In this airplane the Boeing engineers, following the lead of the giant flying boat manufacturers, provided four engines. In the bomber the power plants are Hornet motors of 750 horse power each. Otherwise the ship resembles, save for size, the boeing 247D air liner now flown by United Airlines.

The performance of this giant, which spans 105 feet with its wings, and has a fuselage ninety feet long, is considerably better than the work of the smaller plane. Top speed is expected to be 250 miles an hour, with 230 miles an hour the cruising speed. The designed range is 3,000 miles with a pay load equivalent to from twenty-two to twenty-six passengers. This means the plane could safely fly from San Francisco to New York City without a stop.

Powerful All-Metal Craft.

The second of the high altitude liners is being built by the Curtiss-Wright Airplane company of Robertson, Mo., just outside St. Louis. It is very similar to the Boeing, having four motors of from 1,000 to 1,200 horse power each, being of all metal construction, and continuing the modern trend toward low wing monoplanes with retractible landing gear.

The span will be 130 feet, and the cabin approximately ninety feet long. It will carry two pilots, a radio man, and an engineer, and twenty-four passengers as a sleeper plane. By day it will carry thirty-six for distances up to 1,000 miles, or forty-eight for relatively short flights. The cabin is to be sealed, air conditioned, and the pressure maintained at ground levels. This plane is expected to weigh 45,000 pounds.

At 30,000 feet with full power delivered by all four engines it is designed to develop 270 to 280 miles an hour.

LABOR ABANDONS EFFORT TO GET SOLDIERS' FIELD

Edward N. Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, announced yesterday that the organization had dropped the plan to hold its Labor day celebration in Soldiers' field.

The decision was reached after a delegation headed by John Fitzpatrick conferred with Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district. The labor leaders were told that the park authorities would not depart from their rule that a definite program must be submitted before a contract would be signed for the use of the big bowl. The labor leaders refused to comply with this requirement.

There have been rumors that the federation is seeking to obtain for Labor day a speaker such as the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin or Senator Huey Long.

HUSBAND GETS 25 YEARS IN 'SUICIDE PACT' DEATH CASE

William Ganschaw, 59 years old, 1657 North Artesian avenue, was sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Ross C. Hall in the Criminal court for the murder of his wife, Eliazbeth, 59 years old, who was found dead in the kitchen of their home July 2. The case was tried without a jury.

Ganschaw, represented by Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, entered a plea of not guilty. Taking the witness stand in his own behalf he said that he and his wife, who had been an invalid for many years, entered into a suicide pact. After his wife was dead, he said, he tried to carry out his end of the pact, but the gas made him ill. He said that he and his wife were "very much in love," and that the double suicide had been planned because his wife suffered severe pain and they decided to die together.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright scoffed at the suicide pact story, and termed the case a clear cut murder. Two witnesses for the state, Fire Lieut. Charles Duplex and Policeman Elmer Rech, testified that there were bruises about the mouth of the dead woman when they were called by the husband after her death. They also testified that Ganschaw appeared to be intoxicated.

FIND BODY BESIDE RAIL TRACKS.

Alex Zarkovitz, 34 years old, Des Plaines, a railway laborer, was found dead yesterday beside the tracks of the Chicago and North Western railroad near Lee street and Graceland avenue in Des Plaines, apparently having been struck by a train.

CRUISER'S PRIDE SERVES SAILORS' DATE BUREAU

U. S. S. Chester Social Center for Fleet Week.

Seattle, Wash., July 29.—(AP)—An official "dating bureau" opened today for 32,500 sailors aboard 40 warships in the harbor for "fleet week."

The bureau was busy. The watchful man in charge, Ensign Charles Blenman, of the cruiser Chester, said it would handle between 1,000 and 2,000 messages daily for the sailors and their girl friends, wives, and mothers ashore.

Pledges Message Delivery.

There won't be any excuse for the interested parties to say, "I didn't get your message," because the Chester's trophy case contains an award "for excellence in communications, cruiser class."

For the girl friend he left behind him the evening before with an "I'll meet you at 7 on the postoffice steps," there's a ship-shore telephone and radio communications system by which she has only to telephone Garfield 7575 and dictate a remindful message to a visiting sailorman.

Ships Carefully Sorted.

The message, transmitted under the watchful eye of Ensign Blenman, goes first to the cruiser Chester, and is relayed to the ship to which the visiting sailorman belongs.

Most of the messages have to do with invitations and confirmations of "dates," but now and then there's one with a heart-tug as "Sorry about last night. Hope to see you tonight. Mary Lou," or "Just received all mail should have received from you past six weeks. Why, please? Sally."

SENATE PASSES HUSBAND - WIFE TESTIMONY BILL

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—An anti-crime bill to make a husband or wife of an accused person a competent witness in any criminal proceeding brought under United States law was passed today by the senate and sent to the house.

Another measure passed would speed extradition by abolishing appeals on writs of habeas corpus after the writ had been dismissed.

In the matter of husbands and wives testifying, Attorney General Cummings said the rule of marital disqualification was adopted nearly 150 years ago and was "certainly out of harmony with modern trends and conditions."

SHARE WEALTH TAX BILL PUT IN HANDS OF HOUSE

Takes Seven-Eighths of 10 Million Fortune.

ness in business enterprise that the ways and means Democrats broke with the President. Mr. Roosevelt, asserting that big corporations tend to monopoly, proposed a graduated tax, beginning at 10¾ per cent on small corporations and rising to 16¾ per cent on big ones.

Cases Held Not Parallel.

Instantly it was pointed out that taxing corporations is far different from taxing individuals, that heavy taxes on a big corporation would bear heavily on little stockholders while the lighter taxes on little corporations would let off the rich owners of many such units. It was also argued that the heavy taxes proposed by the President would retard recovery still further.

Such was the Democratic revolt against this proposal that it would have been tossed overboard completely had not the leaders effected a compromise whereby the principle of the varying tax on size was retained "to save the President's face." By a vote of 10 to 8 the ways and means Democrats accepted the compromise fixing the corporation income tax rates at 13¼ and 14¼ per cent. Then the excess profits tax was added as representing what the ways and means Democrats regarded a more equitable mode of taxing corporations than that proposed by the President.

AMENDS REVENUE LAW

The bill opens with a section amending the existing revenue law of 1934 so that the surtaxes on individuals will be increased. Increases begin at 31 per cent on $50,000 and run up to 75 per cent on all income over $5,000,000. At present the surtaxes run from 30 per cent on $50,000 up to 59 per cent on all income over $1,000,000.

The next section of the bill would replace the existing 13¾ per cent income tax on corporations with a controversial graduated tax, the first of its kind ever to be applied to corporations. The bill provides for a corporation income tax of 13¼ per cent on incomes not in excess of $15,000 and a tax of 14¼ per cent on net incomes over $15,000. This is President Roosevelt's "tax on bigness."

Consolidated Reports Higher.

In addition the new bill would provide that corporations making consolidated income tax returns must pay tax at the rate of 15¾ per cent. The existing law provides that a 2 per cent additional tax shall be added if consolidated tax returns are filed.

Besides increasing the income taxes on large corporations the bill proposes to increase existing excess profits taxes, which are assessed at the rate of 5 per cent of all profits over 12½ per cent of a corporation's capital. The bill proposes to graduate the excess profits tax from 5 per cent on profits of 8 per cent up to 20 per cent on all profits over 25 per cent.

The increased corporation and individual income taxes are to become effective on income earned after Dec. 31 of this year. In other words, the first payments under the higher individual income taxes will be made in March, 1937, on income earned in 1936. Corporations will pay the higher taxes on earnings made in fiscal years beginning Jan. 1, 1935, and after. The increased excess profits tax will take effect in taxable years which begin after June 30, 1935.

Inheritance Taxes.

The second great section of the bill would impose the inheritance taxes to "share the wealth" which would be unique in federal taxation history. The bill would impose taxes on "the right to receive or acquire property" because of "the death of any resident or citizen of the United States." The bill would also reach alien property holders by imposing the same taxes on property owned in this country by foreigners if it is transferred after death.

The rates of the new inheritance taxes are drafted to begin at 4 per cent on net inheritances of $10,000 and run up to 75 per cent on everything inherited over 10 million dollars. A later section of the bill adds, however, that "a surviving spouse, child, father, mother, brother or sister, grandchild, grandfather, or grandmother" shall be allowed an exemption of $50,000.

Thus on a $60,000 inheritance a blood relative with a $50,000 exemption would pay tax only on $10,000, whereas any heir not a blood relative would have to pay tax on everything over $10,000, or on $50,000.

Stringent rates against corporations formed to avoid the inheritance taxes and against family holding companies are provided in the bill. If money is left to corporations of either of these two types they shall be taxed 80 per cent, the bill declares.

Seeks to Stop All Holes.

The bill goes into elaborate detail in an effort to describe all possible legal methods of transferring property to an heir in an effort to bring all types of inheritance within the scope of the bill. A few classifications of heirs are exempt from the tax; they include "a surviving spouse" receiving dower or "other statutory estate," the United States or any political subdivision if money is left to it "for exclusively public purposes," corporations organized for religious, charitable, scientific and similar purposes, fraternal societies, and organizations of war veterans.

Lengthy sections of the bill also are devoted to setting forth the method by which the gross and net values of inheritances shall be computed. The bill stipulates that the gross value of inheritances shall be computed as of the date of the donor's death, but allows a deduction from this gross of any actual net shrinkage in the value of the inheritance within one year after the donor's death.

Other Deductions Allowed.

Other deductions which are allowed in figuring the net taxable inheritance are funeral expenses, administrative expenses, claims against the estate, death duties paid to the United States or any subdivision, amounts "reasonably required and actually expended for the support, during the settlement of the estate, of those dependent upon the decedent" up to a maximum of $10,000, and loss due to "fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualties."

Executors for estates are required to file returns showing inheritors within eighteen months after the death of the donor. The tax on the inheritance must be paid at this time except that when the commissioner of internal revenue finds that payment of the tax within this short time "would impose undue hardship" he may grant extensions of as long as ten years.

Extensions Are Penalized.

Critics of the inheritance tax have pointed out that a short period within which o pay will force disress liquidation of the assets of an estate. The ten year extension is the bill's concession to this criticism, but its provisions also penalizes all extensions. Interest at the rate of 3 per cent a year will be charged on all amounts of the tax unpaid during the first three years. After three years have passed the interest will increase to 6 per cent a year and continue at that rate until the tax is paid.

The inheritance tax will be a lien upon the assets of any estate for 14 years unless the tax is paid before that time, the bill provides. Since the tax will be a lien on assets, the government by foreclosing such a lien, actually might come into control of large corporations. If heirs cannot liquidate stocks representing control of a corporation, the stock and the attendant control of the corporation might pass to the government.

Heirs Also Are Liable.

Although the executor of an estate is made responsible for filing returns and collecting and paying the taxes due from the heirs, the heirs themselves are personally liable for failure to pay the tax. If the government can prove fraud with intent to evade the tax in any return, a penalty tax of 50 per cent of the normal levy can be assessed. In addition, interest at the rate of 1 per cent a month will be charged on all overdue payments.

Still further penalties for violation of the inheritance tax law are provided as follows: Failure to make returns, keep records, or supply information, $10,000 fine or one year in prison or both; wilfull evasion of the tax, $10,000 fine and five years in prison or both; failure to produce evidence required, $500 fine.

Detailed statements of appeals to the board of tax appeals, legal procedures, transferee and fiduciary relationships, and other technical matters are contained in the inheritance tax section. The inheritance taxes would take effect upon the enactment of the bill, applying to all future transfers because of death.

GIFT TAX SECTION

Title Three, the third great section of the bill, sets forth the gift taxes which are a supplement to the inheritance taxes. They are levied against gifts made before death while the inheritance taxes apply to distribution of assets after death.

Gift tax rates in the bill are lower than inheritance taxes, running approximately three-fourths of the rates in the inheritance tax brackets. The proposed gift tax rates start at 3 per cent on $10,000 and are graduated up to 57 per cent on everything over 10 million dollars.

As in the inheritance tax a special section of the bill allows a $50,000 exemption for blood relatives. The gift tax also does not apply to gifts to the United States, charitable organizations, and similar beneficiaries exempt under the inheritance taxes. The person making the gift must file a return and pay the tax when he makes the gift, except that he may obtain a six months extension on the payment, if the government will grant it.

Tax a 10 Year Lien.

The government's tax claim remains a lien on the gift for 10 years.

Provision for the assessment of interest at the rate of 1 per cent a month on that part of the tax which is due and unpaid is contained in the gift tax section as in the inheritance tax sections. The same penalties for failure to keep records and make returns and for willful evasion of the tax as in the inheritance tax section apply to the gift tax.

The gift tax will become effective upon signing of the bill, applying to all gifts made thereafter.

COLONIAL COUNCIL IN VIRGIN ISLANDS ASKS RETURN OF NAVY RULE

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, July 29.—(AP)—At an extraordinary meeting of the colonial council today nine of the ten members present adopted and sent a resolution to President Roosevelt recommending the return of the naval administration of the islands.

The move was condemned by Acting Gov. Herrick, who said it will cause more confusion.

The members subscribing to the resolution denied their act was an attempt to block Lawrence W. Cramer, appointed governor last week to succeed Dr. Paul Pearson. St. Croix, where Cramer was lieutenant-governor, would oppose the move, it was said.

PLAN TEST SUIT ON LEGALITY OF TARIF STATUTE

Farmers Retaliate for AAA Tax Fight.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—Launching what was described as a fight with manufacturers, H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, Tex., president of the Texas Agricultural association, today said farmers of his state would file suit to test contitutionality of protective tarifs.

Lucas conceded that the movement was in retaliation to the approximately 450 suits filed by manufacturers attacking validity of the AAA processing taxes from which farm benefits are paid. He insisted that he had not consulted AAA officials about his plans, and that the pending tarifs suit was inspired solely by "aroused farmers."

"Levies for One Class."

A meeting of directors of the Texas Agricultural association will be held at Bryan Friday, Lucas said, when final plans will be made for the test suit. The tarifs on goods that farmers buy will be contested, he added, on the grounds that they are special levies for the benefit of one class and that they are not revenue measures.

Farmers of other states will be invited to join the movement, Lucas said, adding he had received indications that assistance will be forthcoming from Louisiana, Mississippi, Iowa, Alabama, and Oklahoma.

"We have been paying tarif benefits a long time," Lucas said, "and we do not object to the tarifs as such. But we believe we are entitled to as much protection as the manufacturers. The processing tax on a shirt we wear is three cents, and the protective tarif 37 cents. We do not object to paying the processing taxes."

Confers with AAA Heads.

Lucas, with a group of southern farmers, was in the capitol conferring with AAA officials concerning operation of the Bankhead law. Prominent in the group was C. H. Day, Texas cotton planter who led the "farmers' march" on Washington to boost the AAA, several months ago.

W. H. Stovall, cotton planter of Stovall, Miss., pledged assistance of farmers of his state.

Lucas said the farmers probably will start the fight by seeking an injunction to prohibit one of the Texas port collectors from collecting the duty on some specific product. He said finances for the court fight will be obtained through contributions from the farmers.

TWO FRIENDS AWAKEN IN JAIL AND LEARN THEY FOUGHT DUEL

Denver, Colo., July 29.—(AP)—Two men, long time friends, awakened in jail today and refused to believe police who told them they fought a duel with a shotgun and rifle.

A dozen calls came to headquarters shortly after midnight that there was shooting at the home of Harry Cox, 34, a manufacturer's representative. When police arrived they said they found Cox barricaded in the house firing a rifle in the general direction of Leonard Fitzgerald, 25, who had built himself a "fort" of trash cans in the alley.

Cox was armed with a .30-.30 rifle and Fitzgerald with a shotgun.

Police said that when the men awakened in jail they stated they had been on a mountain trip Sunday, drank some beer and could recall nothing that occurred after that.

SENATE PASSES N. Y. CLAIM FOR CIVIL WAR COST

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—New York City's claim for $764,143.75 reimbursement in connection with sixty-six regiments the city raised, equipped and furnished in the early days of the civil war was approved by the senate today without a record vote and sent to the house for consideration. The action was on the Copeland bill.

The claim has been passed four times previously by the senate and three times favorably reported from committee to the house.

Only a few days ago, the senate inserted in the second deficiency bill such a claim for Baltimore for $171,034, and one of California for $6,462,145.

New York City has been seeking ever since 1861 to be reimbursed for its expenditures. These included $651,089 spent in raising and equipping the soldier volunteers, and $121,054 of interest, but of this total $772,143, Controler General John R. McCarl deducted $8,000, declaring inability to find that some of the troops had been mustered into service of the United States.

TROOPS COMB 6 STATES IN BRAZIL FOR BANDIT CHIEF

RECIFE, Pernambuco, Brazil, July 29.—(AP)—The hunt was on today in six states of northeast Brazil to capture or kill the bandit scourge, Lampeao. The notorious gunman and adventurer, who has a thirteen year career of lawlessness, yesterday broke through a cordon of pursuers with several henchmen and two women followers, it was reported.

Detachments of troops, radios, auto trucks, and modern weapons, including machine guns, are being used in the campaign.

A compact has been agreed to by the military commanders of Alagoas, Sergpipe, Parahyba, Rio Grande do Norte and Ceara to assist the Bahia force in its drive on Lampeao.

NEW DEAL OPENS TAX WAR ON BIG UTILITY INCOMES

Refuses to Let Bonuses Be Deducted.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—Use of existing tax laws to discourage big salaries for company executives was resorted to today by the New Dealers in their drive against utility companies.

The bureau of internal revenue, it was learned, is refusing to let the Electric Bond and Share company, a utility holding company, deduct from its taxable income $520,000 paid as bonuses to eight of the company's officers in 1931. The bureau claims that the bonuses were "excessive" and therefore cannot be deducted from taxable income as part of the ordinary business expense.

General Drive Forecast.

A general drive against all large corporation salaries, especially those of utility companies, may be foreshadowed by the New Dealers' action. Electric Bond and Share, in appealing to the board of tax appeals to set aside the bureau's action, points out that its salaries are comparable to those paid by other similar corporations.

The $520,000 in bonuses which the tax bureau is refusing to let the company handle as a business expense was paid out by the company as follows. S. Z. Mitchell, chairman of the board, $150,000; C. E. Groesbeck, former chairman, $130,000; H. C. Abell, F. H. Farrar, and F. B. Odlum, $50,000 each, and S. R. Inch, C. E. Calder, and R. B. Fegin, $30,000 each.

Denies Compensation Unusual.

Appealing to the tex appeals board, an independent quasi-judicial body, to overrule the bureau, Electric Bond and Share points out that the bonuses were set by a committee of directors in which no officer participated and denies that the salaries and other compensation are unusual.

The bureau also refused to allow Electric Bond and Share to deduct from its 1931 taxable income $5,044,630 in losses which the company claims to have sustained in selling securities to Electric Power Securities corporation, an indirectly owned subsidiary. The bureau claims that the company did not actually divest itself of the securities.

Warburg Estate Contests.

The estate of Paul M. Warburg, New York banker whose son, James P. Warburg, turned from a New Deal adviser to a New Deal critical, also has entered an appeal with the tax board asking that an additional income tax assessment of $63,845 which the bureau slapped on the estate be set aside.

Records of the board of tax appeals also shows that 12 Chicagoans have been assessed additional income taxes and appealed to the tax board within the last week to have them set aside. The Chicago appeals listed are:

Material Service corporation, $21,934; George F. Remer, $568; George S. Halas, Elsa K. Jones, D. J. Jones, and others, $2,562; David G. Joyce, $13,859; Ervin Rosenthal, $151; Benjamin D. Greenhouse, $66; J. N. Rosenthal, $359; Maurice Levy, $47; Alfred B. Steffens, $599; W. M. Dewey Sr., $4,373; Fred M. Gund, $3,788, and Henry A. Mix, $1,086.

ROOSEVELT SKETCH IS PICKED AS DESIGN OF NEW FRACTION COINS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt personally sketched the rough design for the proposed new half cent and one mill coins, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. said today.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested that the half cent piece be made with a hole in it and the one mill be made square, according to Secretary Morgenthau, who first presented the fractional coinage plan to the President at luncheon a week ago today.

"The President was very much interested. He took a pencil and paper and said one should be like this and the other like this," Morgenthau said at his semi-weekly press conference, explaining that the President had sketched a hollow and a square coin.

"Is that final?" a reporter asked.

"It is for me," Morgenthau answered.

Secretary Morgenthau hinted that the treasury, which originally considered using aluminum for the one mill coin, would use some other because production of that metal is controled by the Aluminum Company of America.

A bill authorizing the treasury to mint the new fractional coins, which are primarily for use in paying sales taxes such as that in Illinois, was introduced in the house of representatives today.

Herbert E. Gaston, assistant to Morgenthau, said Illinois had been asked informally to withdraw its state sales tax tokens to which the federal government objected on the ground that they were easily confused with dimes.

POLICE ORDERED TO SEIZE PAYOFF PIN BALL GAMES

Police Commissioner James P. Allman yesterday instructed his special gambling squad to confiscate all pin game machines of any kind which pay off winners in coin or merchandise. The order includes all bagatelle machines with automatic paying devices.

Anthony [Red] Kissane, hoodlum and one time union slugger, was arrested yesterday when he appeared at the Summerdale police station to report that his automobile had been stolen from in front of his home at 1348 Argyle street. Kissane protested he was in the business of placing pin games, but he was ordered held for investigation.

Commimssioner Allman's gambling squad continued raids on alleged handbooks yesterday, arresting three men in places at 127 South Wabash avenue at at 17 North Wabash avenue. Capt. John P. Ryan of the Fillmore station raided the rear of a cigar store at 3938 Roosevelt road and arrested eight men.

4 Alleged Counterfeiters Held to U. S. Grand Jury

Four members of an alleged counterfeiting ring that is said to have passed $25,000 of bogus $20 bills in Chicago recently, were held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Walker yesterday when they pleaded not guilty. Bonds of $15,000 were set for Leo J. Trant, 38 years old, said to be leader of the gang who has a long record as a counterfeiter. Philip Denman, former Chicago policeman, was held in bonds of $1,000 and bonds of $500 each were set for Alex Harris, former jeweler, and Edward Newman.

G. O. P. LEADER FILES BILL FOR NEW DEAL DAM

McNary Asks 50 Million for Bonneville.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—A bill to carry out the 50 million dollar Bonneville project on the Columbia river in Oregon, one of the New Deal's so-called "yardstick" ventures in the socialistic power program, was introduced in the senate today by Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader.

The introduction of the bill by McNary caused considerable comment on Capitol hill. The senate has often demonstrated itself to be more radical than the house on the power question, the "death sentence" in the Wheeler-Rayburn bill being the most recent example, and the action of the Republican leader today perhaps explains this in part.

McNary Gets the Money.

It was Senator McNary who came by airplane to Washington and obtained President Roosevelt's approval of the Bonneville project after the Democrats from his state had been turned down by the public works administration under Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. The next day after McNary's call at the White House, Mr. Ickes made an initial allotment of 20 million dollars for Bonneville.

Senator McNary's bill, which was also signed by Senator Frederick Steiwer [Rep., Ore.], provides for completion of the Bonneville project and its operation and maintenance under the secretary of war. It authorizes appropriations from time to time out of any unexpended funds in the treasury for completing the dam, locks, and appurtenant facilities, as well as $400,000 a year for maintenance.

Provides Sale of Power.

The bill provides that power not needed for the operation of navigation facilities on the river shall be disposed of at wholesale under contracts not to exceed 25 years, to states, counties, municipalities, coöperative organizations of citizens, and private corporations, individuals and partnerships. However, it further provides that "preference shall be given to states, counties, municipalities, and coöperative organizations of citizens not organized for doing business at a profit."

The bill further authorizes the federal power commission to prescribe the wholesale rates at which power may be sold, rates "calculated to provide from the completed installation revenues sufficient to reimburse the United States for all costs of maintenance, operation, and replacements of such power facilities and to amortize, within a period of 50 years, such proportionate part of the cost of the project allocable to power development as may be determined by the federal power commission."

Any distributor of the power who charged rates in excess of those approved by the commission would thereby void his contract.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

Applications for the civil service examination for substitute clerk-letter carrier at the Maywood postoffice will be accepted until midnight of Friday, Aug. 2, it was announced yesterday.

CITIZENS ASKED TO DEFEAT NEW DEAL CHALLENGE

Constitution to Be Made Election Issue.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—Directly charging that the "New Deal seeks to pervert or subvert the constitution," Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican national committee, tonight invited citizens of all political faiths to help "meet this challenge."

Fletcher's assertion—apparently an opening gun in the G. O. P. 1936 campaign—listed the New Deal versus the constitution as a major issue. The forthcoming presidential race, he said, would "transcend mere party lines."

Without mentioning the Democratic party in a 15-minute address assailing President Roosevelt and the New Deal, Fletcher said "the Republican party welcomes the aid and support of every patriotic man and woman in this struggle to preserve our form of government and our free institutions."

Failure Charged.

In his address tonight Fletcher charged that the "Roosevelt experiments" are failing not only to produce results but to "meet the test of constitutionality." He added that the administration in "looking for a scapegoat, thinks it has found it in the constitution."

"So what?" he continued. "The constitutional barriers to 'planned economy' are to be removed. Why? Because they stand in the way of a centralized, socialistic state, governed without restraint or limit, by a President and a subservient congress."

Not Resilient Enough.

If constitutional safeguards are removed, Fletcher declared, all subsequent congresses will be subservient "because no congress, however able, independent, and self-respecting, could legislate for the daily needs and control the lives of our widespread citizenry."

He recalled that President Roosevelt described the constitution as "resilient" a year ago, but "now that it is shown that it cannot be stretched to cover the socialistic policies of the New Deal, the issue becomes clear."

"Either the constitution must give way to the New Deal or the New Deal must give way to the constitution," he said.

"At the Crossroads."

Fletcher asserted that the President was "at the crossroads" following the Supreme court's NRA decision, but that the executive, instead of "reaffirming his devotion to our fundamental law," showed "clearly his perference for the New Deal, which neither he, nor any one else, had sworn to preserve, protect, and defend, and which was never heard of until after his inauguration."

The Republican chairman cited as proof that the "President desires to push the New Deal over or through the constitution" the "must" legislation before congress. He listed the Wagner labor bill, TVA and AAA amendments, and the Guffey coal bill as measures "of doubtful constitutionality and recognized as such even by the President himself."

"The Republican party believes the people of these United States are the rightful masters of congress and courts—not to overthrow the constitution, but to overthrow the men who pervert the constitution."

OLD SOUTH HALL ECHOES WOMEN'S TAX PROTESTS

Boston, Mass., July 29.—[Special.]—Charges of "taxation without representation," "confiscation," and "unwarranted waste" rang in the Old South Meeting house this afternoon when women of Boston and Massachusetts protested President Roosevelt's wealth distribution tax program. In the same hall 161 years ago the Boston tea party was planned.

After "tea party" exercises the women paraded to the statehouse bearing protests against the present tax system and the proposed bill.

A petition read by Mrs. J. Harter Blaisdell, Winchester Women's club leader, which was presented to Gov. Curley, said the women, "jealous of the heritage bequeathed us by our forefathers, view with concern the encroachment of the federal government upon the rights and liberties guaranteed under the constitution. We view with concern the unwaranted waste of the savings of the thrifty upon unsound experiments which are breaking down the moral fiber of the American people and piling up debts it will take generations to pay."

NEW FOOD AND DRUG BILL WINS PUBLISHERS' AID

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—Publishers and advertising firms joined today in endorsing the senate approved bill tightening up the country's food and drug laws.

"A matured bill that adequately protects the public, was the approval given the measure before a house interstate commerce subcommittee by Charles Parlin of the National Publishers' association.

The measure gives the secretary of agriculture broader authority to control advertising of food and drug products that are determined to be harmful, and adds cosmetics to the province of food and drug control.

Parlin told the committee that his organization had a number of amendments to the original Tugwell bill, but that as rewritten "we haven't any changes."

LYONS ATTACKS STATE SALES TAX AS LEVY ON POOR

G. O. P. Talk Viewed as Key to Campaign.

BY PARKE BROWN.

State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville last night provided a sample of what is forecast as a substantial part of the next Republican state campaign in Illinois.

Addressing the Citizens' Republican organization at Henrici's restaurant, he denounced the sales tax as the "Horner bread and milk tax," referring to it in this way to emphasize that the levy hits the necessities of even the poor man's every day life—even the milk for his children.

Lyons was one of the most active campaigners in the state last year. He spoke in every one of the 102 counties and spoke twice in many of them. He told his listeners last night that he is ready to travel over the state again, and that when he does he will concentrate much of his attack on the sales levy.

Charges Tax Aids Wealthy.

In his first blast on the subject he charged that the original 2 per cent sales tax increased to 3 per cent in the last session of the assembly under pressure by Gov. Horner was jammed through as a relief measure, and that within a few months the Horner administration diverted the resulting revenue exclusively to the relief of large owners of real estate when the general property tax levy was discontinued.

"It didn't relieve the small home owner," he said, "for the change increased his tax burden. The state tax on the small home was about $3.50 a year. If the owner of that home has an income of only $1,200 he spends half of that for necessities and 2 per cent of $600 is $12, the amount he is paying into the general revenue fund in place of the $3.50 he used to pay. If he spends $2,000 a year for articles sold at retail in this state, his present tax for state purposes is $40 a year.

"The taxpayers who were relieved by the diversion of that 2 per cent were the big railroads, the utilities and the gigantic estates. It is among those people that Gov. Horner has his friends. He eliminated their state taxes and put the load on the laborer, the mechanic and the white collar man.

Calls It a Ghost for Horner.

"This record haunts the governor and it's coming back to haunt him in the next campaign. That's the reason the Democrats, I am told on good authority, are going to try at a special session of the legislature this fall to amend the sales tax law so that the merchant cannot list the tax as a separate item but must include in his own selling price—to take the stigma off the governor."

Oscar E. Carlstrom, former Republican attorney general, who is considered governorship material by his friends, spoke at a luncheon of the Advertising post of the American Legion at the Hotel Sherman at noon. He charged that the economic policies of the national administration are unsound, urging "soundness and sanity" instead of "experimentation and theory."

Pick Grand Jury

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The special grand jury to investigate organized crime, vice, and racketeering in Manhattan was sworn in today by Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook, who charged it with the duty of punishing lawbreakers who have been regarded as beyond the law.

That was the purpose for which Gov. Herbert H. Lehman ordered the special investigation, the jurist said, and if the grand jurors performed that duty faithfully, he declared they would "have plenty to do" without duplicating the work of regular grand juries in prosecuting "ordinary crime."

Justice McCook, who earlier in the day administered the oath of office to Special Assistant District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and eight members of his staf, declared that if common reports can be credited racketeering has grown to such proportions that it threatens the business life of the community.

He reminded his eager listeners that the March grand jury had reported that it had found convincing evidence that organized crime and vice, bail bond abuses, policy games, and other rackets were so rampant as to constitute a public menace. Among the "other rackets," which Justice McCook said had become "notorious" were those affecting the fish, laundry, poultry, and trucking businesses.

"Neither list is categorical," he said, "and anything of the kind falls peculiarly within the scope of your inquiry."

STEALS PICTURE OF ROOSEVELT; DETECTIVE HELD

New Orleans, La., July 29.—(AP)—Arthur J. Romaguera, former city detective assigned to Mayor T. Semmes Walmsey, was arrested today in connection with the removal of a picture of President Roosevelt from the Choctaw club, city political organization, which recently joined the ranks of Senator Huey P. Long.

Romaguera, who has been the object of a police search since he took the Roosevelt poster Saturday from the walls of the clubroom, was taken into custody at the city hall in the mayor's chambers.

Charges of entering at night time with felonious intent and petty larceny of a picture valued at $5 were placed against the former city detective.

The charges were made by Ulic Burke, club leader, who declared "he can't bully us."

Romaguera returned the picture 18 hours after he removed it, posed for news photographers, and disappeared. He explained removal of the picture by declaring the Choctaw club no longer had any use for it since they "broke with the President and joined Huey Long."

Boy Hurt in Freak Accident at Cary Ski Slide Succumbs

An unusual accident which occurred Sunday during a picnic at the Cary ski slide, caused the death last night in the Sherman hospital at Elgin of John Owre, 2 years old, 502 Beloit avenue, Forest Park. He was playing on the ground at the bottom of the slide with several children. Others had climbed to the top and were rolling pebbles down the steep incline. One stone, the size of a walnut, sped down the slide and struck John on the head, fracturing his skull.

LOBBY INQUIRY GROUP MUZZLES NEW DEAL CRITIC

Editor Is Refused Chance to Vindicate Self.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—Carl Estes, a Texas newspaper publisher, whose name was dragged into the senate lobby investigation last week by Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], was summarily cut off today when he sought to vindicate himself and express his opinion of some aspects of the New Deal.

Senator Black, for no asserted reason, had asked John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light company, whether he paid Mr. Estes anything for a radio speech against the Wheeler-Rayburn public utility bill. Mr. Estes came to Washington in the hope of discovering Senator Black's motive in asking that question. He also wanted to ask Mr. Black a question, to wit:

"Did the Fairbanks-Morse company, manufacturer of equipment for municipally owned power plants, pay you anything for making speeches in Alabama against private ownership of utilities?"

Question Is Ruled Out.

Mr. Estes was not permitted to ask this question, but he asserted in a statement, which he was not permitted to read or introduce into the record, that it would be just as fair as the question Senator Black asked Mr. Carpenter.

"Frankly, both questions are ridiculous," the statement said.

Mr. Estes also wanted to inquire why Ralph W. Morrison, wealthy Texas utility magnate and friend of President Roosevelt, has not been called by the investigating committee.

"Isn't it a pity that somebody does not haul Mr. Morrison in before some committee and ask him if it isn't true that he contributed $60,000 to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign?" Estes asked in his statement.

Morrison was the dominant figure in the promotion of the $4,500,000 PWA power project on the Colorado river in Texas. A memorandum prepared for Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes mentioned as one of the chief beneficiaries "Mr. R. W. Morrison, who is known to the President."

When Mr. Estes was sworn, Senator Black informed him he would not be permitted to read a statement.

"You requested to be heard with reference to the question as to whether any compensation was given you by the Texas Power and Light company and that is all the committee wishes to hear," Black said.

"Not a penny," Estes declared.

"Did you send any telegrams in connection with the Wheeler-Rayburn bill?" Black asked.

Calls Utility Bill "Iniquitous."

"No, but I'm opposed to the Wheeler-Rayburn bill and all such Socialist, levelistic legislation," the witness shot back. "It's the most iniquitous bill I ever saw."

Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach [Dem., Wash.], who claims authorship of Upton Sinclair's EPIC plan, interrupted.

"We're not here to listen to a speech on the Wheeler-Rayburn bill," he said.

Later Estes asked whether he could ask Senator Black a question.

"I know it's not my prerogative, but you asked one about me," he said. "You threw some mud at me and I'd like to ask you a question."

Senator Black kept saying "No."

"There was a motive for that question," Estes declared.

Estes then asked whether he would be permitted to introduce his statement into the record and was told that he would not.

"I'm very sorry, senator, but I'm a better sport than you are," he told Black.

Estes, in his brief appearance, told the committee that he published the East Texas Oil Magazine and the Longview Daily News and Morning Journal. He said he took advertising from "anybody that's legitimate," that the Texas Power and Light company paid $225 a month for the back cover page, in color, on the oil journal.

Scores Committee Slur.

In his statement Estes said he thought it "a blistering shame for this committee or any other investigating body to insinuate that when a man in a legitimate publishing business accepts advertising that the advertiser has any further claim on him.

"Since when has this become Naziland?" the statement continued. "Have we got a Hitler to tell us what we can or cannot do? We would have had one if it had not been for the courage of American newspaper publishers, who refused to have the license clause inserted in the publishers' code."

The statement charged, by implication, that investigators for the senate committee had ransacked Estes' room while he was on a trip Saturday afternoon.

"I desire to introduce into the record checks for my expenses here in oppostion to the creation of a federal oil dictatorship [Thomas bill], totaling $882.13," the statement said. "However, there is another one which I had when I came to Washington, I think in the amount of approximately $200, which was stolen from my room in the Mayflower hotel Saturday afternoon when my quarters were ransacked from top to bottom."

Today's session of the lobby investigation was concerned almost entirely with the whereabouts of Howard C. Hopson, described as the "dominant figure" and "master mind" of the Associated Gas and Electric, which spent $700,000 fighting the Wheeler-Rayburn bill. Half a dozen employés of the company or of private companies owned by Hopson were examined, but none knew where he was.

Investigator Describes Wire.

Joseph E. McCarthy, an investigator for the committee, said he went through the files of Hopson's office and that the last evidence of his presence there was a telegram, dated July 8, to William Randolph Hearst. The telegram explained that the house was about to vote on the Wheeler-Rayburn bill and added:

"I hope your people will use every influence at their command to prevent this breaking down of the constitution."

Under questioning by the senators, McCarthy thereupon testified that the Associated Gas and Electric system spent $23,311 advertising in Hearst newspapers between March 4 and July 24.

Stewart C. Ross, an examiner for the New York joint legislative committee, investigating public utilities, testified that Hopson's privately owned companies made a profit of $2,805,000 on services performed for the Associated Gas and Electric system from 1930 to 1934, inclusive.

"In other words, Hopson made an average of $561,000 a year, while the Associated Gas was paying no dividends on its preferred and common stock?" Senator Schwellenbach asked.

Ross said the company had paid no dividends since 1932.

The witness also testified that money spent by Associated Gas and Electric for advertising purposes was charged back to the underlying operating companies and that, in his opinion, it was an improper charge.

RADICALS CAN'T BREAK INTO JAIL AT BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Ala., July 29.—[Special.]—Members of a group of five writers seeking to test Birmingham's anti-radical law found the jail doors closed against them today.

Bruce Crawford of Horton, Va., one of the group touring Alabama and Georgia on an investigation of civil liberties, walked for thirty minutes in front of the city hall in an unsuccessful effort to get arrested under provisions of the city's new ordinance on radical literature.

Signs hanging on Crawford's shoulders read, "The national committee for defense of political prisoners is testing out the Birmingham-Downs literature ordinance." As he paced back and forth he passed out copies of the Daily Worker, an organ of the communist party, and liberal publications.

Shirley Hopkins of Turo, Mass., another of the writers, passed out magazines at the same time.

Detectives Norrell and Weir took Crawford to the offices of Police Chief Hollums. Chief Hollums told the writer, "You are going to have to go a little stronger in order to violate this ordinance."

Other writers in the group who stood on the sidewalk to watch the procedure were Emmett Gowan of La Vergne, Tenn.; Jack Conroy of Moberly, Mo., and Alfred H. Hirsch of New York.

HOUSE BLOCKED FROM EVICTING ROOSEVELT AID

Byrns' Ruling Lets Cohen, Lobbyist, Stay.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—A ruling by Speaker Joseph W. Byrns today temporarily prevented the house from returning judgment upon the activities of Ben Cohen, dark featured little lobbyist for the administration.

During excited debate Cohen was accused of attempting to rewrite the utility control bill in the conference between senators and representatives on the measure. The Harvard law school product was pictured as sweeping aside the language written into the bill by the senate and house and substituting his own version.

BEN COHEN.

Cohen was charged with "coaching and, to a certain extent, controling" Senator Burton K. Wheeler and the other senate conferees. Senator Wheeler, radical Democrat from Montana, was quoted as admitting that he could not discuss the bill "intelligently" without Cohen's advice.

Called Criminal Violation.

The stormy session was climaxed by the assertion of Representative Frederick Lehlbach [Rep., N. J.] that Cohen had violated the United States criminal code by his invasion of a congressional conference. He pointed out that the code prescribed a maximum penalty of one year imprisonment and $500 fine for "any officer or employé of the United States who shall, in the absence of express authorization by congress, attempt to influence in any manner a member of congress to favor or oppose any legislation."

The controversy between the house and senate conferees was brought to the floor of the house by Representative George Huddleston, Alabama Democrat. He submitted a privileged resolution calling for the house to instruct the house conferees to persist in their refusal to meet with the senate until Cohen was barred from the sessions.

But after much heated discussion the speaker ruled that such a resolution could not be submitted because the house rule called for a period of 20 days to elapse before conferees could ask for further instructions. The conferees were appointed July 12 and the 20 day period will be up next Thursday. Then Huddleston is expected to submit his resolution again.

Dictation Unprecedented.

Huddleston admitted there was no precedent for his resolution, but he declared also there was no precedent for dictation to congress by a representative of the executive branch of government.

"This bill was passed under extraordinary conditions," he declared. "The passions and prejudices of the people of the country were aroused. After the house conferees were appointed there was a considerable delay during which committees were appointed to investigate influences alleged to have been brought to bear upon the congress. The headlines were two inches high.

"Finally, we were permitted to go into conference with the senators. There sat two gentlemen representing other departments of the government [Dozier A. Devane, solicitor for the federal power commission, and Cohen]. Calm, free, and fair discussion was impossible in their presence.

"If you want us to prostrate ourselves before the senate, then please instruct us to do so. The senate conferees are coached, and to a certain extent controled, by this outsider," Huddleston cried.

FARLEY DENIES JOINING MOVE TO BEAT BORAH

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 29.—(AP)—With a declaration that "the democratic party is justified in doing everything it can to defeat Borah," James A. Farley, postmaster general and democratic national chairman, denied here today he had attended a recent meeting of party leaders to plot the Idaho senator's elimination.

"The meeting referred to never was held, to my knowledge," Farley said. "The democratic party is justified in doing everything it can to defeat Borah, but I don't know anything about this latest move."

WESTERN UNION FINE FOR PROTEST WIRES TO JUDGE REMITTED

Chelsea, Mass., July 29.—[Special.]—Judge Samuel R. Cutler of the Chelsea District court today remitted a fine of $500 imposed ten days ago on the Western Union Telegraph company of New York for transmitting telegrams of protest in the cases of two alleged radicals pending before the court.

The court's action followed the apology of the telegraph company through counsel that the telegrams were "improper to be addressed to this or any other court and should not have been accepted." Attorneys for the company assured the court that such telegrams would be refused in the future.

The contempt charges involved the cases of Richard Frey, an actor who had been accused of profanity in a play, and Martin Halabian, arrested for loitering. Telegrams were subsequently sent to the court from the New Theater League of New York, the American Youth Congress in Cambridge, Mass., and from local organizations demanding that the men be released and asserting that they had been arrested on "framed" charges.

Senate Votes 40 Hour Bill for Postoffice Employes

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—A house bill to provide a 40 hour week in the postal service was passed today by the senate. The bill, which now goes back to the house for action on senate amendments, would cost an estimated 22 million dollars a year and give permanent work to 10,000 substitute postal employés.

LEAGUE DODGES ISSUE AS AFRICAN SESSION NEARS

Committee Fails to Act on Treaty Scrappers.

[Copyright: 1935: By the Associated Press.]

GENEVA, July 29.—A stalemate followed by adjournment of the league of nations' special committee on restraint for treaty repudiators brought further confusion today to representatives of powers which hope to resolve Italian and Ethiopian differences in sessions of the league council beginning Wednesday.

Almost on the eve of the meeting of the council, the discussions of which will involve several treaties, the special committee failed to reach an agreement and halted its deliberations for several months.

The action was regarded in league circles as most significant.

Created After German Action.

The committee of thirteen members was created as a consequence of Germany's repudiation of the military clauses of the Versailles treaty, but it was considering generally the subject of applying restraining measures to treaty violators.

A subcommittee had found that offending nations might be deprived of war materials and products essential to their manufacture. It also suggested they be deprived of financial credits. These recommendations came to the full committee, but it failed to act.

This development started a new wave of speculation on the probable success of the diplomatic maneuvering of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia who has accused Italy of violating treaties and is known to desire that the league name Italy the aggressor in the African trouble.

Passes Up Article 15.

The "king of kings" had the right to invoke article 15 of the covenant, under which the council eventually would have had to make recommendation for a settlement. Instead he requested the council to consider only attempts to settle the Italo-Ethiopian dispute by arbitration.

But the ruler of the African empire, in his latest communication with the league, makes it plain he expects the council to revive the mission of arbitration and instruct it to go to the bottom of the dispute.

The emperor says pointedly "it rests with the council of the league of nations to decide between the respective contentions of the two groups of arbitrators."

Mussolini 52 Years Old.

ROME, July 29.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini celebrated his 52d birthday today by ordering seven experts off to Geneva for a league of nations council session which will deal with Italy's dispute with Ethiopia.

Six members of the Italian delegation will start for Switzerland tonight. Their chief, Baron Pompeo Aloisi, will leave tomorrow.

A government spokesman said the dispatch of the delegation once again proved that Italy wishes to do everything possible to remain within the framework of the league in her quarrel with Ethiopia.

He reëmphasized that Italy expected the council conversation to be held along the lines of the Italian note of acceptance of the council's convocation. This would limit the council to discussion of revision of the Italo-Ethiopian conciliation commission.

Eden Leaves for Geneva Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—Capt. Anthony Eden, British minister for league of nations affairs, will leave for Geneva tomorrow with an open brief. His instructions from the British cabinet are to use his utmost efforts at the league council meeting to bring about a peaceful solution to the Italo-Ethiopian trouble and to adapt himself to the circumstances as they may arise.

Eden will fly first to Paris with his experts to give him and Premier Pierre Laval of France time to discuss the situation.

Report Somali Rebellion.

ADDIS ABABA, July 29.—(AP)—It was reported, without confirmation, today that a number of native Somalis had rebelled in Italian Somaliland and had started for Ethiopia in the region of Ualual. It was at Ualual, last December, that both Italians and Ethiopians were slain in a frontier incident.

Rumors were current, meanwhile, that Ethiopian troops were headed for the frontier of Eritrea, the Italian colony on the east, but the war office did not confirm this statement. Government officials in general denied any knowledge of a clash at Walkut, as reported in the London press.

An imperial decree establishing an Ethiopian Red Cross was announced today. The international committee of the Red Cross had announced July 18 that Ethiopia had adhered to the Geneva Red Cross convention, thereby pledging its respect for medical formations to aid the sick and wounded in wartime. The African kingdom had previously refused to respect the regulations.

SEE NEW ITALIAN COURT AS HINT OF ARMY DEFECTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, July 29.—A significant defection and desertion among the Italian troops and laborers of Eritrea is seen in the announcement in Italian newspapers reaching here today that Gen. Emilio de Bono, high commissioner for Eritrea and Italian Somaliland, has set up a special military tribunal for the defense of the state.

This tribunal is similiar to the one in Italy which sent several hundred persons to prison islands during the first six months of this year.

The establishment of a court to try crimes against the state or public security in Eritrea is regarded in anti-Fascist circles as proof that Premier Mussolini has difficulties in keeping up the morale of his troops and workers despite official pronouncements to the contrary from Rome.

FRANCE ORDERS FORTS ON GERMAN BORDER FILLED WITH TROOPS

PARIS, July 29.—(AP)—The French government moved today to man forts along the German border and to reinforce its troops in French Somaliland, where tribal disorders have been reported as a result of the tense Italo-Ethiopian situation.

New army units were ordered created for service on the German border, and air force detachments and a battalion of Senegalese sharpshooters were sent to the East African territory to reinforce the company of troops already there.

A decree directed the organization of two new infantry regiments and the motorization of a cavalry division to occupy the fortifications on the German border Sept. 1. Officials ordered the reorganization and redistribution of five infantry regiments, seven "fortress" battalions of tanks, Alpine "blue devils," two artillery regiments, a battalion and an engineers' regiment.

Dr. Ethel C. Dunham Heads U.S. Maternal Care Division

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—The children's bureau announced today the appointment of Dr. Ethel C. Dunham to head the division of maternal and child health. She succeeds Dr. Martha M. Eliot now assistant chief. Dr. Dunham is a graduate of Bryn Mawr, of the Johns Hopkins Medical school, and was associated for 14 years with the Yale university school of medicine.

JAPAN ALARMED AT BRITISH NAVAL BUILDING PLANS

TOKIO, July 30 [Tuesday].—(AP)—The newspaper Asahi quoted naval authorities today as expressing fear that the British naval construction program is an extension of the ratio system.

[The London Daily Herald published yesterday what it said was a secret plan of the admiralty to build approximately $750,000,000 worth of new fighting ships by 1942.]

The newspaper said the Japanese plan of replacing the 5-5-3 ratio plan with a program of adequate "defensive" naval strength for each nation was considered preferable by Japanese officials.

They were quoted as saying Japanese naval circles believe Britain may enter into a series of bilateral naval treaties with Japan, the United States, France, and Italy. But Japan would continue to believe in "complete naval autonomy."

Seize 3 on Madison Street as Robbery Suspects

Three men, two of them ex-convicts and all suspected of having participated in numerous recent robberies, were arrested yesterday at Madison and Throop streets, and will be held for the showup at the detective bureau. They are Jack Lataur, 30 years old, 1140 Madison street, and Nicholas and Joseph Belcastro, brothers, 2446 Marmora avenue. A revolver and $250 were found in the Belcastro home.

3 TEXAS EDITORS, REPORTERS CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Press Freedom Issue Up; Trial Next Thursday.

Angleton, Tex., July 29.—[Special.]—Three editors and three reporters of Houston newspapers must report in the court here on Thursday to defend themselves on charges of contempt of court because the newspapers printed testimony in the murder trial of Clyde Thompson, prison farm inmate, here last week.

The newspaper men—Editor George W. Cottingham and Reporter Ed Rider of the Houston Chronicle, Managing Editor Ed Poley and Reporter Harry McCormick of the Press, and Managing Editor Max Jacobs and Reporter Frank White of the Post—were cited for contempt of court by Judge M. S. Munson here today.

Bars Printing of Testimony.

The contempt action grew out of the failure of the newspapers to heed Judge Munson's order that no testimony in the Thompson trial be printed because it might hinder efforts to obtain a jury in the subsequent trials of two convicts charged jointly with Thompson.

The reporters telephoned to their editors and were told to go ahead and report the trial. When they informed Judge Munson of their orders the jurist said that editors as well would be liable on contempt charges.

The trial started Tuesday afternoon, all three papers carrying a full account of the first day's testimony. The trial ended with Thompson getting a 99 year term for murder. A second defendant, Ed Ebers, pleaded guilty and received a 50 year sentence. A third defendant, Raymond Hall, was called to trial today.

Cite Free Press Right.

None of the editors would make a statement on the action today, except that they were standing on their constitutional rights of a free press.

Thompson was convicted several years ago for the slaying of two youths near Eatland, Tex. Testimony at the trial then was that he "shot them to see them kick." A year ago he stabbed Tommy Reis, another convict, in a fight. His defense in the recent slaying of one Melvin was that he slew to defend his life.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29.—(AP)—Marjorie Beebe, screen actress, obtained an annulment of her marriage to Clinton E. Randall, broker, today after telling Judge Dudley S. Valentine she had to sell her motor car to get money to support him. They were married in Yuma, Ariz., in May, 1934.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—One out of every dozen congressmen was shown today to have some one with the same name as his drawing pay from the house cash till.

PRAISES VICTIM OF BLACKMAIL FOR PROSECUTION

New York, July 29.—(AP)—Mrs. George U. Harris was commended by Judge John S. Frecchi for "your fine, courageous spirit in bringing this case to court" today after a jury cleared Joseph Pilotti, 23, of a charge of attempting to extort money from her.

Five other defendants indicted with Pilotti for blackmailing Mrs. Harris, wife of a wealthy broker, pleaded guilty and await sentence.

Mrs. Harris charged that on April 8 two men called at her home and demanded $5,000, threatening to publish a photograph of her in the nude.

A composite photograph with Mrs. Harris' head superimposed on an unclad body had been made, police said.

Pilotti was charged with addressing the letter for his brother, Dominick Pilotti, 25, one of the other defendants.

BRITAIN SEEKING PACT WITH SPAIN IN CASE OF WAR

Requests Use of Nation's Harbors and Airports.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—Negotiations will begin at Madrid and Lisbon next week for putting the relations of Spain, Portugal, and Great Britain on a more satisfactory footing. An entente or treaty is mentioned. Two new ambassadors are proceeding to these capitals—Sir Henry Chilton to Madrid and Sir Charles Wingfield to Lisbon.

They have instructions to bring Spain together with Portugal into the sphere of active British diplomatic influence. The reason for the new move is ascribed to the immense importance the peninsula has for Britain in air ministry and admiralty circles.

Seeks Aid in War.

Both these departments have been pressing on the government the necessity of coming to a very definite understanding both with Spain and Portugal regarding the use of their arsenals, harbors, and airdromes by Britain in wartime as well as the mobilization of their produce for all but exclusive British consumption in time of hostilities.

To the air ministry Spain now seems as necessary an ally as Portugal. The latter country already is bound to Great Britain by an agreement which has survived nearly three centuries.

Seeks to Protect Air Route.

What the British foreign office really is after is securing an air route to the near east by being able to call on the services of Portugal and Spain during wartime. It is argued that neither Portugal nor Spain could ever be on the opposing side for economic reasons.

Portugal must march when Britain marches, and the idea is to get Spain, by some flexible diplomatic instrument, to agree to march with her, government spokesmen said.

BOOM TOWN IN 1920 NOW ASKS COURT'S RELIEF

Tulsa, Okla., July 29.—(AP)—Hopelessly in debt—its income vanished and its population dwindled to barely 400—Wynona, once one of Oklahoma's bustling oil boom towns, filed bankruptcy proceedings in federal court today.

The city owes $442,000 on a bond issue sold 15 years ago and has not paid a cent to retire the principal.

There is not a dime in the city treasury and not a cent in taxes has been paid this year, said J. E. Quillan, city treasurer.

Wynona's heyday was during the world war. In the center of oil soaked Osage county, money flowed like the black crude from which it came. The city grew rapidly to a population of 3,500. Then the oil flow fell off.

RUSH HOUR PLAN IS HARDSHIP ON COUNTER TRAFIC

Congestion Problem Grows —Tests Show Delays.

BY HAL FOUST.

The eccentric trafic control system on the north side lake shore route between North avenue and Byron street, while benefiting the rush hour movements, is making it increasingly difficult to drive in the direction opposite to the movement of the heavy travel, according to motorists' complaints. South bond trafic between 4:30 and 6:30 p. m. on occasions recently has been an intolerably slow parade.

As the trafic plan was conceived by Otto F. Jelinek, park district engineer, the smaller number of motorists moving against the peak hour trafic would necessarily be required to drive slower so that the many bound to or from loop employment or shopping might be benefitted by the use of most of the driving lanes for one way travel in the direction of this heavy trafic. But this penalty imposed on motorists moving in the opposite direction has become unduly severe, it is charged, and unless it is alleviated the permanence of the eccentric system may be threatened.

Beach Crowds Increase Jamming.

In recent weeks delays have been aggravated by the popularity of the bathing beaches during the hot weather. Vehicular stops have been frequent and prolonged to enable pedestrians safely to cross the pavement. Increasing crowds returning south from Wrigley field baseball park have also contributed to the congestion.

Mr. Jelinek's promises for measure of relief are remote. The park district has requested federal work relief funds for the construction of pedestrian subways under the boulevard at Byron street, at Addison street, at Belmont avenue, and at Diversey parkway. The 1935 bathing season and baseball season will be ended before these physical improvements can be completed.

Actual trafic checks indicate that the frequent interruptions, more than inadequate roadway space, are the major factor in congestion of south bound trafic in evening rush hours. This trafic, averaging 1,379 cars between 5 and 6 p. m., is confined to three lanes between Byron street and Belmont avenue and to two lanes through Lincoln park from Belmont to North avenue.

Figures Tell the Story.

North bound trafic between 5 and 6 p. m. averages 11,012 cars, distributed among seven lanes. This is 1,573 automobiles per lane per hour for north bound as compared with 689 automobiles per lane per hour south bound south of Belmont.

In test runs in THE TRIBUNE roadster yesterday afternoon the 3.6 miles trip north bound from North avenue to Byron street were covered in an average of 5 minutes and 17 seconds, while south bound runs between the same points averaged 11 minutes and 44 seconds.

"These south bound test runs," said George Barton, engineer for the Chicago Motor club, who assisted in the timing, "did not include any of the delays that are uncommon. One automobile with a flat tire south bound in the park during the evening rush hour, for example, blocks half the available lanes, and one lane can not handle 1,379 cars an hour. A jam results."

Two months' experience with the eccentric system might be summarized by reporting that rush hour trafic has been saved an average of 7 minutes and 15 seconds, while counter trafic has been penalized 4 minutes and 40 seconds. There are nine cars being benefited to every one penalized, the park engineer argues. However, on Friday, between 4 and 5 p. m., it required 15 minutes for a car to go from Grace street to Diversey.

DOCTORS URGED TO TAKE LEAD IN BIRTH CONTROL

S. S. QUEEN OF BERMUDA, July 29.—(AP)—Dr. Lydia Allen de Vilbiss, director of the Mothers' Health Clinic, Miami, Fla., today urged the medical profession to take the leadership in directing birth regulation along scientific lines. She told the pan-American Medical association congress: "a nation which reproduces itself twice as fast from the worst stock as from the best cannot continue."

Discussing birth control, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the American Medical Journal, said the association had authorized a scientific study of the subject.

"There is no real evidence," he said, "that the nation is reproducing itself twice as fast from the worst stock, nor is there scientific evidence that any method of contraception now available would actually inhibit greatly the production of defective human beings."

Charged with Assault for Running Down Boy in Auto

Charles Pynakker, 22 years old, 504 Lake street, Maywood, who is alleged to have run down a 14 year old boy after a chase across a prairie in his automobile because the boy aroused his anger, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Police Magistrate A. L. Sengstock of Morton Grove on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Michael Giordano, 1313 North 24th street, Melrose Park, the boy victim, is still in a serious condition at the Westlake hospital in Melrose Park.

COUNTY COURT TO HEAR STATE TRAFIC CASES

New Plan Under Code to Start Monday.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Cook county court will hear state trafic cases originating outside of Chicago, Evanston, or Chicago Heights, where such cases formerly were heard by justices of the peace and by police magistrates. This decision was reached at a meeting yesterday afternoon of County Judge Jarecki, State's Attorney Courtney, and Hayden N. Bell, attorney for the county board.

The new judicial system, made necessary by Gov. Horner's trafic code, passed by the general assembly last month, will probably be inaugurated next Monday. It was considered likely that additional judges will have to be employed and that they will sit in outlying sections of the county, but these details have not been decided.

Deprives Justices of Power.

The new trafic code deprives police magistrates and justices of the peace of jurisdiction by providing a jail sentence as a possible penalty for motoring misdemeanors. These lower tribunals, with a few specific exceptions, can now function solely as examining magistrates, under the Illinois law, in jail cases.

Charles De Leuw, assistant chief of the state highway department that drafted the trafic code, said yesterday it was deliberately planned to remove trials from the jurisdiction of justices and magistrates. In the last few years, he said, there have been complaints against the fee system in these lower courts, whereby the judge received no fee in a trafic case unless there was a conviction.

Legislators who voted for the bill said they were unaware at the time that its provisions would change the system of adjudicating trafic cases. The Chicago Motor club pointed out that the new system probably will work an undue hardship upon defendants arrested in rural communities. For instance, a Chicagoan arrested downstate, where there is a court of competent jurisdiction sitting only during certain months of the year, could not receive immediate trial, but would be required to post bond for trial at some remote date.

Call Series of Meetings.

The motor club has called conferences of state's attorneys and justices of the peace throughout the state for this week. The first will be held in Rockford today. Another will be held in Peoria tomorrow, a third in Joliet on Thursday, and a fourth in Danville on Friday.

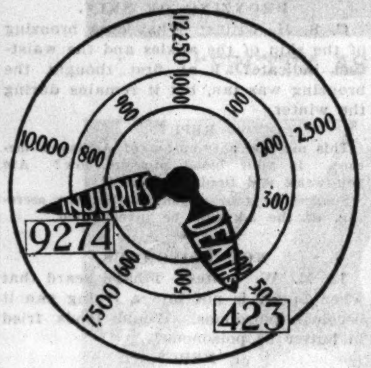
The Municipal courts of Chicago, Evanston, and Chicago Heights have jurisdiction of jail cases, so they can still handle trafic offenses. The only confusion in Chicago has been that the motorists are still being tried under statutes repealed on July 9, when the new code was signed by the governor.

BLAST KILLS WORKMAN.

Anthony Kucera, 27 years old, an employe of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company, died yesterday in a Joliet hospital of injuries incurred Sunday when 35 dynamite caps exploded while he was holding them in his hand.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1935 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

DRIVER IS KILLED IN TRIPLE TRAIN AND AUTO CRASH

One man was killed and three other persons narrowly escaped serious injury last night in a freak accident when three vehicles crashed into an Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad train at the Telegraph road crossing a mile north of Lake Forest.

The first crash came when the truck driven by Paul Plampher, 36 years old, of South Bend, and owned by the K. G. Trucking company of that town, ran into the side of the train. Plampher was killed and three cars of the train were derailed.

A moment later another truck of the K. G. company, driven by Estes Headley, 36 years old, also of South Bend, smashed into the stalled train beside Plampher's truck. Headly was unhurt.

Simultaneously, on the other side of the train, a sedan driven by Anton Stokes, 604 Tenth street, Waukegan, struck that side of the cars. Stokes and his wife suffered minor bruises.

Frank Tricario, 46 years old, 708 Drake avenue, a construction laborer for the city, was killed yesterday when the automobile in which he had started on a vacation crashed into a trolley pole at Chicago and Kedzie avenues.

Thaddeus Kowal, 39 years old, 1525 Clarinda street, died yesterday in St. Elizabeth's hospital of injuries incurred Sunday evening when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into a telephone pole at Station street and Manitou place. Tony Puchlski, 42 years old, 746 Temple street, driver of the car, was unhurt.

H. A. Borressen, 50 years old, of 3442 Elaine place, owner of the Mechanical laboratories, 310 West Randolph street, was killed last night when struck by the automobile of Melvin Johnston, colored, 1907 Emmerson street, Evanston, near Lake Shore drive and Aldine street.

Joseph Cernik, 26 years old, 2728 South Ridgeland avenue, Berwyn, was killed early today at Grand and Western avenues when the automobile which he was driving crashed into the side of a truck of the Specialty Baking company, 821 North Cicero avenue, driven by John Corriere.

These deaths brought the 1935 trafic toll for Cook county to 536. Until 4 p. m. yesterday 423 had been killed in automobile accidents within the Chicago city limits and 9,274 had been injured.

DIRECTORS MEET TO PLAN CHORUS OF 1,000 VOICES

Will Sing in Festival at Soldiers' Field.

BY PHIL MAXWELL.

The new Chicagoland Festival chorus which is being recruited by leading choral directors of Chicago is taking form rapidly. The leaders believe that at least one thousand of Chicago's finest choral singers will appear at Soldiers' field on Saturday night, Aug. 17.

The conductors were called together in Tribune Tower yesterday by Noble Cain, general choral director of the gigantic festival. Two rehersals will be held, the first on Monday night, Aug. 12, at 7:30 o'clock, in Orchestra hall, and the second on Friday night, Aug. 16, in Soldiers' field. This is an invitational chorus. In addition to this group there will be the annual Hallelujah chorus, the Negro chorus, and the contesting men, women, and mixed choral groups. In all there will be 5,000 singers on the Soldiers' field platform. The leaders are confident this organization will provide the finest choral singing ever heard in America.

Leaders and Their Groups.

The directors present and the organizations they represented:

Victor Grabel—Festival band director.
Mr. Cain—Chicago A Cappella choir.
Edgar Nelson—Sunday Evening club, Marshall Field chorus, and the Apollo club.
George Calder—Orpheus choir of Hammond, Ind.; Chicago Scottish Choral society.
George A. Carlson—Ebenezer Lutheran Church choir, president of Chicago Choral Directors' guild.

Arthur Dunham—Association of Commerce chorus.
J. Wesley Jones—Chicago Negro Festival chorus.
William E. Myricks—Assistant to Mr. Jones.

Gomer Jones, director of the Illinois Bell Telephone chorus, whose members will be in the festival group, could not be present.

The numbers and the directors chosen to lead them at Soldiers' field are: "Cradle Song," for women's voices, Harry T. Carlson; "Bells of St. Mary's," for men's voices, Harry S. Walsh, and three numbers for mixed voices, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," Edgar Nelson; "The Lost Chord," George Carlson, and the "Hallelujah Chorus," Mr. Cain. The annual Hallelujah chorus members will rehearse Thursday night, Aug. 15, at 8 o'clock in the ballroom of the Drake hotel.

First Vocal Tryout Tomorrow.

The first county vocal tryout will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the Michigan room of the Edgewater Beach hotel. The tenors, contraltos, and baritones will be heard the first night and on Thursday night in the hotel ballroom the sopranos and basses. Nearly two hundred are entered. The public is invited to attend these preliminaries. There is no admission charge.

Community song ballots printed in last Sunday's TRIBUNE to determine what the public wishes sung at the festival concert are pouring into festival headquarters. Tabulation is being made and to the 500 persons naming the songs in order of the majority vote permanent passes to the festival will be awarded.

The deadline for entry of all groups and individuals in the festival competitions will be next Monday night at 6 p. m. Filled-in entrance blanks must be in the festival office at that time. This includes adult and juvenile bands; men, women, and mixed choruses; junior and juvenile drum and bugle corps; baton twirlers, and vocalists living outside of Cook county.

WALL OF WATER HITS LANCASTER, OHIO; 300 PERSONS HOMELESS

Logan, O., July 29.—[Special.]—Swollen from ten days of intermittent rains, the Hocking river swept through south central Ohio today, causing the death of one man and property damage estimated at more than a million dollars. The flood was the worst to hit that river valley district in the last 22 years.

Three hundred persons were homeless at Lancaster, 18 miles north of here. There the muddy waters of the river and tributary streams washed through the lowlands, carrying away live stock and small buildings. Entire farm crops were washed away.

By midafternoon, however, the river, which had started to overflow its banks following a heavy downpour Sunday night, began to subside.

One man, identified as Claude Carpenter, Lancaster grocer, was drowned near Rock Bridge. A small boat in which he and two others were attempting to reach higher ground was overturned by the swift current.

Lancaster was hit first by the flood. A wall of water five feet high descended on that city a few hours after 2½ inches of rain fell throughout south central Ohio.

TYPHOON LASHES FORMOSA; HOMES RIPPED TO PIECES

Storm Called Worst in Island's History.

TOKIO, July 30 [Tuesday].—(AP)—The Rengo [Japanese] news agency reported today from Taihoku that the whole island of Formosa is in the grip of one of the worst typhoons ever experienced there.

The central part of the island was reported suffering extensive and severe damage. The city of Shinchiku, which suffered from two disastrous earthquakes this year, was hard hit.

Trains ceased operating on the island and communication wires were down in many places. Large trees were uprooted, and lives were endangered by signboards and roofs flying through the air.

An unknown number of houses were destroyed in the thickly populated areas. Banana and sugar plantations were seriously damaged. All streams were rising dangerously high in central Formosa. Taihoku was in darkness early today after the rising winds had damaged the power house.

Third Typhoon of Season.

The typhoon is the third this season to hit Formosa. It is expected to cross Formosa and head toward China.

Meanwhile, the greatest flood in seven years was reported last night in east Manchuria.

The South Manchuria trunk line and five other railroads from Hsinking [Changchun] and Mukden had to suspend service. The Mukden-Antung express, with 160 passengers, was reported maroned, with police and soldiers guarding it against bandits.

The flood caused many landslides and washed out several bridges. Heavy material damage is feared, especially to crops in Corea and Manchukuo.

Manila Streets Flooded.

MANILA, P. I., July 29.—(AP)—Streets in some sections of downtown Manila were under water for several hours today, and interisland shipping was disturbed as a result of a typhoon and high tides.

The end of the typhoon moving toward Formosa struck the Philippines last night and today, causing considerable damage to bamboo houses in the provinces.

The steamship Venus, which lost a propeller in the storm last night, was being towed into Manila by the steamship Bohol today.

Fire Attacks South Side Church; Damage Is $7,000

Damage estimated at $7,000 was done yesterday by a fire which swept St. David's Roman Catholic church, 32d street and Emerald avenue. The blaze started on the roof, where workmen, repairing the building, were using hot tar. Priests and parishioners carried out vestments and holy articles. The altar of the church was not damaged.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL.

With the primaries still nine months away, an extraordinary number of candidates for the Republican nomination for governor are already in the field, openly or by inference. This list, not all-inclusive, numbers former Senator Glenn, John Oglesby, Edward Hayes, Wayland Brooks, State Representative Schnackenberg, and State Senator Searcy.

This is in accordance with traditional political thinking. Politics sees few volunteers to lead forlorn hopes, and the plethora of candidates is a plain indication that politicians believe Gov. Horner has become so involved with the Washington dictatorship that he will be easy pickings in the next campaign.

This, however, is no time for traditional political thinking in the Republican party. It is a time which demands the highest patriotism and the submerging of individual ambition to the common good. Above all, the Republicans, facing a strongly intrenched enemy, must avoid dissension in their own ranks.

Fortunately, there is no need for dissension. The party can aspire to capture but one governorship, but in this state it may hope to capture 21 seats in the national house of representatives, now held by Democrats.

Nowhere can a man render greater service to his country and his party than in congress. The Roosevelt depression could not have been born and nourished except through the servile acquiescence of a congress kept in line by Jim Farley's jobs and Harold Ickes' millions. It can be brought to an end the moment congress gains enough intelligent and upright members to reassume its constitutional duties of passing legislation and voting appropriations instead of rubber stamping the President's demands.

The campaign to get such a congress, because it must be fought piecemeal in hundreds of districts, will not be so spectacular, but it will be fully as important as the campaign to elect a President who may be trusted to take his oath to support the constitution without crossing his fingers.

To insure victory in the congressional fight the Republicans must put forth the most able men they can find. Their losses in the last campaign would not have been so severe had the candidates in a number of districts been of higher quality.

Only one of the men who have been mentioned can make the race for governor, but all of them have an opportunity for high service in the congressional field. It is to be hoped that all of them will consider that opportunity, and that other Republicans of similar high quality will present themselves as candidates in the Illinois congressional districts.

HIGHWAY TRAINS IN THE CITY.

The legislature took a step toward curbing roadhog practices of trucking concerns when it fixed forty feet as the maximum overall length of trucks and truck-trailer combines. While operation of these forty foot units may be feasible on state highways in the open country, they still constitute a serious safety menace and a source of trafic congestion on crowded city streets.

The city council has authorized an investigation of trucks and trailers by its committee on trafic and public safety. It may be that the city government lacks the power to impose a further restriction on the length of truck-trailer units, and conflicting city and state regulations might work needless injury on the motor transportation industry.

However, the city has a perfect right to specify on which of its streets these cumbersome vehicles shall be operated. They are already barred from boulevards. Since through streets are narrower than the boulevards, their operation there is even more of a source of congestion, and the turning of the units on such thoroughfares still more hazardous to pedestrians and passenger automobiles. The council committee should give consideration to some plan for ridding a majority of the city's through streets of such trafic.

Another highway menace, smaller than the truck-trailer but more dangerous because less well controled, is the towed automobile. We refer here not to the damaged automobile being handled by a tow truck, but to the practice of automobile manufacturers in delivering new cars, one coupled to the rear of the other.

The driver, seated in the front car, has no control over the brakes of the rear one, and its weight makes sudden stops at least twice as difficult as for the average passenger car. From a safety standpoint alone such combinations have no place on city streets.

THE GOVERNMENT PLANS A PERMANENT DEPRESSION FOR COAL MINERS.

One ton of coal in the most advanced industrial application now does the work for which ten tons formerly were required. Scientific coal utilization came as a result of high coal prices. The reduced demand for coal threw many miners out of work. But for what happened the miners have no one to blame but themselves for their unfortunate choice of an occupation. Industrial advances of this order make goods cheaper and thus raise the standards of living for all the people.

A hundred thousand families in Chicago and suburbs have replaced coal furnaces with oil and gas equipment because of convenience and service. A number of industrial plants are burning oil in this community because they have found it for their purposes a more economical fuel. Having been displaced in free competition, the affected miners have no kick coming. It is like the protest of the 17th century hostlers who objected when large coaches first were made to carry 18 passengers from London to York. The revolutionary practice of clubbing for a common conveyance reduced the employment which would have gone to grooms, farriers, innkeepers, hostlers, and saddlers when each man rode his own horse.

But far different is the case when labor is displaced, not in free competition but because of governmental bounty. Coal miners by the thousand are destined to lose their jobs shortly as a result of the government financed water power projects.

Hydro-electric power is nothing new. Engineers of public utility companies for years have compared the cost of water and steam whenever the question of adding power has arisen. It costs more to build a hydro-electric plant than a steam plant, but less to operate it. In addition, since few dependable water power sites are located close to the market, there is the additional cost of transmitting hydro-electric power from where it is available to where it is wanted. Thus interest charges and taxes are higher on hydro-electric plants, and labor and supplies cost more on steam plants. Weighing one against the other the decision was frequently in favor of water power. That meant loss of jobs to coal miners, but their complaint on that account was no sounder than that of the 17th century hostler.

But the advantages of lower interest charges, lower tax bills, and lower transmission costs no longer protect the job of the miner from the competition of the river. The government has determined that water power development shall go ahead irrespective of cost and quite without regard for the need for additional power. It is building water power plants where the best informed engineers have considered the merits of coal and water on a cold turkey basis and have decided in favor of coal. A cruel injustice is being done to men who have worked all their lives in a hazardous industry.

As the Roosevelt hydro-electric projects are completed the demand for coal will decline and the amount of money going to mining towns will be reduced even below the present level. Thus the money which the government is putting into unsound water power will create new problems of unemployment. For the coal miner the depression will be continuous. For, as the industrial demand for coal increases with the passing of the general depression, its use in making electricity will decline. And for the unemployment which the miners are certain to experience in the ensuing years they cannot blame technology, as the 17th century hostler could. The responsibility will rest with the Roosevelt administration, which with hundreds of millions of public funds is planning unemployment for coal miners.

How much of a catastrophe to coal miners the hydro-electric program is will be set forth in a succeeding editorial.

RFC MONEY THAT IS "LOST."

[Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph.]

When the Reconstruction Finance corporation, known as RFC, was organized under the administration of President Hoover, the plan proposed was that the federal treasury would put at its disposal millions of dollars to be loaned to industry, banks or other sound commercial projects; that good security would be exacted for all such loans, and eventually that the money would come back to RFC—in short, that the whole thing would be a gigantic revolving fund, which in the end would liquidate itself and cost the taxpayers nothing.

But the RFC picture has changed in the last two years, according to Washington advices. Millions of dollars have been loaned by RFC and paid back by the borrowers. But under special laws passed by congress since President Roosevelt went into office, these funds flowing back into the coffers of RFC can be by the President diverted to whatever channel he might direct.

Under this authority it is reported that about a billion dollars have been taken from the repaid RFC funds by Roosevelt and allotted to Harry Hopkins for direct federal relief or reloaned to agencies from which they can never be recovered.

In consequence RFC is now virtually insolvent; in other words, its realizable assets are not equal to the total sum which the treasury has loaned to the bureau. More of the original RFC funds will be allotted to the new PWA agency, and the total sum which will be "lost" beyond recovery will constantly mount, adding to the national debt. The original idea of the revolving fund for RFC has been diverted into a fund which stops at some points in its revolving course and disappears.

THERE'S A LOW SINISTER RUMOR going around that the bus and street car companies are encouraging the women in this knitting fad. It seems that when a woman is intent in her knitting and mumbling to herself, "One-two-three-four-five-purl" and so on, she forgets to get off when her street is called and rides on for a mile or two further and then has to pay another fare to get back. And she may be purling the next time, too, and go right past the second time. If I hear of the bus companies presenting yarn and knitting needles to their customers then I'll know it's a racket. And a taxi driver tells me that he drove one of these busy knitter women away out on the south side last week and after he had driven up to the house and informed his passenger that she had arrived she never looked up, but kept right on knitting and counting and purling until finally an hour passed and the taxi driver, who was of a frugal turn of mind, said to the woman, "It's none of my business, lady, but if that's a sweater you're knitting you can buy a half dozen downtown a lot cheaper then payin' rent on my cab to finish that one."

If you go around in your birthday clothes it is just an invitation to those pests to hop to it and have a grand time. I think the U. In almost no time the Nudists would be begging not only for heavy clothing but for coats of mail and steel armor such as the knights of old used to wear.

A Fellow named Sam had a Horse that got Sick and Lay Down on Him. So the Neighbors Gathered in to Tell Him What to Do. Some Argued that the Horse had been given too much Oats, and Some not Enough. Various Remedies were Suggested, such as Ginger, Turpentine, and A Lump of Sugar to Tempt Him; also a Kick in the Slats. A College Professor thought it would be a Good Idea to Bob His Tail, thus Reducing His Surplus. Another, believing the Animal was Infested with Fleas—Parasite Malefactors, He called them—advised pouring Coal Oil on Him and setting it on Fire.

"But I fear such Procedure would Destroy the Horse, too," protested Sam.

"Never mind about that," insisted the Professor "Our Concern is to get Rid of the Fleas."

And there was a Sage who had been a Metaphysician but had become a Humanitarian Veterinarian who advised that the Horse be Knocked in the Head, because He had evidently outlived His Constitution, or Something. Or, on the other Hand, the Constitution might be Changed if It could be Got at.

So, after listening to all these Friendly Suggestions and trying Some of Them, Sam finally Decided that maybe the Best Thing would be to Let the Poor Horse alone. Which He did, and the Horse got Well.

The Ethiopians, instead of sitting down very gingerly and carefully as they usually do, will sit with great suddenness on the ground, thereby ripping their pants. LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA OR TABES DORSALIS.

We may think of the spinal cord as composed of a bundle of nerves that carry messages from the brain to the muscles and organs of the body. These nerves are the figurative wires that pull the muscles and make them move.

Let us see how the will governs our actions. The thought comes: "I will walk in the garden." As long as it is merely a thought nothing happens—not a muscle contracts. But the moment you put your desires into action—that is, send messages to the muscles—scores of them contract and you rise from a chair, walk to the door, open it, step out, and stroll among the flowers and shrubs. Most of your movements are performed automatically, but at the same time they are governed by the brain. You can stop, sit down, or pick a flower. All of these processes require muscular action and depend upon impulses traveling through the spinal cord. We recognize therefore the vital importance of this structure for the normal functioning of the body.

The most frequent disease of the spinal cord is known as locomotor ataxia or tabes dorsalis. Occasionally young persons are afflicted, but the majority of cases are found between the ages of 30 and 50. By most authorities it is considered to be the result of syphilitic infection and of the toxins produced by that disease, although it is possible that other poisons may be factors.

Early in the disease the patient will complain of lightninglike pains, first in the thigh and a few minutes later in the foot. They stab like a knife and occur in crops. As a rule they are rapidly repeated, the several stabs succeeding one another in the course of a second or two. Sometimes these paroxysms last for a few hours and then cease for several days. The area in which they are chiefly manifest may be no larger than the palm of the hand, and between attacks the skin over the part is frequently tender to the touch.

Some patients will state that the onset of the pain is provoked by a draft of air, a change of weather, or even a cold drink. In the early stages, while these symptoms rarely appear during active exercise, the individual may be compelled to stop suddenly because of the overpowering paroxysm. The lower limbs and the trunk are most frequently affected, although the knee and ankle joints may be involved. Not infrequently these manifestations are mistaken for rheumatism or neuritis.

Another important symptom is the loss of sensation in the skin, which may be determined by a pin prick. This is probably the most common, most definite, and most characteristic sign of tabes. It is observed with the greatest frequency on the skin of the feet, the inner side of the legs, the trunk, and the inner border of the forearms.

Agonizing pain in the abdomen, known as a "gastric crisis," is a perplexing symptom. The abdominal wall may be rigid and there may be vomiting. Sometimes the attacks resemble acute or chronic indigestion or the diagnosis may be gastric or duodenal ulcer. Because of the violent nature of the pain, abdominal operations are now and then performed. This means that any acute abdominal pain occurring in middle aged persons should be carefully analyzed. If a loss of skin sensitivity is found great caution should be exercised before surgical procedures are undertaken.

The diagnosis is confirmed after a positive blood or spinal fluid reaction to syphilis is obtained, but a negative reaction does not exclude the presence of the disease.

Once locomotor ataxia has been recognized anti-syphilitic treatment should be begun. Much can be done to delay or even arrest the destruction of spinal cord cells, and expert management will be required. The condition is one in which comfort and reasonable efficiency may be preserved for years with full cooperation on the part of patient and physician.

BATHING DANGERS.

L. B. writes: Is it true there are many diseases that may be contracted from the water of public bathing beaches?

REPLY.

Unless some disinfectant is used in the water bathing in crowded areas is unhygienic. There may be too many human bodies washing in too little water. Probably the skin will absorb little, if any, noxious matter, but water is bound to get into the eyes, ears, nose, and mouth. Some of it may even be swallowed. Waves fill the water with air and hence oxidize organic matter. In salt water, where waves rush in, there is slight danger of contamination even where congestion is great.

MAY BE A CYST.

S. W. S. writes: I had a lump on my scalp just behind the ear, about the size of a 10 cent piece. While combing my hair it opened and a hard white substance came from it.

REPLY.

Probably a sebaceous cyst. These cysts contain a thick, cheesy substance, and have a tendency to recur unless the sac is obliterated by caustic or excised surgically.

BRONZING OF SKIN.

C. S. H. writes: What does bronzing of the skin of the ankles and the waistline indicate? I at first thought the bronzing was tan, but it remains during the winter.

REPLY.

This may be a symptom of Addison's disease. Is your blood pressure low? Are you weak and tired constantly?

Suggest to your physician that the secretion of the adrenals be investigated.

NOT POISONOUS.

L. M. W. writes: I have heard that when butter is put into a frying pan it becomes poisonous. Would foods fried in butter be poisonous?

REPLY.

Not at all.

When animal fats are heated or burned, as in frying, a substance called acrolein is formed. This has a disagreeable odor and taste, but, in ordinary quantities, is not poisonous.

CUSTODY OF CHILD.

Chicago, July 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I obtained final decree of divorce about five months ago. Have a child over a year old whose custody was awarded me. Father is required to pay $14 a week alimony and support of this child and is allowed to see him four hours a week. 1. Do I have to go to court to get permission to take child out of the state? Am willing to forgo payment of any further alimony. 2. If I take child out of state without permission of court, would it be possible for my ex-husband to have me brought back for contempt of court? 3. Would it be possible to have child's last name changed if I can show good reason for doing so without father's consent? A. W.

1. Not unless the decree contained wording on the point.

2. We see no basis for such an action.

3. "It is sufficient, in legal proceedings and elsewhere, that a person is designated by a name by which he is commonly known and called, even though it is not his true name. . . . A marriage by the name by which the individual is commonly known is valid. . . . Where it is not done for fraudulent purpose, and in the absence of statutory restriction, one may lawfully change his name without resort to any legal proceedings, and for all purposes the name thus assumed will constitute his legal name just as if he had borne it from birth."—45 C. J. 380, 381.

In Reinken vs. Reinken, 351 Ill. 409, decided by the Illinois Supreme court in 1933, these principles were applied in holding that a divorced woman can resume her maiden name without court permission.

Chap. 96 of the Ill. Revised Statutes provides that a person "may" file a petition and secure a court decree, but it is held that such statutes do not abrogate the common law right of an individual to change his name without application to the courts.

In adopting a new name, one should for convenience give notice of the change to those persons to whom the information may be material. In transactions in which the old name appears, we suggest continuing to use it to avoid confusion. For example, the same name under which one took title to real estate should be used in a subsequent conveyance.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE.

Chicago, July 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have some real estate in probate, left to me by my mother. I am the only child. My father is dead. I am administrator of the property. I have a few questions regarding [1] the mortgage. The mortgage expires in one year. 2. I have a friend who would like to take this mortgage over immediately. 3. Would the new mortgage be charged against the estate until the probate period is over or would it be charged to me? It has been in probate five months. 4. If it is possible to pay up the old mortgage against my mother's name, what sort of papers should I receive from the person holding the mortgage at present? In the present case [5] can the real estate be sold while it is in probate? J. W. D.

1. We assume that the estate is debtor rather than creditor on the mortgage.

2. We see no reason why your friend should not purchase the existing mortgage from the holder.

3. Your question is not clear to us.

4. Your letter indicates such a basic lack of understanding of the situation that we advise you to present your facts to an attorney in a personal interview.

5. Such a sale would require a surety bond against claims and would involve other trouble and expense. Ordinarily it is preferable to wait until the year has elapsed.

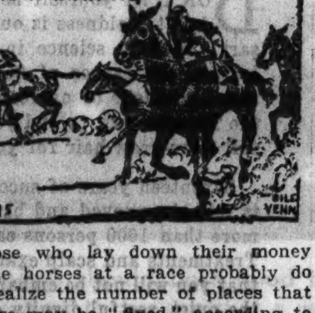
The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.



Those who lay down their money on the horses at a race probably do not realize the number of places that a horse may be "fixed," according to recent writers, who say that racketeers make more money from losing a race than from winning it. There is probably nothing that will ever guarantee a fair race. Nevertheless, the losing horse may win, and the winning horse lose, if the stakes are set in the right way.

TERMITES.

Kenilworth, Ill., July 26.—Recent articles call attention to the dangers to buildings and other framework due to the appearance in this country of termites. It seems that their approach to buildings is through elaborate underground tunnels, that they gain access to the inside of timbers and supports of buildings through small cracks or holes. Once inside, these pests immediately proceed to consume the heart and sinews of the structure, no matter how stanch and rugged it may be; and finally with all the supporting timbers reduced to a thin shell the ruin is complete sometimes even before the presence of the termite is suspected. Termites are always well organized, they are blind, they have powerful jaws, they work only in the dark and fear only light and ants.

That's one kind of termite; there are others.

Is it possible that still another species has appeared and is even now at work on the main supporting framework of our government? Mental termites, perhaps, but blind and equipped with tireless jaws, a bit afraid of the light and sensitive to ants [in the pants].

WEED ERADICATION.

Chicago, July 26.—I have been much interested in your recent reports regarding the eradication of ragweed, as my husband, son, brother, and a nephew, all residents of this sneezy city, are sufferers.

If sneezing were the only symptom it would not be so bad, but when hay fever reaches the bronchial and asthmatic stage accompanied by fever it is a serious matter.

You say 323 relief workers are cutting ragweed in vacant lots. Here is a sample I saw last night by simply riding from California avenue to Ashland on 63d street. In a number of places I saw that the weeds had been cut only three or four feet along the sidewalk, while the lot itself was full of ragweed. Is this cutting down the ragweed? I would mention lots at 63d and Maplewood, Campbell, and near Damen avenues. Have you ever noticed that the business streets are the greatest offenders? Ride down Western avenue, 75th street, etc., and you will find that about 75 or 90 per cent of the weeds on vacant property is ragweed.

Another suggestion is this: I have been surprised to find how few people really know ragweed. You did print a picture last year just showing the leaf, I believe, but why don't the newspapers publish pictures and articles frequently and make the public ragweed minded? I have seen it growing alongside beautifully kept yards and flower gardens. Many people have no idea that it is that pest, ragweed.

Regarding the pollen in the air regardless of that in the immediate vicinity, would say that our sufferers do find relief in the Dunes region, where ragweed does not seem so plentiful.

AGAINST TRIAL BY JURY.

Maywood, Ill., July 26.—During the last few years the writer has become increasingly certain that the time-old practice of trial by jury has developed a condition wherein justice is uncertain and economically wasteful and jury trials are a gamble rather than a clear determination of guilt or innocence in both criminal and civil court actions. The dramatics of the Lindbergh trial, the hopeless inadequacy of the jurors on the Insull cases to understand even a small fraction of what it was all about, the spectacle reported in today's TRIBUNE where the prosecutor in the Peoria murder case spent 70 minutes in telling the jury what he expected to prove, could have been largely avoided if such trials were held before a banc of three or more judges.

A radical departure such as this would be vigorously opposed by those lawyers commonly known as criminal lawyers, who thrive in securing acquittals from sympathetic juries. My observations during the last few years have convinced me that trial by jury is outmoded, and I hope to see it abolished in the interest of justice and economy, with perhaps a little sense of satisfaction in relegating to the junk heap public enemy No. 1, namely, the criminal lawyer who, for his price, will stop at nothing to assist a guilty criminal to escape his just dues.

BEDTIME AT THE SANITARIUM.

Chicago, July 25.—Recently I had the pleasure of spending a couple of hours with the little girls from five to ten years of age at the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium. These children had been exposed to tuberculosis and were there for preventive treatment.

About 6:30 p. m. I saw about 75 of them scamper to their cottages and reappear in a few minutes, most of them in night attire, each carrying a big blanket. These were spread in a circle on the lawn. Then they wallowed and rolled and yelped and laughed. Finally they came to attention. Then, to the clapping of hands in unison, they cried, "We want Mary! We want Mary!" Mary came to the center. She shifted from foot to foot, pulled her nightie into a dozen shapes, looked in every direction. Then she sang. They gave perfect attention, then rapturous applause. They showed pride in her offering.

Then followed call after call for nearly two hours, no one refusing, till it seemed that every one had given her mite in solo, duet, recitation, dialog, or acrobatic stunt. Many were called back repeatedly for named selections. The whole seemed to know what each one could do.

Not a sign of sadness could be seen or heard. There was joy, abounding joy, sparkling in every eye.

Can I ever forget those sweet voices or those beautiful faces? Can I ever forget the joy that thrilled my heart as I looked at those happy children? Here is cause for every Chicagoan to devoutly thank God that he lives in a city whose great heart throbs with love for its little ones.

CLAIMS U. S. REDS ARE CARRYING ON THE SPIRIT OF '76

Moscow Congress Hears of American Progress.

MOSCOW, July 29.—(AP)—Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party in the United States, reported to the seventh international today that the native American membership has increased from 10 per cent in 1930 to 40 per cent of the present total American membership of 30,000.

Agents of the party, carrying on the traditions of the United States war for independence, said Browder, have reached 1,000,000 factory workers and huge numbers of students, farmers, and white collar workers.

Claims Reds Inherited '76.

"We have assimilated the revolutionary traditions of 1776," he continued, "we are the heirs to the revolutionary movements from which the United States originated.

"Herbert Hoover and the Republicans blame the Roosevelt régime for the Fascist tendencies in America. The Rooseveltians blame Huey Long and Father Coughlin, but all of them consider coalition to be right. The Republicans and the Democrats are the true conductors of Fascism in America."

The Mexican Problem.

The problem of the communist party in Mexico is the unification of the masses into a national anti-imperialist agrarian revolution, the communist congress was told.

Delegate Marenco of Mexico admitted in his address that misguided political tactics have prevented the completion of this organization. Communism, he reported, has penetrated the most important branches of workers' groups, such as railway, oil fields, and street car employés.

But some program is still needed, he added, to "attract the masses and small bourgeoisie into the national anti-imperialist agrarian revolution."

TRANSFERS $20,461 STRAUB MURDER INSURANCE CASE

Federal Judge John P. Barnes entered a routine order yesterday transferring the Louis K. Straub insurance case from the law to equity calendar. The suit has been brought by the New York Life Insurance company to determine to whom shall be paid the $20,461 life insurance that had been held by Straub. Straub's murder last February in the Saddle and Cycle club, where he was employed as a bartender, never has been solved.

Ernest C. Straub, a brother of the slain man, and two nephews, Ernest and Wallace Shropshire, both of New Mexico, have filed claims for the insurance, contesting the petition of the widow, Mrs. Lillian Melba Straub.

Settlement of the question is not expected for several months because of the involved technicalities of the suit, it was said. Mrs. Straub recently lost her suit to collect $4,000 workman's compensation on the death of her husband, the Illinois industrial commission ruling that he had not been killed in the course of his duty at the club.

FEDERAL AGENTS GET CONFESSION OF 2 KIDNAPERS

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—The department of justice reported tonight it had in custody two men accused of kidnaping a 65 year old man in an attempt to collect $8,000 ransom.

The kidnaped man, Benjamin H. King, employé at the Arlington National cemetery, was said by bureau of investigation men to have been spirited across Washington from his cottage at nearby Fort Myer, Va., to a hideout in upper Marlborough county, Maryland.

The justice department announced it had "full confessions" from George Hewitt, described as a paroled murderer who had been living in King's cottage, and a man identified as W. W. Wood.

The ransom, federal agents said, was not paid and King was released.

The two men were charged in a Baltimore federal court with violation of the Lindbergh law because of the alleged transportation of King across a state line.

COURT TIES UP PORTER ASSETS IN WOMAN'S SUIT

Washington Porter II., wealthy art collector, was prohibited from disposing of his assets during the pendency of a suit, in an injunction issued yesterday by Superior Judge Charles A. Williams.

The suit is that in which Mrs. Dorothy Farwell Kolb, wife of P. Val Kolb, a chemical engineer, seeks recovery of $8,300 and a $2,000 diamond ring she claims she loaned Porter while he was courting her last spring.

Mrs. Kolb said in her bill that Porter induced her to start divorce action against her husband, and that in the belief that the art collector planned to marry her she advanced him the money on a chattel mortgage on art work in the Kiosk Sphinx art museum at 4044 Oakenwald avenue, adjoining the Porter homestead at 4043 Lake Park avenue. Mrs. Kolb and her husband have since become reconciled, her bill said.

Use Combine on Oats

July 29, 1935.

IN contrast to the oat harvesting method used at The Tribune farm at Yorkville, where two binders were employed to cut the crop, a combine-harvester is being used this week to handle the oats at The Tribune Experimental farm near Wheaton. The crop of about 55 acres will be cut and threshed, all in one operation, with the combine.

The machine blows the oat straw back onto the field. At the Yorkville farm the oats are threshed with an ordinary threshing machine and the straw is stacked and used for live stock bedding material.

Carl Henderson, farm manager, roughly estimates that the oats will average approximately 35 bushels to the acre. The oats have been allowed to ripen fully so they will shell out easily when they are run through the combine.

◆

Men at the Wheaton farm finished "laying by" corn the early part of last week. All the corn was cultivated three times and is in excellent condition.

◆

Last night when the harvesters quit work they had finished putting up the hay on the Wheaton place. The second crop of alfalfa will not be ready to cut for several weeks.

◆

The flock of sheep on the Wheaton farm has been effectively used in cleaning up weeds in the lower pasture. They were moved Friday to a pasture of bluegrass and white clover mixture.

◆

Men at the Wheaton farm are beginning to see definite and favorable results from their persistent war against Canada thistles. None appeared in the corn this season. A few showed up in the oats and timothy, but were cut before blooming. Where a few patches appeared in the fields they have been kept under control by mowing only once. The thistle battlers are proud of the fact that not a single plant has been allowed to go to seed on the farm this year, according to Manager Henderson.

◆

Sudan grass, a hay and pasture crop planted in The Tribune Wheaton farm plot No. 7, rows Nos. 78 to 82, is now waist high. Planted on June 24, the plants are only a few days more than a month old, but would yield a fair tonnage to the acre.

This crop is highly praised by other farmers in their answers to the question recently printed in this column, asking "What is your most practical method of eradicating or controling morning-glories?" Morning-glories have caused serious trouble in the fields, especially oats, this season at The Tribune Yorkville farm.

In answering the morning-glory question, Roger J. Shaff, Camanche, Ia., says:

"We find that the best method to eradicate morning-glories is by pasturing the ground. We have had quick and definite success by pasturing Sudan grass heavily.

"For controling morning-glories in the cornfield, plowing the ground and planting directly afterwards will check the morning-glories so the corn will get well ahead of them."

W. M. Murray, Spring Valley, Ill., writes: "My experience in getting rid of morning-glories has been most successful where Sudan grass was sown two years in succession. The first year half the weeds were killed; the second year finished the job, he says.

Today's question: At what age should old dairy cows be eliminated from the herd; is there danger of spreading tuberculosis and other contagious diseases where cows are kept on the farm after they have become so old they are useless?

'UFUS' ISAACSON IS FREED FROM ALIMONY CELL

Robert [Ufus] Isaacson, 37 years old, former liquor jobber who was jailed five months ago for nonpayment of $516 to his former wife, soon after he lost his $100,000 breach of promise suit against Mrs. Mary Alexander Byrn, a widow, was released from alimony row yesterday.

Superior Judge Charles A. Williams issued a writ freeing Isaacson after attorneys for Isaacson and his wife informed the court that the prisoner's relatives have paid Mrs. Isaacson $300 and that he has promised to pay $10 a week, beginning Sept. 10. The money is for the support of a daughter, Gwendolyn, 10 years old.

Isaacson made his nickname public during trial of his suit against Mrs. Byrn. Testimony was introduced showing that she called him "Ufus" and "Tumblebug," and that he called her his "Salami Herring."

LAWYER DRAWS 10 YEAR TERM AS RESULT OF FEE

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 29.—[Special.]—Convicted of conspiracy in connection with the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Ben B. Laska, Denver attorney, was sentenced today by Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught to serve ten years in prison.

Laska had been found guilty last June 15 of accepting part of the $200,000 kidnap ransom as fees for defending Albert Bates, convicted kidnaper. The jury left the sentence to Judge Vaught.

Lawyer Weeps in Court.

Laska sought to plead with the court before sentence was passed. With tears rolling down his cheeks and his lips quivering, he said: "All I can say is—be reasonable. An innocent man is going to be sentenced. I'm innocent, that's all I can say. This is a terrible thing for me after 27 years in the business. Please, judge, be reasonable."

Judge Vaught, however, denied a motion for a new trial and, passing sentence, declared: "The court is of the opinion that the evidence was sufficient to support the verdict."

In addition to the Urschel case, Laska defended persons accused in the Boettcher, Bohn, and Hamm kidnapings.

Three Given Paroles.

Laska's star witness, Mrs. Molloy O. Edison, also a Denver attorney, was arrested for perjury immediately after the jury had returned its verdict. Three government witnesses who had admitted their guilt and aided the prosecution were given paroles from five year prison sentences.

Laska was the twentieth person to face a federal court and be sentenced as the result of the Urschel kidnaping. Defense attorneys indicated they would appeal the case and the attorney remained free on a $10,000 bond.

"The conviction of Laska will put the fear of the law into a lot of crooked lawyers," United States District Attorney W. C. Lewis declared.

NEW YORK SHOP LOOTED OF GEMS AS CROWDS PASS

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Jewelry valued between $50,000 and $100,000, including a ruby necklace advertised as having once belonged to Marie Antionette, wife of Louis XVI., was stolen today.

Two men held up the jewelry store of N. Miller at 743 Fifth avenue, near 57th street, a few minutes before 5 o'clock crowds were passing.

One of the robbers pointed a gun at two clerks and tied them up. The other gathered the stones which were in the safe. In the absence from the city of the owner, Nicolai Miller, the employés were unable to give an exact description or estimate of the value of the stolen jewelry. Police learned that several hundred pieces were taken. It was said the loot might exceed $100,000, all covered by insurance.

The Queen's Necklace.

The piece advertised as having once adorned the neck of Marie Antionette, the neck which was later to feel the axe of the guillotine, was described by detectives as composed of twenty or twenty-five flat rubies 1½ or 2 carats each, surrounded by diamond filigree work. The necklace fastened with a ruby clasp set in small diamonds.

That piece was not owned by the jewelry store, but a private owner, whose name—in the absence of Mr. Miller—was not available. It had been on display in the store for three or four weeks, today, just before the store was to be closed.

In Front Window.

It was on display in the front show window on a neck form. Beneath it a typewritten card stated:

"This ruby necklace belonged to Marie Antoinette. It was made especially for her and every ruby was carefully selected for it. It was her favorite jewel. Authentic certificate of the French government."

PLYMOUTH OWNERS: Take a tip from the men who demonstrate your car—they favor Standard Red Crown gasoline

No wonder you're keen about your NEW PLYMOUTH!

BOX SCORE

In a recent survey by a nationally-known research organization, automobile salesmen in 126 middle west towns and cities were asked this question by impartial investigators:

What gasoline do you usually use when you demonstrate your cars?

"On the basis of this survey, the ratio of gasoline preference, per 1000 PLYMOUTH salesmen is as follows:

STANDARD'S LIVE POWER GASOLINE	167
Second Brand	117
Third Brand	108
Fourth Brand	87
Fifth Brand	67
Sixth Brand	54

Live Power is first choice of Plymouth Salesmen
Survey shows 42% more of them use Standard gasoline than any other brand

● The men who make their living selling automobiles ought to know, if anyone does, what it takes to put a car on its best behavior. So the fact that a big majority of them go for Standard's Live Power gasoline should be a good tip for you. After all, it stands to reason that a motor fuel which delivers more live, fast-working-power to an engine is the gasoline that will get out of a car the maximum performance that the car makers built into it. You'll find that's true no matter what make or age of car you drive—when you take on a tankful of real Live Power—

CAMP ALGONQUIN NOW RAISES OWN FARM PRODUCTS

Directors View Five Acre Development.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Camp Algonquin's five acre farm, already showing a rich vegetable harvest, was inspected for the first time yesterday by the board of directors of the camp at their annual meeting. The establishment of the farm is the first step in a long time program of improvement of the camp.

Headed by Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, chairman of the board, the party toured the beautiful 43 acre camp on the banks of the Fox river, where tenement mothers and their undernourished children are sent for rest, country air and sky through the contributions of readers of THE TRIBUNE.

"In past years we rented out the farm tract," explained Mrs. Astrid Save, superintendent of the camp, "but this year we are working it ourselves. You can see the result," and she waived a hand toward the shoulder-high corn, turnips, lettuce, tomatoes, carrots and potatoes. "We already have more than we can use. We are practically supplying ourselves with fresh vegetables."

Farm Interests Children.

"Are the children interested in the farm?" inquired Robert A. Gardner, president of the United Charities of Chicago, which operates the camp.

"I should say they are," responded Mrs. Save. "They come up after supper in great groups to look at the pigs, chickens, rabbits and goats! It is a liberal education for them."

The farmhouse, thanks to the generosity of Mrs. Reed, is being remodeled and enlarged. When completed, it will have dormitories and bedrooms to accommodate summer counselors at the camp. In winter it will be used as a recuperative haven for employés of the United Charities.

The plan for the camp farm, which eventually will be laid out with an orchard, was drawn up by Holabird & Root, architects, who donate all planning services for Camp Algonquin.

Outlines Needs of Camp.

At the request of the board members, Mrs. Save outlined the present needs of the camp as follows: An electrical refrigerator, several hundred tooth brushes, tooth paste, new bathing suits, and a new swimming pool.

Current contributions to the Camp Algonquin fund are:

National Ure Bag company	$ 9.00
D. B. K.	5.00
Beginners Department, Bryn Mawr Community church	5.00
Total	$ 19.00
Previously acknowledged	2,281.19
Grand total	$2,300.19

Contributions, either by check or cash, should be sent to the cashier, Tribune Tower. All will be acknowledged in the pages of this paper.

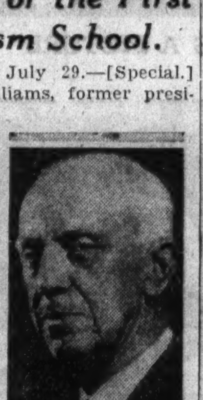
The funeral will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in the Fourth Presbyterian church chapel. Interment will be in Cleveland, O. Besides her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Arthur M. Wirtz, survives. Mrs. Wadsworth was an active member of the Fourth Presbyterian church before she was incapacitated by a paralytic stroke several years ago.

DEAN WILLIAMS, FORMER HEAD OF U. OF M., IS DEAD

Organizer of the First Journalism School.

Columbia, Mo., July 29.—[Special.]—Dr. Walter Williams, former president of the University of Missouri, and dean emeritus of the school of journalism, the first such school in the world, died today. He was 71 years old.



WALTER WILLIAMS

Dr. Williams was widely known as a journalist, educator, and author, and in his career had traveled through virtually every country of the world.

He started his newspaper career at the age of fifteen years, when he obtained a job as an apprentice in the composing room of the Boonville, Mo., Topic, at the salary of 75 cents a week. Eight years later he became editor and part owner of the Boonville Advertiser, and president of the Missouri Press association.

Editorial Supervisor in 1890.

In 1890 he assumed editorial supervision of the Columbia [Mo.] Herald, and from that time on his activities in newspaper work continued to spread.

Among the things which received his attention was the idea of a strict code of ethics for the newspaper profession, and to that end he wrote "The Journalists' Creed," with the idea of guiding journalists, old and young, and setting forth the high ideals of the profession.

In the line of education he served as chairman of the executive committee of the board of curators of the University of Missouri, but resigned that post in 1908 to become dean of the school of journalism at the suggestion of the Missouri Press association.

Originator of Curriculum.

It was the first separate division in any university organized exclusively for instruction in newspaper work, and Dr. Williams worked out a curriculum which has been widely copied.

In 1902 he made a world tour as commissioner of the Louisiana Purchase exposition to the foreign press, and again in 1913 he toured the world in the interests of the Kahn Foundation for the Foreign Travel of American Teachers.

Dr. Williams had been president of the National Editorial association; a fellow of the British Institute of Journalists and a member of the National Union of Journalists of Great Britain. He married in 1892, and had two sons and a daughter. His wife died in 1918, and in 1927 Dr. Williams married Miss Sara Lawrence Lockwood, a Missouri graduate.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

With the view that the real life story of John Charles Thomas would be more interesting than a fictitious setting, the great baritone is dropping his "Home on the Range" series for a new musical dramatic program centering about the activities of the quaint and quiet precincts of his home at Easton, Md., on the east shore of Chesapeake bay. The serial, which is to be heard from 8 to 8:45 Wednesday nights beginning tomorrow over WLS-NBC, is to be called "John Charles Thomas and His Neighbors," and will feature the baritone in both dramatic and singing parts.

Thomas was born in this neighborhood and it is expected that he will draw on his own experiences for episodes in this story in which real life neighbors are to figure. Supporting him will be Willi Morris, soprano; a quartet, a dramatic cast, and Frank Tours' orchestra. Tours is the man in the pit at performances of "The Great Waltz," musical show.

If such programs as this one and the "Life of Mary McCormick" click, as well as they may, a rich and hitherto untapped field fos radio may be opened. Consider, for example, the dramatic potentialities of such colorful careers as those of Paul Whiteman, erstwhile cab driver; Rudy Vallee, once a sailor; Morton Downey, ex-news butcher; Kate Smith, sometime nurse, and Graham McNamee, a concert singer in other days.

One thing Wayne King and the chap who is to succeed him at the Aragon ballroom—Orville Knapp—have in common are distinct musical styles. There are several radio orchestras who are instantly recognizable on the air if you hear but a few bars of their music. They all have their imitators and yet all defy imitation. Among these are Wayne King, Guy Lombardo, Hal Kemp, Ted Fio-Rito, Richard Himber and Orville Knapp.

Perhaps the easiest of these to identify is King. And at least one reason for King's distinction is the fact that he almost never listens to other orchestras. Thus he never borrows, either consciously or otherwise, from any one else.

The story of the Chicago fire will be recalled by two eyewitnesses in an interview with Phil Lamar Anderson over WLS at noon today. The pioneers, both of whose homes were destroyed by the fire, are: Mrs. Ellen Boening, 83 years old, of 2849 Richmond street, and Walter Thime, 72 years old, 2416 North Hamlin avenue.

W-G-N's fourth studio in Tribune Tower was placed in service last night. First show to go on the air from the new air cooled studio was "Grand Stand Thrills," a show recreating the sports highlights of the week with a cast of a dozen actors. The new studio overlooks Michigan avenue. It has a clients' guest booth, but no facilities for other visitors.

Another Party Added to List for Debutantes

Tea for Anne Burnham on December 26.

BY JUDITH CASS.

WITH the number of 1935-'36 debutantes rapidly approaching last year's record total of more than half a hundred, it would appear that debutante festivity increases or decreases in inverse ratio to the economic situation. During the boom days of '28 and '29 there were about half as many parties as have been planned for this fall and winter.

Of course, most of those affairs of the predepression era were extravagant balls and dinner-dances, glittery parties with the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone transformed into anything from an oriental garden to an Alpine forest. The parties the last few seasons have been less lavish, but the buds and their parents have discovered they can have quite as good a time at a garden-tea or a dinner-dance minus a complete ballroom transformation. And of course the greater number of debutantes has meant more parties and as a result more fun and gayety.

The latest addition to this year's list is Miss Anne Burnham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burnham of Winnetka. Up at the Columbus Beach club at Indian River, Mich., where they are summering, the Burnhams have completed plans to introduce their daughter to the grownup world. The party will be a tea the afternoon of Dec. 26 at the Indian Hill club.

Triangle Club May Be in City for Party.

It may be that Miss Burnham's debut will coincide with the visit of the Princeton Triangle club to Chicago. Although nothing has been decided about the coming of the Princeton boys, their performance here is always a night or two after Christmas and, needless to say, they provide an important and interesting addition to the debutante stag lines. The evening of Dec. 26 Gen. and Mrs. Robert E. Wood will introduce their youngest daughter, Mary, at a ball in the Blackstone's Crystal ballroom.

Miss Burnham will be home from Indian River at least two weeks in September before going east to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where she will enter her sophomore year at Vassar. Before enrolling at Vassar, Miss Burnham was graduated from the North Shore Country Day school.

Because of serious and prolonged illness in the family of Mr. and Mrs. S. Edwin Earle, a change has had to be made in the debut plans of their daughter, Elsie. The party her parents were to have given for her Sept. 5 at the Indian Hill club has been canceled but Mrs. Earle's cousin, Mrs. Frank R. Fuller, will entertain for Miss Earle the same evening at a dinner-dance at the Onwentsia. Miss Earle was a classmate of Miss Burnham at the Country Day school and has since attended Sarah Lawrence college.

Sixth Daniel Leonard Since Revolution Born.

The sixth Daniel Leonard since revolutionary days was born at the Evanston hospital last Saturday to the former Sarah May Morey and Daniel Leonard of Winnetka and Lake Forest. No one is more pleased than John R. Leonard, the infant's paternal grandfather.

Mrs. Leonard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Morey of Evanston. Mr. Leonard Sr. and his daughters, Miss Harriet and Miss Deborah, will leave shortly for his camp in the Adirondacks, where the Hibbard Casselberrys [Mary Leonard] and their three children will join them for a few weeks of cool weather. The Casselberrys live in Florida.

Young Mr. and Mrs. John De Koven Bowen are receiving congratulations on the birth of a second son Friday night at St. Luke's hospital. The infant has been named Howell Lewis Bowen for his maternal grandfather. Mrs. Howell Carr Lewis, Mrs. Bowen's mother, was here for the event and plans to remain about a fortnight longer. The Bowens, who are living permanently in Barrington, have a year old son, John De Koven III.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dodd Healy announce the birth of a daughter at the Passavant hospital last Sunday morning. The baby, who has been named Patricia, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Healy, and the niece of Miss Kay Healy, who returned recently from Charlevoix for the event. The baby's mother is the former Jurisa Van Sicklen.

Atkin Sisters Teach at Wisconsin Camp.

The two Atkin sisters, Margot and Adelaide, are having the fun of teaching a number of their young north shore neighbors this summer at Camp Bryn Afon up at Starks, Wis. From the reports coming back Miss Margot is an excellent tennis coach, while Miss Adelaide is helping to draw out the talent of those artistically inclined.

Some of the young campers who have the Atkin sisters for their counselors are Miss Barbara Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Austin of Glencoe; Miss Mary Barrett, whose parents are the Marshall Barretts of Kenilworth; Miss Betty Dewey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Dewey of Winnetka; Miss Barbara Mayo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Mayo of Evanston; Miss Roxane McKenzie, whose father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. William D. McKenzie of Hubbard Woods, and Miss Nancy Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Simpson of Evanston.

Starting a Ride on Lake Front

This young equestrienne is Miss Kathleen Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Arthur Kelly. This picture was taken as Miss Kelly was starting from the Chicago Riding club for a ride along the lake front. In another ten days she will be on her way to Santa Barbara, Cal., with her parents and her older sister, Patricia Forsyth, who is to be introduced to society at a tea-dance on Dec. 21. Miss Kathleen will return to her studies at the Knox school in the fall.

Screen Actress in 8 Movies in First 7 Months

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 29.—[Special.]—You can add Rosalind Russell's name to the limited list of those film newcomers who really seem to be going places. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has renewed her short contract with a long termer and the tall, poised, dark haired New York girl with a clothes model figure has been assigned to the important rôle of the wife in that studio's "Forty Days on Musa Dagh." In about seven months in films this sparkling young woman has played in "Evelyn Prentice," "The President Vanishes," "Forsaking All Others," "West Point of the Air," "China Seas," "Casino Murder Case," and "Reckless," and last week she finished in "The Black Chamber," dramatic story with comedy high lights of Washington in wartime. Her only concern at present is how she can squeeze a vacation in edgewise.

W. C. Fields is making a game but slow fight against the physical breakdown that took him out of films two months ago.

Immediately after the Twentieth Century-Fox merger it was reported that all policemen at Fox Movietone city would be replaced by a force picked by incoming bosses, headed by Darryl Zanuck. The old studio police chief was discharged, but one of the ordinary cops was smart. He'd never seen Zanuck, but he clipped newspaper photos of the studio's new boss, stuck them up in his tiny office at the auto gate entrance and studied them. Then he looked searchingly at every car that came to the lot. Three days later he was rewarded. He recognized the face of the photos when a big car stopped. "Good morning, Mr. Zanuck," said this smart cop. "Nice day, eh?" Zanuck, somewhat taken aback, returned the greeting and was heard to remark some of the Fox studio police were pretty alert fellows. Yes, that cop kept his job.

Front Views and Profiles

BREMEN, Germany.—Breakfast was served this morning on the little veranda off our room at Hillmann's hotel, from which, over scarlet geraniums in the long window box, we had a view of a little green park and a tiny pond. Luncheon was at the Essighaus, the 17th century façade of which is one of the sights of the city. Nearly half a century ago this beautiful Renaissance façade was about to be sold to an English museum—the South Kensington museum—but a group of Bremen citizens got together and purchased it. It was converted into a historical eating house, with bull's-eye window panes, handsome wood paneling, and a staircase 300 years old. On the wall in one of the rooms, amid the old framed engravings, were three of famous men of Germany: Frederick the Great, in a peruke and plumed hat; Paul von Hindenburg, in his military uniform, and Adolf Hitler, in his brown shirt, his Charlie Chaplin mustache, an anachronism in this ancient place.

* *

THERE obviously is a strain of romanticism in the people of Bremen. This afternoon we strolled down the Boettcherstrasse, a narrow street, once a slum, recently rebuilt. The site would have been an excellent one for office buildings; instead, the buildings on the west side of the street have the gables and domes and turrets of the old Bremen style, while those on the east side are more modern. The Bremen merchant, Ludwig Roselius, rebuilt this street and created there an art gallery, studios, and taverns. The building that houses the work of Paula Becker-Modersohn, the artist, has, as adornment, inset in the brick façade on the courtyard, seven sluggards carved in stone. A charming old legend tells of the seven sluggards.

* *

THERE were once seven brothers who were so lazy they did not do their work in the old appointed way. They dug for a spring because they were too lazy to do as the others did and fetch their water from the Weser. They threw up a dyke 'round their house because they were too lazy to save themselves from a flood. They paved the street because they were too lazy to dig out their wagon if it got stuck in the mud. They planted lime trees before their door because they were too lazy to go into the woods when they wanted to see green trees, and their house was fitted up very comfortably so they might enjoy themselves in laziness. . . . This is the legend commemorated in the courtyard in Boettcherstrasse.

Luise Rainer Proves a Star in First Film

'Escapade' American Bow of Viennese Actress.

"ESCAPADE."

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard.
Presented at the Chicago theater.

Carmen	Mathilda Comont

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Luise Rainer! Remember the name! Because it's the name of an actress you'll be wanting to see every chance you get. Luise Rainer!

As an arrestingly "different" personality—aside from her histrionic prowess—Miss Rainer takes her place in the class with Elisabeth Bergner. Both are alike in directness; in an appealing naïveté that, because apparently guileless, is the last word in guile. Both are almost bewilderingly facile in slipping from mood to mood. And yet their technique is utterly unlike, and Rainer is a beauty and Bergner is not.

Now her rôle in "Escapade" said to the Viennese actress:

"Come on! Show us what you can do in your first American movie. I offer you unlimited opportunity to display your wares!"

And Luise Rainer's response to the challenge is quite likely to make movie history.

As Leopoldine Major, pretty and clever companion to an elderly countess, she enters the life of a dashing and much lionized painter of beautiful women. Fritz is his first name. He has a last one, but the cast doesn't give it and I don't remember it.

Fritz has, you see, painted in the just about nude a masked lady who is the wife of a prominent doctor. The lady is quite mad about the artist, but Fritz delicately spurns her advances. [Virginia Bruce being the lady, you feel there's something all wrong here.] Well—

Through a housekeeper's error, the picture of the masked fair one finds its way into a popular magazine. . . . The good doctor [Frank Morgan in a heard—ha ha! but I know him!]—sees it and for certain reasons believes that his sister-in-law [who also has a yen for the irresistible Fritz] has been the model. . . .

He stirs up such a commotion that it becomes necessary for Fritz to produce a model in order to save the future of the indiscreet Gerta from rack and ruin. . . . And so—Leopoldine becomes a cat's-paw. . . . Later, of course, she turns out to be the fondest thing that Fritz is of. . . .

"Escapade," localed in 19th century Vienna, is light, bright and eventful. It has a lot of mighty fine acting, which, nevertheless, seems but a shimmering background against which the work of Luise Rainer stands out, distinct and distinctive.

See you soon.

Whiteman's Band Joins Symphony in 'Hopping Up' Program

Philadelphia, July 29.—(AP)—Paul Whiteman mixed musical cocktails in the shell of Robin Hood Dell tonight.

The "jazz king" and the "king's men" merged themselves with the purveyors of the more classical gems for an evening's entertainment that swung from the syncopation of "the Continental" to Tchaikowsky's symphony No. 5 [2d theme, 1st movement].

Whiteman conducted his band plus the Philadelphia symphonic orchestra.

It was all a part of the management's plan of "hopping up" the type of program given in previous years.

The neo-classic composers were abundantly represented. Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" vied with Chopin's "Minute" waltz.

Strains of the Strausses "Blue Danube Waltz" and "My Hero" gave way to Beethoven and Gounod. "The Good Old Summertime," "Sidewalks of New York," and "Three O'clock in the Morning" pepped up another group of numbers.

Retail Buyers See First of Style Revues

BY KAY HALL.

The advance guard of an army of retail buyers, who will order an estimated minimum of $5,000,000 worth of merchandise in the next two weeks from the Chicago wholesale market, last night viewed what Miss and Mrs. 1935 will wear this fall.

More than 1,600 buyers saw the opening style show of the Interstate Merchants' council at the Hotel Sherman. Another large group watched the fashion review of national line exhibitors at the Morrison hotel. These shows will be repeated during the market and tonight the Merchandise Mart fall women's, children's, and infants' wear market and the style creators of the Chicago wholesale market district at the Stevens hotel will offer their initial reviews.

New highs in first day volume of ready to wear trafic were reported by manufacturers yesterday when the market opened to the accompaniment of business optimism and carnival-like activity.

"Not since 1929" was the measure put on the extent of buying and early registration by officials. More than 25,000 buyers are expected before the market closes with a larger number than ever before coming from western states in recognition of Chicago's rising market position.

The cycles of style dealt out excitement and glamor in the lavishly staged show of the interstate merchants' council. The performance began at the beginning of fashion, the foundation garment. Attractive models of assorted sizes for this demonstration gave evidence that the world is getting better by a contrast of old time corsets, which prevaricated on feminine topography, with the modern foundation garments and their natural, graceful lines.

Exhibitors gave most of their attention to the coming season's extremes—sturdy and little boyish, rather than mannish, sports clothes with sweeping swagger effects and, in contrast, delicately contoured and glittering evening clothes. A wide range of purples and lavenders with entirely new hues, that remind one of storm clouds, carried through from knit dresses to evening velvets. Brown, red and black were the other leads.

Sports coats had wide lapels, wide belts, much fullness and were in the lustrous new mixtures of sober plaids and monotones. Formal cloth coats were richly furred. Fur coats were almost every way but all draped more gracefully to the feminine form than ever before. Some swaggered from the shoulder to three-quarter length. Some were semi-fitted. Some bloused at the waistline.

Plaited jacket and tunic styles were shown in black satin. Gold and silver novelty trims were used on all sorts of daytime dresses. Contrasting fabrics for neck trim characterized the street dresses of new woolen and cotton "frosted" mixtures.

Corduroy, velvet and satin lounging and at home costumes were riotous reds, yellows, blacks and blues in contrast. The smock pajama ensemble leads this field. Metal cloth evening dresses, already much heralded, were confirmed again in this show.

Children's clothes shown were in all the brilliant colors with nothing drab permitted. A five year old girl model ignored the amenities of summer showing of cold weather garments and unabashedly rubbed perspiration from under the minute fur collar of a red jacket and jodhpur suit. A show-stealing four year old boy model spit on his finger and tested the heat of the floor lights as he promenaded in a plaid jacket play suit.

Glorification of the inexpensive wash frock and other daytime garb, which now preoccupies renowned designers, is the theme of the Merchandise Mart's fashion reviews. A preview of tonight's show was presented yesterday by Miss Mari Floto, the director, with models demonstrating what women will wear most of the time this fall.

Shirring, tucks and plaits dress up the daytime dresses of nubby woolens and metalized weaves. Miss Floto predicted plain colors for street wear and mild plaids in frequent combination in two piece jacket dresses. Lounging apparel runs to flowing lines with full sleeves and bloused bodices.

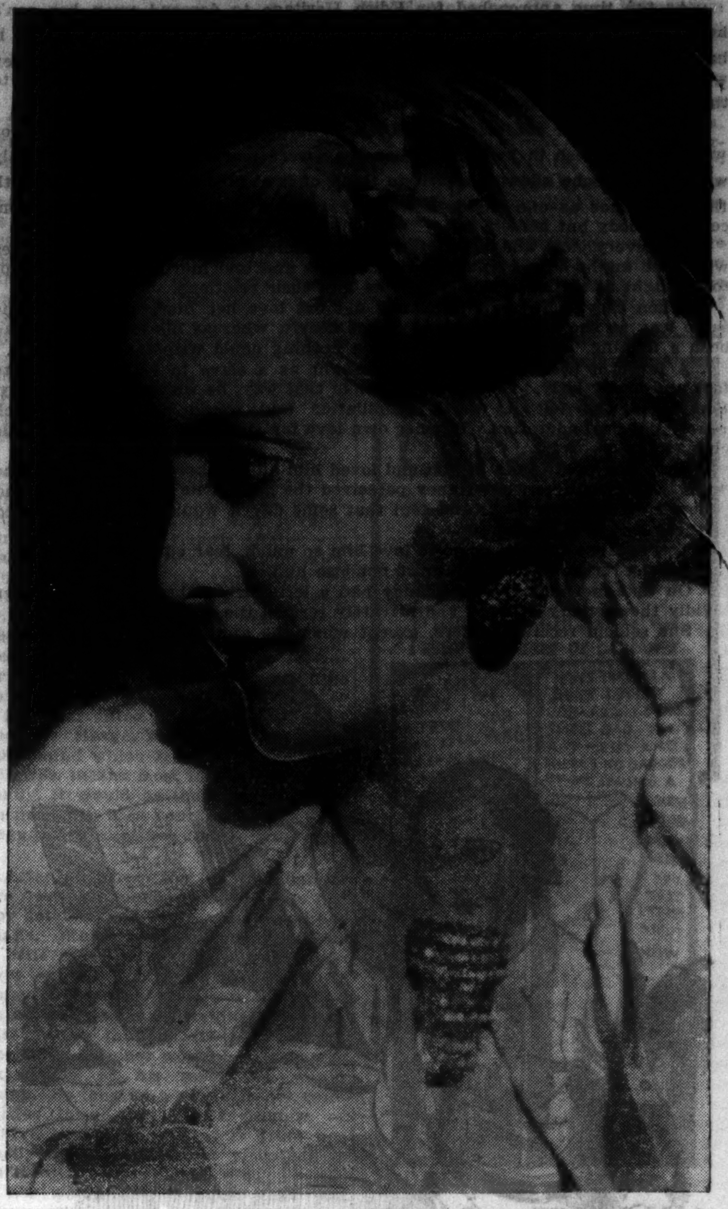
THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS



Bette Davis gives time and attention to her coiffures. In the style shown above the top hair is braided, with the ends curled.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.— [Special.] — We'll always remember Bette Davis as the girl who scorns false eyelashes, even for her work before the camera. She thinks they're fine if you want to be a not too successful imitator of the naturally droopy-lidded Garbo, but not so hot otherwise. So her own blue eyes are fringed only with the lashes the Lord gave her.

We'll also remember Bette Davis as the only person we ever interviewed to the accompaniment of machine gun fire. We both jumped about five feet every few minutes. Bette is working in a picture called "Special Agent," with George Brent. There's a whale of a lot of shooting in it; they may have been blank bullets, but they can make noise.

La Davis isn't at all as you'd expect her to be after seeing her in films. Whenever we've seen her she's been a brittle blonde. Actually she doesn't seem that way. Her face is small, especially her mouth, but her eyes are enormous. A surprising amount of the white of her eyes is revealed at all times, giving her an air of tremendous animation. Her upper lip is very short over her flat, shiny teeth.

She's frank and funny. She's a chain smoker and wishes to heavens she'd never learned about cigarets. She's crocheting a bedspread at the moment to keep her hands busy, and one of the funniest sights is Bette trying to make headway with the crochet needle in one hand and a cigaret in the other.

She started her career as a dancer, which may be one reason why she has an attractive, if unusual figure. She has the smallest waist we've noticed in Hollywood; when we remarked on it we learned that she is the despair of Warner's designers. What fits across the shoulders is inches too big across the hips and around the waist.

Hers is a musical voice; she uses it well. Somehow, you don't have the feeling, as you do with many other stars, that she overdid the diction lessons.

She's got heaps of imagination about the way she arranges her hair. In the photograph above you see one of her coiffure brain waves that was a great success, with the top hair braided and then curled up. Because her hair is bleached she takes extra special care of it, concentrating on oil treatments to eliminate the tendency toward a green tint.

She believes that you pay for your beauty sins and that neglect at twenty is irrevocable hard luck at forty. She doesn't believe in beauty miracles. Relentless, sensible care is only groundwork, she thinks.

The Husband Snatcher

By Elizabeth York Miller.

SYNOPSIS.

Nancy and Dick Heritage have been married for two years and are still greatly in love. Though Nancy is hated by Edith Heritage, her mother-in-law, she is coming to live with them in their little house in Primrose Dene, near London. There is a gap of four years in Nancy's life which she had not satisfactorily accounted for.

INSTALMENT II.

THE FOUR LOST YEARS.

As the time approached for Edith Heritage to descend upon her son's house, Nancy grew increasingly nervous. She had a secret to guard, and it happened very curiously that the morning of the selfsame day when they were expecting Dick's mother the book of Nancy's life was turned back to the chapter she had done her best to delete even from her own memory.

She had never confessed it to Dick. The disgrace and shame and horror were still so fresh in her mind when they were married that she could only want to die if she allowed herself to think of it at all. She tried to deal with the experience as one passes a wet sponge over a slate. After all, it concerned nobody but herself.

But every now and again the horror came back and there were times when she might have crept into Dick's arms and told him everything, except for a slight alteration which had come into their relations.

When they were married Nancy did not love her husband in quite the same way as she loved him now, nor as dearly, whereas his love for her had been a flaming, headlong passion which nothing could withstand.

A lover of beauty, he had been caught as a slave to Nancy's exquisite face and lovely body. He still loved her in that way; he worshiped her beauty. Sometimes she felt it was a humiliation and would shrink from such purely physical adoration. But her own love for Dick had undergone a subtle change.

She discovered faults in him and loved him all the more. There was some dross in his character, but Nancy perceived the gold of its true formation and believed with all her heart and soul that some day it would be wholly purged of those less pure elements.

Yet, because she had come to love him so much, fear entered her soul.

What ever happened, she must not lose him.

On that morning in June Nancy had a letter which brought back to her vividly the memory of what she privately termed the four lost years.

She seldom received letters, except when the aunt in China remembered her. No personal letters in the ordinary way since now there was no person except her aunt who ever wrote to her.

"If you were the Nancy Akers who was committed to the reformatory," the letter had read, "communicate with us."

Almost she exclaimed over this envelope, which was addressed by typewriter, but Dick didn't notice. He, himself, was reading a lengthy account from one of his college friends of a spring tour in the Dolomites.

Nancy tore open the envelope and extracted its contents, a single sheet headed with an address in Gray's inn.

Mrs. Richard Heritage,
No. 6 Primrose Dene,
Hampstead, N. W.

Dear Madam:

It is possible that some mistake has been made in tracing your present name and address, but if you were formerly the [Miss] Nancy Akers who was committed in November, 1925, to the Chiswick Reformatory for Young Female Delinquents, will you kindly communicate with us?

Miss Agnes Satchell, the late lady governor of the home, has recently died and has remembered a Nancy Akers in her will. We, the trustees, are reasonably assured that you are the legatee.

We would be pleased if you would call at our office at your earliest convenience.

Very truly yours,
FAREBROTHER, LIGHTFOOT & DIGGER.
[Signed] S. DIGGER.

Dick threw some snapshots across the table.

"Old Scott seems to be enjoying himself. One of these days you must meet him. He's a grand person."

Minnie, their maid-of-all-work, came in with a fresh pot of hot water for the tea.

Nancy returned her letter to its envelope.

Her heart was beating so fast that it seemed incredible Dick did not notice.

Miss Satchell was dead. You might say that the world had become an empty place. How could the world—how could the Reformatory for Young Female Delinquents survive without Miss Satchell?

And she had remembered Nancy Akers in her will!

A little mechanically, Nancy slipped the envelope into the pocket of her jumper.

She would have to see these people—Messrs. Farebrother, Lightfoot & Diggers. Perhaps she could make time today. Dick's mother would be arriving at Victoria at 5 o'clock, and, of course, Nancy must be there, together with Dick, to welcome her.

There were tears and a faraway look in her eyes when Dick looked up again.

"I say, sweetheart, what's the matter?" he asked.

"Nothing. I—I was just thinking."

"Look here, Nance, if you'd rather mother didn't come, we could board her out somewhere. Although, I must say——"

"Dicky, darling, how can you imagine I feel like that?"

"Because you're crying. I can't think of any other reason."

"If you must know—I'm crying because I love you so much. It's just come over me how very much I do love you, and if I ever lost you, how I—I simply couldn't live!"

"There's no much danger of your losing me, Silly Billy. Try it and see. Really, Nance, sometimes you go off the deep and for nothing at all."

"I know—I'm a fool."

"Hardly that, my angel. All the same, I'm glad you feel that way about me. It bolsters up my inferiority complex."

And now Nance had to laugh. Dick's inferiority complex was distinctly noticeable for its absence. If ever a young man thought well of himself, it was Dick Heritage. Nancy would not have had him otherwise.

She herself was always a little frightened—frightened of what the world might do to her and to Dick, if it found out. And most especially of what Dick might do to her. As she had told him, if ever she lost him she could not live. It was dreadful and perhaps quite wrong to care for another human being to that extent.

There was a great deal to do that morning.

Minnie, a good and simple minded creature, was devoted to Nancy, but she had her little peculiarities. Not that one needed to handle Minnie with gloves—far from it!—but one needed to understand her.

Nancy was on terms of real friendship with Minnie, but the latter did not as yet knew that Mrs. Edith Heritage was regarded in the light of a tartar by her daughter-in-law.

Nancy had bought new linen and blankets for the spare room and decorated it with flowers. There didn't seem to be a thing forgotten.

Dinner was planned with meticulous care.

"She must be a very grand lady," said Minnie, who was beginning to be impressed by all these details.

"Mrs. Heritage has always been used to the best of everything," Nancy replied.

"It seems to me we live very nicely as it is," Minnie ventured. "Homely, as you might say, but nothing lacking. I'm sorry I forgot the finger bowls last night; haven't always got a head on me."

"You do very well for us, Minnie. Indeed, so well that I've often wondered how we could have got on without you."

"A good mistress makes a good maid," said Minnie. "That's what my mother told me when first I went into service, and I've always remembered it. You've been very kind to me, ma'am, and we've pulled together something wonderful."

Indeed, compliments were flying.

Children Must Have Program of Beauty Care

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We have talked about the modern youngster's beauty advantages and how this training might be and should be incorporated into the daily program of the child's life. I would like to devote a couple of days to this subject of raising your girl child to be a beauty.

I'm not one, any more than you, for fussing and working over a child's appearance until she becomes a vain little minx, crying for constant praise. But I am one who believes that one can take some pretty raw material, by which I mean a youngster who, in other days, would have been called an ugly duckling, and make a perfect knockout of her when she is mature. And it can be done in much the same unselfconscious way as progress in school is made—I mean so that the youngster looks upon this physical and beauty training as she views her school lesson work or her lessons in etiquet, let's say. [Only, let's hope she is a bit more receptive in the suggested physical development than her table manners often insinuate, yes, parents?]

* * *

Except in cases of hopelessly straight hair, I'm not enthusiastic a bit about traipsing the youngsters off to beauty parlors for permanents. I know there'll be objections to that opinion. I'd far rather see parents take more of an interest in getting hair cuts—and there are plenty of smart and becoming ones for children—than in getting the hair ends fried up every so often.

I'd rather see parents implant the hair brushing idea in a youngster's head. It's a more wholesome attitude toward hair beauty and, in my opinion, will produce greater hair beauty for the child now and later. I've heard mothers say, regrettably, that giving the child a permanent saves a lot of bother. A little bother here would work out far better for the youngster's head.

* * *

The child's manicure outfit, consisting of a good nail brush and a small orangewood stick, should be there, and its use subscribed to just as religiously as the tooth and hair brush. The little duties of neat grooming could be implanted just as readily and just as firmly at this age as school lessons that have to be learned, clothes hung up, toys put away.

Mothers often will be more insistent about the latter duties faithfully performed than those that are going to matter equally much in the grown girl's effectiveness. And there's that matter of daily bathing, with the cold shower following, that not only contributes to greater skin and complexion beauty, but to resistance to colds and other ailments. This habit, instilled early, is bound to make a better looking young woman of that small child of today.

Children Soon See Through Parents' Bluff

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"NO, NO! Papa spank!" announced the little boy's father, as he failed for the third time to grasp the seat of the young runaway's overalls.

Did the threat deter the wilful young man? Not at all. He knew from experience that papa would not spank.

"Now you're all nice and clean, Mary Jane. Don't get yourself dirty—if you do, I won't take you to Grandma's!" But Mary Jane, being dressed much too far ahead of the time of departure, grows impatient, dabbles one hand in lovely mud, and finally is involved in a big piemaking project. The injunctions of her mother make slight impression—certainly not enough to deter her from doing what she wants to do.

She knows that, after a scolding, her mother will clean her up from the skin out and take her to Grandma's. Mother never carries out her threats.

Don't indulge in futile threats.

Don't make promises—good or bad—that you don't keep. Your children—no matter how little—will find you out.

You can't fool them many times. They quickly recognize futility—and soon learn that they can do exactly as they please, or can be what we call for convenience "disobedient," and get away with it.

Don't be a futile parent. Don't threaten to do a lot of things you know you won't do. By that I don't mean, especially, always fulfil your threat. What is better is to avoid threats entirely. But if rarely, you find it wise or necessary to say, "If you do this, I will have to do that," then do it—provided always that it is a right and kind thing to do. But of this last idea, "more anon," as the old writers say—which in this case means: more tomorrow.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

CONTROVERSIAL TOPICS.

I don't know about Wichita, but I do know that in New York and Asbury Park it is a rare day in June that an injured player does not declaim at the top of his lungs, "I'll leave it to any ten experts—any ten. You name them."

After some argument as to where the bidding started and the distribution of the various experts around the table, South [the injured party] announced the following bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 Di.	Pass	1 Sp.
2 Cl.	2 Ht.	Pass	2 Sp.
Pass	Pass	2 N.-T.	3 Sp.
Pass	Pass	Dbl.	Pass
Pass	Pass

South then explained to all and sundry that he had opened the ace of diamonds, that the dummy had gone down with this and that North held:

WEST.	NORTH.
♠ A	♠ K-8-7-6
♥ Q-J-10-9-4	♥ K-5-3
♦ K-Q-10-9-3	♦ J-8-7-5
♣ 9-7	♣ A-4

South shifted to the deuce of hearts. The nine spot is put on from the board. The question is whether North covers. If South plays the eight of hearts, does it make any difference in North's play?

The way South analyzed it—and a very fine analysis it was, too—North, who in the actual play of the hand ducked the trick, must realize that South will never lead into the teeth of that heart suit unless he has the ace. He will lead clubs. South was amazed that one tournament champ said he'd go up if the eight spot was led, duck if the deuce was played. Eight spot or deuce, South maintains that the North player must be consistent. The deuce play, which South prefers, gives North a count on the hand.

Let me interpolate the remark that I have given the actual bidding with a shudder. In my mind, it has nothing whatsoever to recommend it.

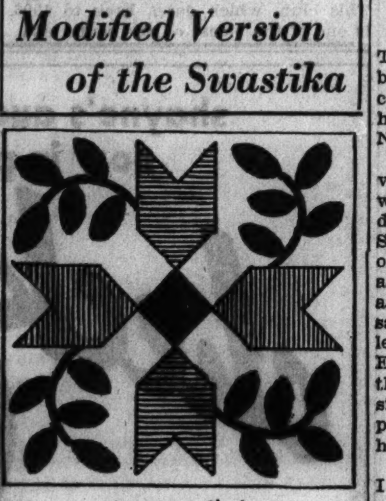
Quilt Pattern Is Modified Version of the Swastika



Arrowroot Block

BY NANCY CABOT.

With a sufficiently vivid imagination one can readily see a modified swastika in the lovely appliqued "Arrowroot Block." Rose, blue, and soft green make up one of the most delicately beautiful applique quilts one might desire. The simplicity of the patches allows the amateur quilter to undertake the job of appliqueing 20 blocks without the slightest misgiving. Joined together with 22 plain blocks, and arranged according to the suggestion offered in the quilt diagram accompanying the pattern, the coverlet should be a prize winner.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Chilled Pie Is Lovely Dessert in Summertime

Fluffy Delight Requires No Baking.

BY MARY MEADE.

Pie may not sound the most appetizing dessert in the world on a hot summer's day—not ordinary pie, anyway! But we know a pie, a luscious, fruity, fluffy, chilled pie, made with an ethereal, unbaked meringue and sliced fresh peaches, that transcends the usual heartiness of pie to the state of being a perfect summer sweet.

The crust, to begin with, is one of those delightful unbaked affairs. This time, instead of using crushed flake cereal, however, it's made with regular vanilla wafers. One and a third cup of the crums of such packaged wafers, plus 3 tablespoons of sifted confectioner's sugar, plus a fourth cup of melted butter—and there's the crust! That mixture is blended until it holds its shape, patted into the bottom and sides of a 9 inch pie pan, then chilled for an hour.

As for the filling, it's equally simple. You begin by whipping 3 egg whites until they're stiff and dry. Then gradually whip in 9 tablespoons of granulated sugar and continue the beating until the mixture is of marshmallow-like consistency.

Into the chilled wafer crust, to begin with, goes a cup of sweetened sliced fresh peaches [or other fresh fruit—berries are nice] carefully drained. Over this goes the whipped egg white and sugar mixture. Next pile on two more cups of the sliced, drained peaches.

As a topping for this luscious pie [its real name is peach luscious, honestly] you spread on a half pint of heavy cream which has been whipped until stiff. Decorate the top of the whipped cream with additional slices of peach, and that's all there is to it!

This pie should be chilled, not baked, for several hours before serving

Another lovely summer pie recipe has come to us from one of our readers. Its name is macaroon pie.

MACAROON PIE.

8 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 cup dates, cut fine
½ cup chopped nut meats
15 large square soda crackers
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon almond extract

Whip the egg whites until stiff, and fold in the sugar, dates, and finely chopped nut meats. Roll the crackers to form fine crums and blend with the baking powder. Butter a pie pan and flour it lightly. At the last minute, before popping the pan into the oven, fold the crums and flavoring into the egg white mixture. Bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes, or until delicately browned.

The Stage

The third play on the program of the North Shore Drama festival in Glencoe, "Noah," will have its première tomorrow night. This work is a fantastic re-telling of the familiar Bible story by André Obey, a modern French dramatist. Burgess Meredith, who acted with Katharine Cornell last season in "Flower of the Forest" and "Candida," will be the guest star of the production. The other principals will be Edith Atwater, J. W. Austin, Joan Kay, Brandt Gorman, Richard Spater, Brina Ravel, Margaret Arrow, and Harry Bellaver.

Lee Shubert, theatrical impresario, returned to New York recently after a European tour in search of new material for the American stage. In London he bought the rights to two successful plays, "Close Quarters" and "Love of Women," and a musical show called "Gay Deceivers."

Fifty-three new productions are now on the schedule for early fall staging in New York. The list includes fifteen musical shows of the sort that costs a small fortune for scenery, costumes, and rehersals.

brother, Henry G. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Miller's daughter, Miss Susan Miller, is going east Aug. 15 to attend a wedding in Marblehead Neck, Mass., where she will be a bridesmaid for her former roommate at Smith college, Miss Charlotte Cabot, who is being married Sept. 5. Joseph S. Miller will return shortly from northern Michigan where he has been a guest of the Ayres Boals on their boat, the Winnetka, III.

Miss Henrietta Boal passed through Chicago yesterday from Charlevoix on her way to Montana to visit at the Philip Wyatt Moore ranch. Mrs. Moore is on the ranch now, and Philip Jr. left yesterday to join her. His cousin, Philip Emory Moore, who makes his home with his aunt and uncle, will go west later when he takes his summer vacation.

Miss Susan Badgerow, the Harve G. Badgerows' younger daughter, will return Sunday from California, where she has been visiting Miss Allene Withers. Miss Badgerow will stay in town with her sister and brother-in-law, the junior Scott J. Dows. Mrs. Badgerow, who is summering in Minnesota, is spending this week in Spirit Lake, Ia., where her mother-in-law, Mrs. Adela Baderow, has a farm. Mrs. Dow and her elder son, Peter, will join his grandmother and great-grandmother at Spirit Lake on Thursday to stay a week.

William T. Aldens Lease Residence.

The William Tracy Aldens of Chicago have taken the Heyliger A. de Windts' home on Chestnut street in Winnetka for the remainder of the summer. The de Windts are spending a month in Nantucket, after which they will visit the James F. Porters of Winnetka in the Porter summer home in Maine. Around Sept. 15 Mr. and Mrs. de Windt will join their son and daughter-in-law, the Delano de Windts, in Great Barrington, Mass. The Delano de Windts' children are scattered this summer. Ruth is a councilor in a girls' camp in Virginia, where her younger sister, Ann, is learning outdoor crafts; Mandell is attending a boys' camp in New Hampshire and Mary is at home.

The Francis H. Hardy home has been rented to the Ernest Byfields until September, and the Benjamin H. Marshall family is occupying Mrs. Hermon B. Butler's handsome Winnetka home.

John Lockett, the Oswald Locketts' elder son, sailed recently for England to be away a month. He plans to motor through the British Isles. Mr. and Mrs. Preston A. Wells and Preston Jr. sailed yesterday for England and the continent, to be away until Sept. 12. Mrs. James Allen Turner's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederic Mather-Smith, sailed early this month to spend the summer abroad. They will return the end of September to visit the Turners for two weeks before going to their Oakland, Fla., home for the winter. Mrs. Turner's older sister and brother-in-law, the Richard Sutton Bulls, and their children, except Ellen, are on the Hot Foot ranch in Duncan, Wyo., and the former Anne Mather-Smith, the youngest of the Mather-Smith sisters, and her husband, Richard Fletcher Baldwin III., are making their home in Florida. Ellen Bull is in Europe.

Kingsley Coltons to Summer Home.

The Kingsley Coltons and their daughters, Josephine and Diana, who lived in Kenilworth before moving to 211 Church road, Winnetka, are leaving Thursday for their summer home, Spring Brook, near Hayward, Wis., for six weeks. Mrs. Colton's parents, the Robert Peacocks, who make their home at the Drake hotel, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Peacock III., will go to Hayward with the Coltons.

The north shore boys' tennis championship tournament, to be held at the Winnetka Tennis club all next week, is claiming the attention of the younger suburbanites. Capable aspirants for the championships are the 15 year old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. Charles Goodrich, A. Charles Jr., and Arthur Dole Goodrich. They are students at the North Shore Country Day school, and their interest in tennis is of long standing. L. Harry Waidner, who quite a few years ago was men's national doubles champion, is president of the tennis club, which this year is celebrating its 25th anniversary.

Miss Martha Jenkins is leaving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Jenkins of Hubbard Woods, for their summer home, Camp Witrgaki at Lac du Flambeau. When Miss Jenkins returns in September, she will announce the date of her wedding to Hamilton Noyes, the son of Mrs. May Wells Noyes of Winnetka.

Senator and Mrs. William H. Dieterich, their son, William, and Miss Virginia Robertson are enjoying a brief holiday at the Greenbrier at White Sulphur Springs.

Circus Guests to Be Selected Next Thursday

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Aug. 8 is sure to be a big day for 100 boys and girls in Chicagoland. Why? Because that's the day I'm going to take the children out to the lake front to see the new Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus.

Even if you've never seen a circus, I'm sure you've read and heard about just how much fun they can be. This one is being held in true circus fashion, in a great big tent, with things happening in several different rings at once. There are to be a number of those exciting aerial acts, tight rope walking, and your favorite feature—lots and lots of clowns. The boys will be especially excited about Col. Tim McCoy and his "rough riders." We'll see giraffes and lions and tigers, and seals who play "My Country 'Tis of Thee"; bareback riders—O, I could just use up this whole page telling you about the hundreds of interesting things to be seen.

I know it won't be hard for you youngsters to tell me what a good time you can have at the circus—but you must be sure to write to me if you want to come. I intend to invite 50 boys and 50 girls who I think will most enjoy the performance, and selection will be made from the letters written to me.

Our rules for entering the competition are few and simple.

1. Each child must write his or her own letter.
2. Letters must include your full name, address, and age.
3. Mail must be in my hands by next Thursday.

Of course I can't invite every boy or girl who writes to me, but I will have invitations for the writers of the best 100 letters.

The address is Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Needs Clothes to Leave.

An organization which is making an effort to return indigent aliens to their native countries has appealed to me for assistance in clothing a man who will leave the United States as soon as possible. He is 65 years old and has lived in a shelter for the last five years. His son will be able to care for him after he arrives, but is unable to supply clothing. His present apparel is in tatters and he needs a suit size 38 or 40 and a pair of shoes size 9. Miss A, is the caseworker who made the request.

"CHEAP" Coffee IS EXPENSIVE Coffee

There are coffees which are economical to use, and there are "cheap" coffees. There's a big difference between the two—the simple but important matter of quality.

Royal Jewel Coffee is economical coffee, because it is high quality coffee.

What seems to be a saving in the first cost—only a fraction of a cent a cup, when you figure it all out—is in reality a needless expense. To secure any real degree of coffee taste you have to use more of a "cheap" coffee than you do of Royal Jewel. You are paying for that unnecessary, extra amount. That's Point One.

Point Two is the fact that Royal Jewel Coffee gives you a uniform, rich flavor which you can't secure from any poor coffee, no matter how much of it you use. Since your only reason for using coffee is because you like the taste of coffee, there's no economy in paying for a flavor—and not getting it.

So any way you figure it, the best coffee is the most economical coffee. Use Royal Jewel and save money.

You'll never know how good Jewel Coffee is until you use it.

Jewel Coffee is roasted daily in quantities needed to fill orders actually received, and shipped as fast as it comes from the packaging machines. It is obtainable in Chicago, only in Jewel Food Stores. In 6,000 other communities throughout the United States it is regularly delivered by Jewel men direct to the homes of over a million customers—the Most Complete Coffee Service in America.

Having Chum as Rival Offers Complications

Game of Love Often May Sacrifice Friend.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She's crazy about this boy. So is her girl friend. The girl friend saw him first. He sees the latter more often than he sees Marge, we'll call her. But he tells Marge she's the one he likes best. Already the friendship between the girls is clouded by this Big Boy shadow. In fact, the other girl won't speak to Marge. Marge wants her to be friendly, but she wants the boy—too— and of such complication is the kingdom of youth infested. Not alone of youth, either. Older folks quite often find themselves at the crossroads of a long standing friendship about to be forsaken for an intercepting Romeo or Juliet.

It all would be sweet and lovely if one might have her cake and eat it. But human nature being what it turns out to be in these triangle affairs, you have to count on one loss, generally. You may win the man away from the girl friend, but you lose her friendship. Indeed, you run a pretty good chance of making a lifetime enemy of her. You deal a death blow to her pride from which it takes a long time to recover, if ever.

So, confronted with a situation of the sort, Marge, you have to make up your mind which friendship, the boy's or girl's, means most in your life. Normally, it would be the boy's and just as normally it is your pride and privilege to try to attach him to your side.

After all, these girl chum alliances are fleeting. Tomorrow she'll have her boy interest and leave you out of her plans. Which is as it should be. But a little reflection on the type of male over which you're confronting the changed friendship basis is advisable. Is he not, perchance, telling the other girl "she's the one he likes best?" Seeing her oftener would be a stronger expression of his taste, we would think. So long as a youth is not committed to a girl with a promise of marriage, he can get away from her easily enough if another girl's call is sufficiently compelling.

We would only suggest that you know your man for something other than a sweetheart collector before you cast off the friendship ties. If it is the real thing, however, with the youth and with you, there's no law known to us to prevent you doing your best to win your man over the dead friendship, if necessary.

Large Attendance as Arlington Track Nears End of Meet

With only four more programs before the finale at Arlington Park's annual racing meet, the Post and Paddock club yesterday was gay with promise of full attendance today and for the remaining sessions. Mrs. Walter F. McLallen III., in a linen gown the color of her rose-pink cheeks, with belt, shoes and hat as blue as her eyes, was one of the prettiest persons observed yesterday. Mrs. McLallen sat on the Post and Paddock veranda.

A young matron eschewing "garters and hose" was the blue-eyed, fair-skinned Mrs. Douglas Offutt, who was with Mrs. Calhoun Smith, also in blue but of a paler hue.

Perhaps the happiest woman on the whole track was Mrs. John Hertz, who saw her horse My Count win in the first race and by the nice margin of 13 to 1.

PREACH RELIGION, NOT ECONOMICS, CLERGY WARNED

Methodist Laymen Strike at Pulpit Politicians.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Representative Methodist laymen of the central west served a warning yesterday that pulpit politicians and clerical economists should get religion and preach it.

The laymen's meeting was held behind closed doors in the Union League club, and was presided over by Wilbur Helm, 120 South La Salle street. He described the gathering as "entirely unofficial" and as the forerunner of a widespread movement to keep the church from being tagged with economicisms and social nostrums of minorities.

Mr. Helm explained that Henry S. Henschen of Winnetka was prevented from presiding at the meeting because of the death of his son Robert in an airplane crash on Saturday. Mr. Henschen, however, was named chairman of the continuing committee of the Methodist laymen's movement.

Define Purpose of Church.

A consensus of yesterday's meeting was made public last night by Mr. Helm, who said the main purpose was to tell what the church's work is and to point out its relationship with economic and social systems. No attack, Mr. Helm said, would be made upon persons but, after careful study, only upon faulty or erroneous ideas. Yesterday's consensus was drawn by a committee headed by Arthur M. Hyde of Trenton, Mo., former secretary of agriculture.

Economic systems, such as capitalism, socialism, or communism, were described in the consensus as pieces of machinery, as mere tools of society in its attempt to equate social values. Therefore such tools, the argument went on, are no more interested in goodness or badness of persons or society generally than the family ax. Although the ax might be used on cherry trees or for other bad purposes it can still be a good ax, the laymen contended.

On the other hand, their consensus argued that the Methodist church, along with other denominations, was founded to make good men and women, who, in turn, as Christian citizens, will tend to make evolving social machinery perform its job well. Therefore, it concluded, "when the pulpit and religious press substitute economic and social systems for the Christian ideals of individual responsibility and freedom of choice, they are losing their fundamental objectives."

Theories vs. Christianity.

Although socialism or communism were not named, the laymen's group warned of adverse spiritual effects of "economic determinism which relates all human happiness to economic reward." Between that theory and "the philosophy of Christianity with its emphasis upon the personal relationship and responsibility of man to man and of man to God . . . there is essential and inevitable conflict."

The consensus concluded with the recommendation that the laymen's movement be encouraged "so that problems as they arise may be studied thoroughly and facts developed disseminated." The scope of future work, Mr. Helm declared, cannot be predicted, but he added that educational policies of the church, together with its institutions, such as schools, colleges, charities, and missions may fall within range of the movement's careful scrutiny.

Mr. Hyde's committee on opinions of the group included T. W. Appleby of Cincinnati, O.; Carl F. Keck of Milwaukee, Wis.; Charles F. Loucks, 120 South La Salle street, and E. M. Sims of Elkhart, Ind.

Council Stenographer's Wife Seeks Separation

Mrs. Josephine Bransfield, 1431 East 65th street, filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday in the Superior court against Lawrance J. Bransfield, head stenographer for the city council finance committee. The bill charged that Bransfield bets his $200 a month salary and any money he can borrow on horse races. Since Jan. 1 Bransfield has given his wife only $300 for household expenses, the bill said. The Bransfields were married in 1908. They separated yesterday.

Naval Station Resumes Training After 2 Years

The Great Lakes naval training station, which closed two years ago for lack of funds, reopened yesterday with the arrival of the first group of 14 recruits chosen under the new rigid standard of requirements. FOES OF CALLES CARRY ATTACKS TO HOME STATE

MEXICO CITY, July 29. — (AP) — Movements aimed against political allies to Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles Sr,. today gained force by public manifestations in the states of Nuevo Leon, Tabasco, Tamaulipas, and even Sonora, the "strong man's" home state.

Plutarco Elias Jr., son of the former president, was defeated, 10 to 1 yesterday, in his candidacy for the governorship of Nuevo Leon. Gen. Fortunato Zuazua won the poll.

In Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, several thousand persons paraded as a protest against the seating in the governorship of the newly elected candidate, Ramon Ramos, regarded as a political affiliate of Calles. Protest leaders said Ramos could not take oath under the constitution on the grounds that he was neither born in Sonora nor had he resided there for ten years.

Representatives of 57 labor organizations marched through the streets of Tampico, demanding that Dr. Rafael Villarreal, governor of Tamaulipas, resign from office.

MINE CHIEF JAILED AS SEQUEL TO MINE BLAST IN KENTUCKY

Paintsville, Ky., July 29.—[Special.] —John F. Daniel, chief of the state department of mines and minerals, was jailed here today on a warant charging him with failure to enforce safety regulations at the Consolidation Coal company's mine where nine miners lost their lives recently in an explosion.

Daniel was served with the warrant at Van Lear. He will be arraigned tomorrow before County Judge Burns Conley.

The warant, which followed action by a committee of miners to place the blame for the explosion upon the state chief, charged that he failed to order the coal company to furnish sufficient fire bosses to inspect the workings.

Lastra's political superior, Tomas Garrido Canabal, said he would remain in Tabasco, military headquarters at Villa Hermosa said they expected him to depart in a few days for Porto Rico to establish a permanent residence.

TWO ARRAIGNED AFTER PROTEST AGAINST FILM

Miss Lila Robins, 19 years old, 3228 Roosevelt road, who said she is a former student at the Lewis institute, and Jack Poland, a student at the Crane High school, both of whom were arrested Saturday night when they and about 25 others staged a demonstration protesting the showing of a Hearst Metrotone newsreel at the Gold theater, 3411 Roosevelt road, were arraigned on disorderly conduct charges yesterday before Judge Jonas in the Women's court. The charge against Miss Robins was continued to Sept. 4 and Judge Jonas transferred jurisdiction over Poland (aged 15) to the Boys' court.

The couple are members of the West Side Youths' committee and of the National Students' league, they testified.

"What was the purpose of your demonstration?" Judge Jonas asked them.

"To boycott the newsreel, which contains militaristic and Fascist propaganda which is fostered by William Randolph Hearst," the girl said. "We intend to stop his propaganda."

"Your clamoring at a tiny movie theater, with Mr. Hearst on his California ranch, seems like stalking an elephant with a popgun," Judge Jonas remarked.

"I am going to continue your case until Sept. 4," he then told the girl. "If you are not arrested again I will dismiss the charge."

Poland, outside the court, complained that "bugs chewed on me in the police cell."

Clerk Flynn Gets More Time on $250,000 Bond

Chief Justice Walter J. La Buy of the Circuit court yesterday continued until Aug. 12 his order requiring County Clerk Michael J. Flynn to increase his $100,000 surety bond to $250,000. The order was issued under an old but little used law giving the chief justice authority to examine every six months the adequacy of county officials' bonds. Yesterday's continuance was granted after the court was informed that technicalities were holding up the posting of additional bond.

NORTH WESTERN LINE TO RETIRE 73 ON THURSDAY

Seventy-three employés of the Chicago and North Western railway, who have served a total of 3,300 years, will be retired on Aug. 1. Four of the men have been with the North Western 53 years each.

One is Byron W. Woodring, traveling auditor working out of Chicago. He lives at 526 Rockton avenue, Rockford, and during his career has checked accounts at almost every station on the railroad.

The other three 53 year men are John R. Fallman, boilermaker at Escanaba, Mich.; Dana McNeil, passenger conductor at Pierre, S. D., and George C. Cahill, yardmaster, Ishpeming, Mich. On the retiring list are fifteen Illinois men and women, thirteen of whom are in the Chicago area.

SLAIN IN EVANSTON QUARREL.

Charles Griffin, 22 years old, colored, 1920 Foster street, Evanston, died in the Evanston hospital yesterday of stab wounds received early in the morning in a dice game quarrel. Hobson Ware, 24, colored, 1716 Payne street, Evanston, was held.

OPEN CAMPAIGN TO KEEP PARKS, BEACHES CLEAN

Picnic Parties Warned to Collect Rubbish.

A campaign to protect Chicago parks from picnickers who leave their lunch rubbish scattered on the grass was ordered yesterday by George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the park district.

"We want to drive home to everyone the importance of keeping Chicago's front yard free from unsightly litter," Donoghue said.

Collect 15 Tons of Rubbish.

Yesterday 300 park employés and relief workers worked a total of 2,400 man hours to collect the 15 tons of litter left by Saturday and Sunday picnickers in parks from Jackson park to Montrose beach, according to James Gallagher, superintendent of landscape maintenance.

Donoghue said the cleanup campaign will be started by informing all persons requesting permits for large picnics that the picnic litter must be collected and placed in receptacles before they leave the park. As a help in the campaign the park board expects to purchase 500 more litter receptacles.

The park superintendent said that two shifts of men are working all day, every day, to keep the park beaches clean. "The worst offenders on the beaches are the people who bring bottles of pop and beer, and leave the empty bottles in the sand when they go home," he said. "We don't permit park concessionaires to sell bottled pop because we don't want broken glass on the beaches. The number of bathers who cut their feet on broken bottles has increased this year."

WHO WOULDN'T COACH STARS? ASKS CROWLEY

Jimmy Calls 1934 Team Perfect.

[This is the first of two articles by Jimmy Crowley, football coach at Fordham, who was back field coach of the All-American team which played the Chicago Bears last August at Soldiers' field.]

BY JIMMY CROWLEY.
[POLL ON NEXT PAGE.]

What were my impressions of last year's All-Star game with the Chicago Bears? First and ever recurring thought was an admiration for the sport which produced a group of boys such as the lads who composed the 1934 All-American team.

There's a great amount written about football teaching courage, self-reliance, and sportsmanship. Much we always take for granted or mention only when we coaches are defending the game we teach. But it isn't bunk.

From the first day of practice until the successful conclusion of the battle with the Bears before 80,000 spectators at Soldiers' field, there was complete harmony in the ranks of the All-Stars. Not one of these players, each outstanding and nationally known, hesitated to follow instructions. As a group they were modest. They respected one another. Many college teams could learn from the spirit manifested by these boys. This team spirit and will to win helped probably more than did coaches.

Who Wouldn't Coach These?

Any coach in the world would give almost any price if he could walk on the field at his own university and find a back field composed of Herman Everhardus, Beattie Feathers, Joe Laws, Homer Griffith, Dave Cook, Nick Lukats, Mike Mikulak, Paul Pardonner, Mike Sebastian, George Sauer, Cliff Montgomery, and Fred Hecker. The immediate problem was to find opportunity for all of them to play.

At first I wondered if our weakness might be we had too many excellent players. But I didn't know then how easily these boys would work together. They wanted to whip the Bears and that old hackneyed slogan "all for one and one for all" fitted right into the picture.

It was pleasure to be associated with Noble Kizer in directing the offense. Nobe and I had a lot of fun ten years ago when we were minus the bulging aldermanic fronts that now are creeping up on us. And it seemed like old days at Notre Dame to have Nobe telling the linemen this and that while I had the backs working. And I'm not forgetting Dick Hanley, who had charge of the defensive strategies. I saw the swell job he turned out and the Bears found out about it, too.

They Didn't Need Many Plays.

Our répertoire of plays wasn't large. But the boys knew those plays. Fundamentals? Not much worry there. A tackle is a tackle and after you've tackled three years for Southern California, Alabama, or Columbia another half dozen tackles come easy. Especially with 80,000 watching. That crowd, which cheered the college boys, was an inspiration.

We didn't attempt to alter any player's individual technique. We spent time on individual assignments. If the full back blocked out the end, he understood that was his job. He was told where to block, whom to block, and it was his task to clean up.

Did you see Joe Laws spin through the center of the Bears' line in that first drive down field? If you did, you knew the linemen and the backs were mopping up. That's successful football.

The boys had a lot of fun as well as hard work and when the game was ended and we had fought our way to the dressing room, every one of us was sorry that it was over. We'd like to have started at the beginning and gone through it once more.

The second and final article by Jimmy Crowley will appear tomorrow.]

British Keep Davis Cup; U.S. Loses Doubles

WIMBLEDON, England, July 29.—(AP)—America's Davis cup tennis team went down to a crushing defeat today as England's new doubles combination of George Patrick Hughes and Raymond Tuckey vanquished the veteran pair of Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn in a stirring five-set match. The scores were 6-2, 1-6, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3.

With two singles triumphs scored Saturday the victory enabled Great Britain to clinch the big trophy for the third straight year no matter what happens in the concluding singles matches tomorrow between Fred J. Perry and Allison and H. W. [Bunny] Austin and red headed Don Budge.

Although the challengers had little hope of recapturing the elusive cup after their first setbacks, they confidently had expected to win the doubles and postpone the verdict until tomorrow.

Double Fault Ends Match.

The Americans were a dejected crew after Allison had served a double fault to end the match. The veteran Texan's costly error sent a strongly pro-British crowd yelling deliriously. Cushions and hats were thrown about wildly in a manner characteristic of the end of any American baseball world series.

The cohesion and subtlety Allison and Van Ryn once had was almost completely missing as Tuckey, a former Cambridge blue and a newcomer to cup competition, and the veteran Hughes volleyed and served their way to victory. Tuckey, a young artillery officer in his majesty's forces, justified his rapid elevation to an international status.

Tuckey Target of Americans.

Expecting that Tuckey's inexperience would cause him to crack under pressure, the Americans immediately made him the target for their shots. The result was profitless because Tuckey proved he could take it. He also displayed easily the strongest and steadiest service and frequently chalked up love games.

A footfault by Van Ryn at an unfortunate juncture in the fourth set contributed to the Americans' downfall, but there were none who would say the Britons' triumph wasn't deserved. Both were more consistent with their ground strokes than the Americans and equally deadly at the net.

Van Ryn Glares at Official.

The foot fault called on Van Ryn in eighth game of the fourth set came when the Britons were leading 4-3 and the game score was 40-30 against Van Ryn. He slammed a fine ace past Tuckey for what would have deuced the game, had not a foot fault been called. Van Ryn pulled up short after the decision was announced and glared angrily at the official. The judge said he called it because Van Ryn "jumped" and had both feet off the ground. The Britons seized the next chance for a winning point and led 5-3.

CHAMP IN 1930, ENTERPRISE IS SOLD FOR JUNK

Bristol, R. I., July 29.—(AP)—The path to glory traveled by a defender of the America's cup, most highly prized of all yachting trophies, can be an amazingly brief journey to the scrap heap.

This fact was vividly emphasized tonight when Carl Haffenreffer, general manager of the Herreshoff company, which built Enterprise, successful defender of 1930, confirmed her sale for $5,000 to Louis Lubchansky of New London, Conn., a junk dealer.

In 1930, when Enterprise turned back Shamrock V., last of the late Sir Thomas Lipton's green hulled challengers, she represented an investment estimated at between $400,000 and $500,000.

WALKER AND DAY TAKE LICKINGS IN NEW YORK RINGS

Roth Whips Chicagoan in Ten Rounds.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—A grizzled old veteran seeking reinstatement as a top flight fighter and a tough youngster clambering toward a title match were hurled into the abyss of defeat tonight in different sections of the city.

The veteran was Mickey Walker. The young title aspirant, Davey Day of Chicago, lightweight stablemate of Barney Ross.

Day was pummeled into defeat before 3,500 at Dykeman oval by Al Roth of New York, a rugged, charging little ruffian who carried a powerful punch in either hand. Their bout was the first of a series of elimination contests expected to provide an opponent for Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion. Day was the favorite in the series, having been expected to whip such casually regarded challengers as Lou Ambers, Frankie Klick, Cleto Locatelli, and Roth.

Roth Wins Six Rounds.

Roth did not succeed in flooring Day, but he buckled his knees with a right to the face in the sixth round and hammered Day about the head with right uppercuts and sharp left hooks in the remaining rounds to gain the unanimous decision. Ringside scorekeepers gave Roth six of the ten rounds and called one even.

Long past his peak and just a shell of his former self, Walker launched a comeback campaign at Dexter park. But the former holder of two world's championships found the pace too fast. Pitted against John Anderson, a comparatively unknown from Sweden, the Toy Bulldog, who in his prime was one of the greatest fighters of all time, lost a six round decision as some 6,000 persons looked sadly on.

They Pull for Mickey.

Practically every one in the arena was rooting for Walker, but as early as the second round it was apparent the former welterweight and middleweight champion was out of place in the ring. Slow afoot and a bit heavy about the waist, Walker made a brave stand against a younger and heavier foe, but to no avail.

Just before the end of the first round Anderson whipped a terrific left hook to the chin, sending Walker staggering against the ropes. Mickey never fully recovered from that blow.

Badly cut on both eyes and covered with blood, Walker staggered from the ring, stopping only to answer a query as to whether he would continue his comeback.

"Not if it's going to be like this," he said.

LETO WHIPS BASS.

Hartford, Conn., July 29.—(AP)—Jimmy Leto, Hartford, 142, outboxed Benny Bass, 147, of Philadelphia, tonight to win in 10 rounds from the former junior lightweight champion. Bass, who knocked out Leto in Philadelphia a year ago, was unable to do much damage to the Connecticut lightweight. Leto boxed cautiously and after he had jarred Bass with left hooks in the first three rounds the Philadelphia boy also became cautious.

As a result the battle was slow and displeased the 5,000 who saw the show. Ringside critics credited Leto with five rounds and Bass three.

LOUGHRAN BEATS SIMMS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29.—(AP)—Tommy Loughran, veteran Philadelphia heavyweight, won a ten round decision tonight from Eddie Simms of Cleveland. Simms put up a fight all the way but his youth and power were not enough to offset the boxing mastery of Loughran. Simms, who weighed 195 pounds to Loughran's 187, opened up a bad cut over Loughran's eye in the seventh round and came fast in the late rounds, winning the last two. An unofficial count gave Loughran six rounds and Simms four.

Joe Triner Is Named Soccer Vice President

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The twenty-second annual convention of the United States Football association adjourned today with the vital problem of whether the United States will be represented in the 1936 Olympic soccer games still unsettled. Joe Triner of Chicago was elected first vice president of the association.

Talking It Over

IF you happen to be a restless type of person who lies awake nights wondering how strong a fighting team they develop in New York and how good a team Chicago has, you are promised mental contentment within the next 36 hours. . . . The strongest and the bravest of Chicago's C. Y. O. are good enough for us. . . . It happens to be the lot of this department of THE TRIBUNE to conduct the biggest amateur boxing tournament in the world and this may be as good a place as any to make known that the boys from the C. The only two Chicagoans who survived the wear and tear of last year's Golden Gloves tournament, which attracted 9,500 entrants from 11 states, were Johnny Brown and Andy Scrivani from the C. Y. New York has had a bad year in amateur boxing. . . . Chicago won the annual intercity Golden Gloves contests, 11 to 5, and then along came England to bowl over Pop Knickerbocker's young warriors, 8 to 3. . . . England previously had been defeated, 6 to 2, by the Italian champions, who lost to Chicago, 5 to 3. . . . If this comment tends to instill overconfidence in the Chicago C. Y. O. team, Coach Paddy Kane can remind his fighters about the outcome of the Baer-Braddock bout. . . .

Cubs Rely on French Against Pirates Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The rampant Cubs and the aroused Pittsburgh Pirates will be at it in Pittsburgh this afternoon in their twelfth meeting of the season. It is expected that the fur will be flying, for the Pirates had won nine straight before the Cardinals ended their streak by winning the first game of a double header Sunday, while the Cubs will take the arena eager to extend their nine game winning streak.

The Cubs have won eight of the eleven games played between the two teams, suffering two of their losses at the hands of Red Lucas, who has won only four games in the National league all year. The Cubs feel Lucas can't keep up that sort of thing and they are not afraid of the other gents who do pitching for the Pittsburghers.

The Chicagoans go into the Pittsburgh series with their pennant bee buzzing louder than ever. Their morale is perfect and there isn't a cripple on the squad, not even a slightly sore arm or a threatening charleyhorse.

French Hurls Opener.

Larry French will pitch the opener. Larry has won 10 games this year, his spurts including a stretch of six straight before he got tangled in a relief assignment in a game on July 22 which the Dodgers won, 14 to 13, in eleven innings. To make amends for that setback he beat the Reds last Friday, 5 to 1, then came back Saturday as a reliever to win his tenth of the year. With ten won and six lost, Larry is away ahead of his record as a member of the Pirates last year. In 1934 the California lefty won 12 and lost 18.

After Thursday's game the Cubs will go to Cincinnati, where they will set a precedent by playing a scheduled August and a scheduled September series in one visit. They will do this by playing a double-header next Sunday and remaining over on next Monday, a scheduled off day, for a game which will be accompanied by some sort of picnic and fiesta being planned by the Cincy management.

Tough to Advance.

It is too much to hope that the Cubs will gain much ground on the leading Giants this week. The league leaders will be playing the Phillies in New York while the Cubs are in Pittsburgh and will be picking on the miserable Boston Braves while the Cubs are in Cincinnati.

The eastern teams, in fact, are not likely to do much to the Giants while the Pirates, Cards, and Cubs are taking whacks at each other between now and Aug. 14. On Aug. 14 the Cubs will open in Brooklyn and the Cards will open in New York. During these opening series of the western teams in the east there will be plenty of jockeying. The Cubs will be in New York on Aug. 22, 23, 24, and 25, while the Cards are fattening up in Brooklyn.

TRIPLE PLAY IN 9TH KEEPS DOWN CHICAGO SCORE

Victory Ends Good Road Trip.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—As an appropriate conclusion to their three weeks of travel, the White Sox, unmindful of tropical heat, made merry today with the Browns in the final of the series. The third place Chicagoans simply thumped the ball when it counted and brilliant pitching by Les Tietje did the rest. The score was 7 to 2, but, at least, the Browns derived some consolation for their futile effort. They managed to perpetrate a triple play, but it happened in the ninth when nothing was at stake.

The triumph was the Sox's third in the four game series here and the 11th since they left Chicago. Meanwhile eight of their battles were lost. This pace was just fast enough to keep them from losing ground in the pennant race. When they went east they were five games behind the then leading Yankees. They're returning home with a four and one-half game margin separating them from the Tigers, now at the top, and two games removed from the second place New Yorkers.

Tietje Is Stingy.

Tietje, who blanked the Browns here on July 4 on five hits, did even better this afternoon so far as hits were concerned. He conducted the nine inning performance on a yield of one single, one double, a home run by Sam West, and two passes. The double did no damage, but the single followed a free ticket in the fourth inning and this enabled the Browns to score their other run. Until this point they hadn't put a man on first base. It was Tietje's fifth victory of the year against six defeats, and incidentally the 12th game one of Manager Jim Dykes' starting pitchers has gone the route.

Tietje never had much to worry about in the matter of a lead. His pals presented him with a one run margin off Dick Coffman in the first inning and then settled everything for keeps by knocking their one time jinx to the discard with a four run blast in the fourth. Later on they picked up a couple more runs against Sugar Cain and they'd probably have had some more off Fay Thomas in the ninth if they hadn't decided no harm could come from experimenting with the dangerous squeeze play. It didn't work, hence the triple play.

Sox Celebrate in Big Way.

Lack of control on Coffman's part enabled the Sox to score their first run. After Radcliff had flied to left, Piet was nicked on the shirt by a wide pitch and went to second on Haas' infield out. Bonura walked, then Washington lined a double over short, Piet scoring and Bonura halting at third. Appling was complimented with an intentional pass, filling the bases. The full house collapsed when Hopkins popped a foul to Hemsley.

Coffman enjoyed himself immensely during the second and third innings, but just as the Sox stepped up to bat in the fourth a large six was hung on the scoreboard opposite Cleveland. There was an immediate celebration. Appling singled to right and went to third on Hopkins' single to left. Sewell handcuffed Lary with a single, Appling scoring. Hopkins was forced at third on Tietje's bunt and Tietje was forced at second by Radcliff, Hopkins and Sewell scoring. Haas doubled to left, sending Radcliff and Piet home. Cain was summoned and ended the disturbance after a scratch single by Bonura.

Browns Get One.

Burns drew a pass with one out in the home fourth, thus becoming the first Brownie to reach base. He went to second while Piet was throwing out Solters. Coleman singled to left for the first enemy hit, Burns scoring. Haas captured West's fly to close the inning. Burns got a double to left with one out in the fifth, but this was easily handled. Carey flied to Washington and Appling threw out Cain.

Cain bossed the job effectively until the seventh when the Sox crowded him with three singles and a pass. But only one run scored. Haas started the

C. Y. O. NAMES 16 BOXERS TO FACE NEW YORK SQUAD

Intercity Bouts to Be Held Tomorrow.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

New York's Catholic Boys' clubs and the Catholic Youth organization of Chicago, amateur boxing rivals tomorrow night at Wrigley field, yesterday each named the sixteen boys who will compete for the intercity championship. Thirty thousand — a conservative estimate—are expected to watch the competition between these groups, which are meeting for th first time in the history of amateur boxing.

Chicago's squad of sixty boxers arrived in Chicago last evening at 5:30 o'clock, and the boys are quartered at the Palmer house pending time to weigh in and submit to medical examinations. The New York team concluded preliminary workouts yesterday afternoon at the Midwest Athletic club in a series of spirited matches.

Here Is List of Bouts.

Following is the list of bouts tomorrow night. The secondary fighter in each of the eight weights is listed first and the champion's name is next.

CHICAGO.	NEW YORK.
112 POUNDS.
Johnny Noto	Jimmy Cleary
Sam Zaczak	Georgie Coyle
118 POUNDS.
Harry Sparrow	Jimmy Morrow
Johnny Brown	Patsy Erra
126 POUNDS.
Johnny Anderson	Willis Johnson
Andy Scrivani	Tony Pagano
135 POUNDS.
Eddie Garvey	Tony Rumore
Lorenzo Lovings	Frankie Haynes
147 POUNDS.
Chester Rutecki	Louis Tobasco
Frank McHugh	Johnny Clinton
160 POUNDS.
Ray Wozniak	Frank Murphy
Charles Wozniak	Bill Hart
175 POUNDS.
Chris Schuessler	Joseph Lemak
Ray McNally	Tony Colletti
HEAVYWEIGHT.
Tom Kenneally	Stanley Hasrato
Al Camber	Bill Gould

Four of these boys are Golden Gloves champions and two of them won in the eighth intercity Golden Gloves battles last March.

They're Real Battlers.

Georgie Coyle, Catholic Boys' club, defeated Patsy Urso, Chicago champion, and Andy Scrivani won from his New York rival. Johnny Clinton, New York's welterweight Golden Gloves title holder, did not complete at the Stadium, and Johnny Brown, Chicago's bantamweight champion, lost on a technical knockout when he failed to come out for the third round because of a deep cut above his eye.

Chicago's Golden Gloves team defeated New York, eleven bouts to five, and swept all matches after the lightweight division. One of these winners, Charles Wozniak, added a point to that Chicago triumph and tomorrow night he will face Bill Hart, New York.

Brothers Fight for C. Y. O.

Charles' thousands of Chicago friends are pulling for a smashing victory. Moreover, his brother, Ray Wozniak, who has fought in C. Y. O. competition in the light heavyweight division, has been able to reduce to 160 pounds. He will meet Frank Murphy, New York, in the first of the middleweight battles.

Lorenzo Lovings, one of the most skilful, and certainly one of the gamest of amateur boxers, is named as the lightweight champion to meet Frankie Haynes, New York. Lovings is the C. Y. O. champion and after losing a disputed decision in the Golden Gloves intercity matches, Lovings won an international championship in the fifth Golden Gloves tournament against Italy. Lovings is the only international champion on tomorrow night's card.

They Want to Beat New York.

The impending championship fights have created as much comment in the Randolph street sector as the professional battle next week between Joe Louis, 1934 Golden Gloves champion, and King Levinsky. The crowd which will attend has Chicago's inherent desire to whip New York. No New York boxing team ever has beaten a Chicago squad on its home grounds.

The Chicago boys, who have trained for two weeks under the supervision of Packy McFarland, last night pledged their efforts to whip the invading squad. Jack Britton, another of the all time greats of professional boxing, has been chief of staf for the Catholic Boys' team.

Referees for tomorrow night's bouts have been summoned from professional ranks. Greatest of these is Gene Tunney, who retired as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world in 1928. Tunney arrived yesterday morning and was guest of honor at a luncheon at noon at the Palmer house. James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion by virtue of his surprising victory this summer over Max Baer, will reach Chicago tomorrow in time to serve as referee. Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion; Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight champion, and Barney Ross, welterweight champion of the world, are others who will serve as referees tomorrow night.

Mayor La Guardia to Attend.

Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York will be among the notables attending the bouts.

Last night the rival teams were guests at a dinner at the Midwest A. C. They were addressed by Mayor Kelly, State's Attorney Tom Courtney, and Gov. Horner. After the brief festivities the members of the teams returned to their quarters.

Today there will be short periods of exercise, after which the boys will wait the call to the headquarters to weigh in and then proceed to Wrigley field.

MIKE, McKINNEY WIN MARIGOLD GARDEN FIGHTS

Petey Mike, Palm Beach, Fla., beat Patrick Henry, Chicago, and Thurston McKinney, Detroit, whipped Puggy Weinert, Chicago, in feature bouts at ten rounds at Marigold Gardens last night. Al Pahl, Minneapolis, Minn., scored a technical knockout over Nestor Bruggman of Chicago when Bruggman sustained a cut over his eye in the second round and was unable to continue. Sammy Julian stopped John Novak in two rounds.

C. Y. O. HOST TO NOTABLES AND RING FOES

Members of the invading New York team which will fight the C. Y. O. boxers at Wrigley field tomorrow night and civic and pugilistic notables were guests of the C. Y. O. at a banquet at the Midwest Athletic club last night. (Left to right): Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion; Bishop B. J. Sheil, and Mayor Edward J. Kelly were among the speakers. MY COUNT, probably much the best and taken to inside sharply on far turn, was timidly ridden as CONTINUITY came up on outside entering stretch, responded to punishment in final eighth and was up in closing strides. CONTINUITY made up ground in first quarter, took command easily when called upon, but tired badly after five-eighths. DUSKY PRINCE, well up from the start, held on well.

MODESTO took command with a rush, was under steady restraint on the turn and weakened after coming away approaching final eighth, but was not in serious danger. DOROTHY B. away fast and saving ground throughout, drew out gradually after three-eighths and was lightly ridden out. EP, also away well and having speed, could not threaten winner under strong urging after three-eighths, but held on well. PAIRBYPAIR saved ground much of the trip and came again mildly in late stages.

FOURTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

McGarvey. Went to post at 3:42½. At post 1 minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily; place driving.

SANGREAL, well in hand for three-eighths and raced wide throughout, came with a rush in final quarter and won with speed in reserve. HE DID, a strong factor from the start, held on with fine courage in an excellent performance. ROLLIN HOME, quick to begin and on inside throughout, was well rated, but gave way slightly in final eighth.

Winner trained by R. McGarvey. Went to post at 4:09½. At post 1 minute. Start bad from permanent stalls. Won driving; place same.

GALLACLAY, raced wide while following the pace under steady restraint the first three-quarters, took command gradually and held on well, but had little left. PANTOUFLE stumbled as she broke into ST. BERNARD at the start, appeared through approaching stretch, but came again with determination and fine speed when getting through on inside and outfinished ST. BERNARD in closing stride. Latter went to his knees at the start, had to be eased as he failed to get through between the leaders approaching far turn, came to outside in stretch and finished well.

Time, :23 2-5, :47, 1:12, 1:37. Two dollar mutuels paid: Malimou, $10.40 straight, $3.60 place, $3.20 show; Singing Heart, $3.40 place, $3.00 show; Good Politian, $6.20 show. Winner trained by C. T. Young. Went to post at 4:38. At post ½ minute. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

MALIMOU, much the best under strong restraint for three-quarters, disposed of SINGING HEART easily and had something in reserve. Latter tossed her head into the air at the start, was much used in first quarter, then made the pace under light restraint to stretch and, though failing to hold the winner, held on courageously. GOOD POLITIAN, slow to respond, came through between horses when bettering his position in stretch.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

IN CHANCERY, much the best and under strong restraint for five-eighths, was taken to extreme outside approaching stretch, took command quickly and was well in hand the final eighth. MERRY GO ROUND saved ground on the turn, but came out in stretch and closed boldly in a fine effort. BEHEMOTH, forced back on stretch turn and slow to recover, also closed strong.

PARA FOUR, given a poorly judged ride and sent to the lead with a rush on the second turn, tired badly, but managed to stall off OLD LADY. Latter, far back for three-quarters, improved her position gradually and stood a hard drive gamely. BATAILLE was under pressure after three-quarters and weakened in final eighth.

ST. BERNARD IS THIRD, BUT HOW THIS HORSE TRIED

Racing Luck Stops Choice —Gallaclay Wins.

BY FRENCH LANE.

St. Bernard didn't break the world's record at a mile at Arlington Park yesterday afternoon, nor did he win the Mohawk purse. He finished third, but it is doubtful if Pegasus could have done any better under similar circumstances.

Old Lady Luck stacked the cards against St. Bernard after perfect weather, track, and wind conditions had prevailed to help him perform a notable feat.

At the beginning Starter Dickerson made one of his few bad starts of the season. He sent the field away while C. V. Whitney's Pantoufle was wheeling toward the outside fence. She slammed into St. Bernard. Down to his knees went St. Bernard, but like a game fighter he was up in an instant and tore after the field. He was in the thick of the fight by the time the turn was reached.

There Just Wasn't Room.

Jocky Arcaro tried to drive him through on the inside, but he was blocked, not by a foul, but because there wasn't room enough for him to get through. Arcaro was to blame for that maneuver and was severely criticized by the crowd. Had he been successful, however, in crowding his way through he would have been a great hero with the hundreds who backed St. Bernard at the short odds of 3 to 5.

St. Bernard had to be taken up and then moved around the field. He wasn't equal to the occasion. He finished third with Gallaclay from Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Milky Way farms stable the winner by a length from Pantoufle, which beat St. Bernard by a nose for second money. The time was 1:36 1-5, slow indeed for the lightning fast Arlington running strip.

Gallaclay Pays $53.20.

St. Bernard enjoyed almost the unanimous backing of the crowd, so Gallaclay, a son of Sir Gallahad III.-Nancy Clay, paid $53.20 to win, $17.80 to place, and $3.80 to show. Pantoufle paid $16.80 to place and $3.40 to show. St. Bernard's show price was $2.20.

There was great activity during the afternoon among the candidates for the $60,000 Futurity to be run on Saturday. Hopes of the owners fluctuated like the market quotations on a wild trading day. When it was over two candidates for the 2 year old stake had qualified handsomely and others had performed just about as their owners had wanted them to run.

My Count Goes Over.

The first Futurity eligible to show possibilities was My Count from the barn of Mrs. John Hertz. This son of Reigh Count-Annie Gowdy, after running the gamest kind of a race, won the first race by coming from behind with the kind of a stretch drive that made his daddy famous.

Not highly regarded in the race, My Count paid $29.40 in the mutuel betting, but he ran like a promising youngster and no doubt will benefit as a result of the race. His margin of victory was a nose over Tom Worden's Continuity. Dusky Prince was third. Bulwark, another Futurity candidate was out of the money.

The next Futurity candidate to perform in a gallant manner was Sangreal, a speedster from Mrs. Ethel V. Mar's Milky Way farm stable. When he beat Mrs. Silas B. Mason's He Did and Dixiana farm's Rollin Home by a length and a half, he missed the track record by only two-fifths of a second. He ran the 5½ furlongs in 1:04 3-5.

Holds Strong Hand.

The brilliant showing of the son of Sir Gallahad III, Hayai, gives Mrs. Mars one of the strongest hands for the Futurity. Sangreal's running mates probably will be The Fighter, which already has demonstrated his class, and the fleet filly, Forever Yours, winner of the Arlington Lassie stakes.

Six Futurity Eligibles Will Get Test Today

Six of the outstanding candidates for the $60,000 Arlington Futurity to be run on Saturday are to go to the post in the Evanston purse this afternoon.

The overnight field includes Fred Burton's Deliberator, generally rated as the best juvenile developed at the winter tracks, the Phipps and Wheatley entry of White Cockade and Snark, both stake winners in New York, Grand Slam the Prairie State stakes winner at Washington Park and Valevictorian star of Mrs. S. B. Mason's stable and E. Widener's Dneiper.

Warren Wright sent all his horses with the exception of his futurity eligibles to Saratoga yesterday. Eddie Arcaro, contract rider for the stable, will remain at Arlington until the meeting ends on Saturday.

Azucar, the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap winner, whose campaign at Arlington was quite a flop was shipped to Saratoga yesterday. He suffered injury while getting ready for the Arlington handicap and may not be able to start at Saratoga. His trip there is in the nature of a health restorer.

Jocky Paul Keester was back in the saddle yesterday after a week's vacation during which he took off a few pounds of the weight that has put his riding career in jeopardy lately.

For practices detrimental to the best interests of racing, the stewards of the Arlington Park Jocky club recommended to the Illinois Racing commission that Isadore Shapiro of Chicago be ruled off the turf.

SARATOGA STAKE FOR JUVENILES WON BY RED RAIN

Comes from Last Place to Get Decision.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—A new juvenile star churned Saratoga's historic racing strip with flying heels before 10,000 this afternoon to take the 61st running of the Flash stakes in a manner to overshadow the performance of Mrs. W. Deering Howe's Only One in the American Legion handicap.

The colt was C. V. Whitney's Red Rain, a son of Pennant from Dustemall, which started last and finished first in the five and one-half furlong dash which grossed $4,700. Already he is being hailed as one of the best in the division and much of this praise seems merited.

Wins by Two Lengths.

Over a track that was rough and drying out, Red Rain made his debut against such as Delphinium and Postage Due, and ran in a manner to outclass them. He broke so slowly as to appear hopelessly in the ruck, yet came around the entire field of eight others to win easily by two lengths at 6 to 1.

Delphinium carried Mrs. Mabel Dodge Sloane's colors to second place, a head before the tardy charge of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Galsac. The race was run in 1:07 and was worth $3,400 to the owner of the winner. Red Rain carried only 110 pounds against top weight of 122 on Delphinium, but he turned in a performance such as few expected.

Only One Beats Vicar.

In the $4,100 American Legion, Only One scored by two lengths over Vicar, which gained the place by a head from Identify. After four public choices had lost, Only One brought some balm to the form players. He was a joint choice at 13 to 5 with Singing Wood, which brought up fifth.

This seven furlong dash was timed in 1:25 and added $3,250 to the earnings Only One has rolled up for his owner this year.

STUDENTS PUSH M'MILLIN VOTE; BLANKS ISSUED

Bloomington, Ind., July 29.—[Special.]—The campaign to elect Bo McMillin of Indiana as head coach of the College All-Stars, who meet the Chicago Bears Aug. 29 at Soldiers' field, was renewed today with the distribution of 125,000 McMillin for coach ballots by members of the Sphinx club, campus organization which is sponsoring the drive.

Robert A. Cook and Henry Snyder, students in charge of the drive, left here today on a tour of the central part of the state for the rest of the week in quest of votes for the Hoosier coach.

Word was received today that Indiana university alumni at Fort Wayne have organized a McMillin for Coach club with 100 members who are making a house to house canvass. J. Curtis Alcock, editor of the Danville Daily Messenger at Danville, Ky., McMillin's home town, wired that Danville was going 100 per cent for the Indiana coach.

From Commonwealth, Ky., came an unsolicited request for 2,000 ballots for McMillin.

NORDSTROM'S 71 LEADS IN PUBLIC LINKS GOLF MEET

Davenport Star Loses 2 Strokes by Mistake.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—(AP)—Lloyd Nordstrom of Davenport, Ia., shot a 71, one over par, to take a three stroke lead in the quest for the medal in the national public links golf tournament today.

Nordstrom, never before a qualifier in a public links tourney, might have broken par with a 69, too, if he had taken his time. Two under par, he whacked his tee shot on the 16th tee and from all appearances it fell into a pond. Without taking the trouble to find out, he hit another ball and was surprised and chagrined to discover that his first ball had landed on a playable lie. But the rules forbid a provisional ball at water hazards, so he took a two shot penalty for a seven on the hole, scored the next two in par, and posted his leading 71 without a mention of his mistake.

Seven Tie for Second.

Tied for second place with 74s were seven players from scattered sections of the nation—Claude Rippy, a Washington, D. C., clerk; Delbert Walker, Long Beach, Cal., and two Portland, Ore., stars, Louis Cyr and Tab Boyer; Fred Gudon, Santa Monica, Cal., and Mike Balega, Minneapolis. Peti Doll of Louisville was the seventh, sending Louisville ahead in the team fight with a 305 total.

Strung behind them were 191 more starters, whose scores ranged from 75 upward to the century mark. Dave Mitchell of Indianapolis, defending champion, needed 77 strokes.

A deadly putter carried Nordstrom to his triumph. Three times he scored birdies with putts of 25 feet over the lightning fast greens. He had five birdies on his card and lost to par on four holes, including the case of mistaken judgment on the 16th.

Three Putts First.

He opened his round by three putting the first green for a bogey five. After scoring an easy par four on the second, he reeled off two birdies, laying a dead niblick within 2 feet of the third pin and then sinking a 25 foot putt for a four on the long fourth.

He got par on the next two holes, ran down an 8 foot putt for a birdie four on the 553 yard seventh, parred the eighth, and then missed a short putt for a five on the ninth for an outgoing total of 35, one under par.

On the front nine he putted for birdies on every hole. A 25 foot putt for a birdie three on the 11th and straight pars, except on the 14th, where he got tangled up with a tree, sent him to the 16th, two under perfect figures when his calamitous seven overtook him. But despite it he got a back nine 36.

Greens Are Jinx.

Many had an opportunity to match or better Nordstrom's round, only to falter on the back stretch. Most of the 74 shooters tossed away their chances on the greens.

The Chicago contingent finished well down the list, Henry Foley leading his teammates with 41—40—81, Harold Mathison shot 42—40—82, and Johnny Banks, the Notre Dame star, put together rounds of 43 and 44 for an 87. Al Andereggen, the fourth Chicagoan, had 41—42—83.

The Gary, Ind., team finished as follows: Joe Adams, 43—41—84; John Mislan, 48—41—89; John Jewett, 41—37—78, and Mike Stefanchik, 39—37—76.

CHICAGOAN IS NAMED HEAD OF U. S. CHESS GROUP

Milwaukee, July 29.—(AP)—Kirk Holland of Chicago today was elected vice president of the American Chess Federation; A. E. Elo, Milwaukee, was named president, and Ernest Olfe, also of Milwaukee, secretary-treasurer.

In today's matches, Samuel Factor, Chicago, battled to a draw with Elo, Wisconsin state champion, in the seventh round of masters' play. J. Belson, Toronto, Ont., and A. C. Simonson, New York, also played to a draw.

Frederick Chevalier of Holliston, Mass., defeated Harold Morton, Boston, and increased his score to four points, a point and one-half behind Reuben Fine, New York, defending champion and tournament leader.

The 18 players in the masters' consolation and class a divisions were idle.

Frank Walsh, Helen Shane Win in Golf

The novelty of witnessing seasoned professionals shooting in actual competition with young girls as partners was enjoyed by a big throng at the Waveland course of Lincoln park yesterday. Eleven of the Chicago district's crack professionals turned out and, each with a girl, whose ages range from 13 to 18 years, played 18 holes for trophies donated by the commissioners of the park. Commissioner Harry O'Hare presented the prizes.

Frank Walsh and Helen Shane of Bryn Mawr were the winners with a score of 84—10—74. The low gross shooters of the afternoon were Horton Smith, Oak Park, and Josephine Souchek, Big Oaks, who had 39—40—79. Josephine's handicap of 3, however, gave them a 76, which tied Byron Harcke, Columbus, and Margaret Nordquist, Mid-City, who scored 91—15—76, the latter pair won the runnerup trophy in the draw.

Eddie, Ellamae Shoot 81.

Eddie Williams, River Forest, and his daughter, Ellamae, runnerup in the Women's Chicago District tournament at Oak Park last week, came in with 40—41—81 for second low gross. Ellamae's 2 handicap landed them down in a tie for third place with 79.

Many of the girls suffered from stage fright, being out in such fast company for the first time, but all came through in good style. The youngest to compete was little Miss Mercedes Robinson, 13 years old, of Flossmoor, who had Don Gardner for a partner. The 48 traps wrecked Miss Robinson's hopes, as she was in most of them on the two rounds.

Miss Shane Plays Real Golf.

Miss Shane was of real assistance to her big partner, Frank Walsh. At the sixth, she holed out a chip shot from 12 yards off the green, and at the next green put a 45 yard approach up to within 3 feet of the cup. These two shots practically insured first honors for the Big Bryn Mawr pro.

The scores:

Frank Walsh and Helen Shane, Bryn Mawr	84	10	74
Horton Smith, Oak Park, and Josephine Souchek, Big Oaks	79	3	76
Byron Harcke, Columbus Park; Margaret Nordquist, Mid City	91	15	76
Eddie Williams and Ellamae Williams, River Forest	81	2	79
Jack Daray, Mission Hills, and Louise Johnson, Mohawk	84	5	79
Harry Hampton and Frances Sayre, Beverly	91	11	80
Eddie Gayer and Elaine Sorensen, Twin Orchard	90	8	82
Matt Matteson and Eleanor Dudley, Ridge	86	3	83
Ben Smith, Oak Park, and Shirley Ann Johnson, Sunset Ridge	88	3	85
Elmer Biggs and Betty Mackemer, Peoria	88	3	85
Don Gardner and Mercedes Robinson, Flossmoor	103	17	86

JOLIET, ILL., FANS FAVOR BEARS, 4-1, OVER ALL-STARS

Joliet, Ill., July 29.—[Special.]—Joliet sports fans favor the Chicago Bears, four to one, in their game against the College All-Stars at Soldiers' field Aug. 29, a poll conducted here reveals.

The Bears will win because they are "more experienced" and "have better teamwork," and because they "are better organized and more mature," according to the fans. Bear partisans, however, ignored the fact that the professionals had the same advantages last year and were lucky to gain a scoreless tie.

Those picking the All-Stars give as their main reason the belief that the collegians are "younger and in better condition."

WAKE MAIL BOX.

DEAR WAKE: In 1866, when I was 12 years old, the Haymakers of Lansingburg, N. Y., came to Schenectady to play the Ancient Cities under a $500 guarantee.

There were two carloads of visiting roughs, pickpockets, strong-arm men, white and black. As the train neared Schenectady the Haymaker captain asked the conductor to stop at Warren street so the crowd would not have to walk so far to the ball park. The conductor refused, but as the train came to Warren street some one pulled the rope releasing the patent air brakes. It took two men four or five minutes to rewind each brake, so the crowd got off. The conductor asked who pulled the brake cord and a big hoodlum replied, "I did. What about it?" Nothing happened.

At the ball park there was one constable armed with a cane to keep order. In no time the visitors had his cane, star, and watch. He had no pocketbook. Later they returned his cane and star, but kept his watch.

The Mohawk river was about 600 feet from the home plate. A boy in a boat retrieved balls rolling into the river. The ball used was the Atlantic, a very lively ball, price $2.50.

The final score was: Haymakers, 107; Ancient Cities, 2. Haymakers made 47 runs in the fourth inning, with Steve King, their center fielder, getting three homers in this frame. He made nine in the game.

The Haymakers wore top boots in the field and ran bases in their stocking feet. There was no return game.

M'DIARMID LOSES OPENING MATCH AT SOUTHAMPTON

Southampton, N. Y., July 29.—(AP)—John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., had the doubtful distinction tonight of being the only favorite to lose as play opened in the annual invitational tennis tournament of the local Meadow club. Play had been postponed by rain earlier in the day, and it wasn't until almost nightfall that McDiarmid left the court, beaten by Henry Culley of Santa Barbara, Cal., 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

All the other seeded stars came through handily, they being Frank Parker of Spring Lake, N. J.; Gregory S. Mangin of Newark, and Byron Grant of Atlanta.

Chicago Avenue Police Beat Town Hall, 10-5

Levinsky and Louis Resume Drill Today

Joe Louis and King Levinsky will resume training today for their ten round heavyweight bout at Comiskey park Aug. 7 after a recess yesterday.

Levinsky, accompanied by Trainer Izzy Kline, came in from his camp at Round Lake yesterday in anticipation of attending a ball game at Wrigley field. Inasmuch as no game was scheduled, the Kingfish visited fight headquarters at the Morrison hotel and then was escorted to a loop movie house. He returned to Round Lake last night in time for bed at 9 o'clock.

Louis spent his day off by taking an automobile ride in the country and playing golf. Both fighters appear in superb physical condition.

Nevertheless, Levinsky's handlers will lengthen drills to six rounds of sparring this afternoon, two each with Roy Williams, Jim Roschal, and Jack Redmond. The same routine will be followed tomorrow, after which the tapering-off process will begin.

Dave Clark, Chicago Golden Gloves middleweight titleholder, will make his third professional appearance tonight in a ten round windup bout against Don Conn of Los Angeles at Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues. He defeated Tony Zale in his first bout at Comiskey park July 2 and beat Johnny Phagan in the other a few days ago at White City.

Conn, making his Chicago debut, has been fighting professionally in the south and on the Pacific coast since 1929. He says he has had 50 matches, most of which he won. Conn, who weighs 170 pounds, won from Al White at Los Angeles in May in his last battle. Supporting matches include:

Armand Sicilia vs. Sam Scoglio [5], 122.
Hugh Allen vs. Bill Reardon [4], 135.
Sailor Born vs. Phil Pernice [4], 138.
Frank Schultz vs. Wilmer Van [4], 134.

Promoter Fred Kohler yesterday announced preliminary bouts to the Ivan Rasputin and Turk Grimes wrestling match at Marigold Gardens tomorrow. They follow:

Lefty Pacer and Zack Malkov, Bobby Pearce and Joe Bauer, Jim Heffner and Charley Peterson, and Ernie Peterson and George Jonasen.

Thurston McKinney, Detroit, 150 pound boxer, who first interested Joe Louis in a ring career, yesterday was substituted for Ernie Kirchner against Puggy Weinert at Marigold Gardens when Dr. William Rothman refused to pass Kirchner because of a cut over his eye. . . . Felix Kolk, co-proprietor with Paul Poloski of Madison Square loop gymnasium, is recovering from an injury sustained the other day which necessitated taking seven stitches in his left leg. . . . Leo Rodak, South Chicago lightweight boxer; Eddie Sparrow, lightweight stablemate, and his brother, Mickey Rodak, will head for California today for an indefinite stay. . . . Roy Lazer, Paterson, N. J., heavyweight, who scored his third consecutive triumph when he knocked out Tom Patrick recently, has accepted a match in the east with Steve Dudas. . . . Suey Welch, Akron, O., manager of Gorilla Jones, former middleweight champion; Eddie Borden, New York, representative of Charlie Massare and Lew Feldman, and Johnny Indrisano, the old Boston boxer, now refereeing bouts in California, have been given parts in the fight picture titled "Is That So," being completed in Hollywood. SOUTH SIDE FANS BOOST SUTTLES IN COLORED POLL

South side baseball fans yesterday were rallying to the support of Mule Suttles, slugging outfielder of the Chicago American Giants, in an effort to pile up enough votes for him to win a place on the western team which will meet the best colored players of the east in the third annual All-Star game of the Negro National league at Comiskey park, Aug. 11. Suttles has been trailing Vic Harris of the Homestead Grays in the left field balloting.

The 235 pound American Giant slugger, who pounded out three of the west's seven hits in last year's All-Star game, also appeared in the inaugural of this intra-league series in 1933 when he hit the only home run ever made in the annual battles.

In the first two games he played first base, but this year he is an outfield candidate, as that is the position he has been playing for the American Giants.

During the first half of the Negro National league season, Suttles had a batting average of .387, hit eight homers and fielded consistently. This record, fans point out, should entitle him to appear in the All-Star series for the third time, despite the fact that Harris also is a great outfielder. Harris last year played left field for the eastern stars, who won 1 to 0, to even the east-west series.

Indians Rally to Win from Tigers, 6 to 5

Cleveland, O., July 29.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians pounded Alvin Crowder for six runs in the sixth inning to beat the Detroit Tigers, 6 to 5, for the first time in their last 12 games today. The defeat cut the Tigers' league leading margin to 2½ games over the idle Yankees.

Crowder held the Indians to three hits in five innings and the Tigers were leading 3 to 0 when the balloon suddenly went up in the sixth. Averill walked, Campbell singled, Trosky, Knickerbocker and Phillips doubled, Hudlin singled, and, with six runs in, the rally ended only when Vosmik was thrown out at the plate trying to stretch a triple into a home run.

Elden Auker replaced Crowder in the seventh, but the damage was done. The Tigers made a bid to tie things up in the ninth and did succeed in chasing Willis Hudlin. Hudlin, who yielded 14 hits, filled the bases with one out in the ninth as Jo Jo White and Mickey Cochrane singled and Hank Greenberg was purposely passed.

Thornton Lee relieved him, however, and fanned Goose Goslin on three pitched balls and forced Bill Rogell to pop up for the final out.

Tietje Holds Browns; Sox Triumph, 7-2

inning with a single to right. Bonura singled to the same spot, but Coleman fumbled, thus permitting Haas to go to third and Bonura to second. Washington grounded into Burns' hands and Appling was passed, loading the bases. Hopkins singled to left, Haas scoring. Then Sewell fouled to Burns and Tietje flied to West.

West Busts One.

Coleman lifted a foul to Sewell to open the seventh and a moment later West produced the third hit against Tietje. It was a homer into the seats in right center, making his ninth of the year. Hemsley fouled to Bonura and Clift walked, making the second pass issued by Tietje. Bonura picked up Carey's grounder for the third out.

The Sox annoyed Cain some more in the eighth, one scoring. Radcliff inaugurated the idea by walking and Piet's bunt shoved him to second. Haas also walked. Bonura clubbed a wicked liner to center and, like a lot of others he had turned loose in the previous games here, it went into West's hands. Washington singled to right and Radcliff scored. Appling was tossed out by Carey.

That Triple Play.

The setting for the triple play in the ninth was arranged by Hopkins, who singled for the third time. Sewell bounced one of Thomas' offerings high in front of the plate and beat the throw to first, Hopkins meanwhile sliding into third. Then Tietje was entrusted with the job of supplying the squeeze bunt. He bunted and the runners started, but Hemsley caught the ball which was popped foul and threw to Carey at first, doubling Sewell. Hopkins was within a few feet of the plate when the ball was caught, so he didn't have a chance to return to third before Carey's throw to Clift completed the three sided killing.

JANE II. TAKES SHERIDAN SHORE STAR CLASS RACE

Fred Porter and George Harvey, veteran yachtsmen, sailed their Star boat Jane II. to victory in the Sheridan Shore Yacht club's third contest of race week yesterday to win the Commodore Sam Gross trophy. A fleet of 28 Stars raced.

The 6 mile course was covered during a moderate northeast wind. Jane II.'s elapsed time was 1:49.56. Taking the lead just after the start, Porter and Harvey kept their boat ahead all the way. In second place was the Kales-Moon entry, Kamo, timed in 1:52:16. The first and second taken by these craft are their best thus far in the series. The Waage-Knight syndicate boat, Skipit, third in yesterday's race, still leads the series.

Fred E. Bloom's Peoria entrant, Maybe, was fourth. Hal Elliott and Sam Goss' Carol placed fifth.

White Sox Back Home; Will Meet Cleveland Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—The White Sox went back to Chicago tonight and will resume operations at home tomorrow in a single game with Cleveland's Indians. Vernon Kennedy will pitch the opener. So far he has won six games while losing three, his last beating taking place at Philadelphia last week even though he yielded only three hits. Oral Hildebrand probably will start for the Indians.

Manager Jim Dykes fears that he may have to rest for about a week. The leg injury that had been bothering him and finally forced him out of yesterday's first game has developed into a mild charley horse.

During Dykes' period of rest Hopkins will occupy third base as long as his work is satisfactory. If a change is necessary Tony Piet will be moved from second to third and Jack Hayes will be returned to the middle bag.

Umpire Red Ormsby, who had to quit work yesterday because of the heat, wasn't able to return this afternoon. Harry Geisel called 'em at the plate and Jocko Conlan of the Sox and Grover Hartley, coach of the Browns, assisted with decisions on the base lines.

Members of local Polish clubs yesterday presented Infielder Ollie Bejma with various presents and today the young South Bend, Ind., athlete was on his way to join the San Antonio Texas league club. Outfielder Bell went with him. The releases reduced the Browns' squad to 19 men, including Manager Hornsby.

McMILLEN BEATS KIRCHMEYER AT MILLS STADIUM

Jim McMillen last night avenged a previous defeat at the hands of Roland Kirchmeyer by tossing the latter with a flying tackle in a feature bout of the wrestling show at Mills stadium, presented under the auspices of James C. Mullen and Nate Lewis. The time was 32 minutes 55 seconds. Ray Richards defeated Sol Slagel in 24:05 when Slagel's foot became entangled in the ropes and Referee Tony Hadjich counted him out. Hans Bauer and Olaf Oleson drew, Dick Raines beat Don Koch, and Bobby Bruns and George Hanson drew in preliminary matches.

LUCAS YIELDS 4 HITS AS PIRATES BEAT CARDS, 3-2

L. Waner's Single Breaks Up Game in Seventh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—Red Lucas, stocky right hander, added to the discomfiture of the sliding St. Louis Cardinals today by holding the world champions to four hits as the Pittsburgh Pirates won, 3 to 2, for the third victory of the four game series.

Pepper Martin hit a home run in the fourth, and a two base error by Paul Waner on Bill Hallahan's fly in the sixth, followed by Burgess Whitehead's single, scored the Cards' runs.

The Pirates piled up 11 hits off Hallahan and Heusser, who relieved the former after Frank Frisch batted for the veteran in the seventh.

The Pirates went to work early on Hallahan, scoring two runs in the first on singles by Lloyd Waner, Paul Waner, and Arkie Vaughan, coupled with Young's long fly. Padden scored the deciding run in the seventh after forcing Gus Suhr, who opened the inning with a single. Lloyd Waner's hit drove Padden home after Jensen advanced the catcher with a single.

The Cards made a desperate effort to catch up with Lucas in the ninth, getting two men on base with two out. Jim Collins was safe on Young's fumble, and Bill De Lancey singled, but Virgil Davis, batting for Terry Moore, fouled to Suhr for the third out.

Minneapolis Plays All-Star Team Today

Minneapolis, Minn., July 29.—[Special.]—The Minneapolis Millers, leading team in the American association, and an aggregation of stars recruited from the seven other clubs of the organization, will meet here tomorrow in the second all-star game.

A crowd of more than 7,000 is expected to watch the contest. Donie Bush, manager of the Millers, and Allan Sothoron, manager of the Milwaukee Brewers, who will direct the all-stars, were undecided today as to their opening pitchers.

An injury to George Susce, Toledo catcher, necessitated the addition of Catcher Ray Thompson of Louisville to the all-star squad today. Vince Powers, an outfielder, also is ailing, and Sothoron is expected to select another outfielder for his team.

T. J. Hickey, president of the American association, who arrived today to handle preliminary details of the contest, said that managers of association teams had consented to withhold their star pitchers from today's games. The pitchers in question are Monte Startton, St. Paul; Roxie Lawson, Toledo, and Garland Braxton, Milwaukee, all of whom are scheduled to see action tomorrow.

MEMPHIS MEETS COALS.

The Memphis Red Sox, champion of the Dixie Negro league, now on tour of the north, will appear at Spencer Coal field Thursday night to meet the Coals in a twilight game.

PROFIT TAKING CAUSES WHEAT PRICE DECLINE

Jury Corn Sustains Loss of Almost 2 Cents.

Wheat encountered a mild reaction yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. The upturn of nearly 7 cents a bushel that took place at the close of last week invited profit taking sales from speculators who had ridden up with the market.

This liquidation, coupled with hedging sales accompanying the movement of the winter crop, brought a decline of ⅝ cent a bushel in September wheat, the principal future, and losses of about a cent a bushel in other contracts. Weakness also developed in the corn market. The July future, which expires tomorrow, dropped nearly 2 cents a bushel.

News Is Favorable.

The character of the crop news out of the spring wheat belt was uniformly unfavorable. Messages from competent observers in the region were for the most part a reiteration of the news that caused last week's violent upturn in values. In the rust infected section only wheat has been affected, but in Montana drouth has had disastrous effects on all crops.

Although showing moments of strength, the wheat market was lower throughout the session. The failure of the Liverpool market to follow Saturday's 3 cents advance here served to temper bullish sentiment.

September Closing Prices.

Closing prices on the September futures, with comparative quotations, were:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$ .92⅝	$ .93	$ .85⅝
Corn	.76⅞	.78	.75
Oats	.33¼	.33¼	.45⅛
Rye	.47	.47½	.45⅛

More than usual interest centers in the private crop estimates which will be made in the next few days. The government forecast, based on Aug. 1 conditions, will not be released until Aug. 10. Few attempts have been made to appraise the damage that has taken place in the last three weeks in terms of actual production. Nat C. Murray, one of the leading private crop experts, last week ventured the opinion that the Aug. 1 prospects would not exceed 200 million bushels. This is now regarded as the maximum and most observers believe that the final tally will show production well under that figure.

Make Varying Estimates.

The size of the winter wheat crop is still a matter of widely varying estimates. The government's figure of 458 million bushels is generally regarded as too high. It is pointed out that the harvesting returns that have come in since the government made its estimate have run well below expectations.

Threshing returns in Illinois and Indiana failed to measure up to expectations. Kansas returns likewise proved disappointing. Ohio seems to have fared better than any of the winter wheat states. The harvest there has been bountiful.

Threat to U. S. Steel Trade Seen in PWA Foreign Policy

New York, July 29.—(AP)—Charles R. Hook, president of the American Rolling Mill company, said today the ruling of the PWA in respect to price differentials on domestic and foreign products "will take considerable business away from the American steel industry." The ruling, he said, required borrowers of funds for public works projects to purchase their products in foreign countries if the value of the order is $10,000 or more and the price is 15 per cent less.

He asserted that foreign producers can make steel at a much lower cost because of "lower wages and lower standards of living," and added that "it is impossible to understand why the administration would appropriate huge sums of money to provide employment through public works and then spend part of it in foreign countries."

Charges of Grace Similar.

Last week Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, leveled similar charges against the PWA order. He said rigid application of the order would work to the disadvantage of steel workers in this country.

It was his contention that steel could be made abroad and shipped to this country at 15 per cent and more below the domestic price. Lower wages enable European producers to do this, he said, adding that he looked upon Germany as the keenest competitor of the American steel industry.

Meanwhile, another increase in steel operations for the week beginning today was indicated by the American Iron and Steel institute. Steel ingot production for the current week was estimated at 44 per cent of capacity, a gain of 1.8 per cent point over the institute's calculated schedule for last week. The current indicated rate compares with 32.8 per cent a month ago and 26.1 per cent in the corresponding week of 1934. The rate of operations has shown a steady upturn since the Independence day week.

Expect Quiet Meeting.

The quarterly meeting of directors of the United States Steel corporation after the stock market closes tomorrow will, as usual, absorb Wall street's attention. Unless the corporation decides to issue in addition to the quarterly earnings statement and the announcement on the preferred dividend rate a supplementary statement on the outlook for the steel industry, it is not likely that the meeting will produce anything out of the ordinary.

Continuation of preferred dividend at the 50 cent quarterly basis is confidently expected. If the current rise in operations continues for a few months, however, it will be time to consider increasing the rate, and perhaps paying off some of the arrears on the issue. Many feel the steel industry, traditionally prince or pauper, is beginning to reënter the "prince phase" of the business cycle.

APPROVE GOODRICH PLAN BY NARROW VOTE; MAY CONTEST COUNT

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—At the reconvened meeting today of stockholders of the B. F. Goodrich company, held to act on the company's $45,000,000 refinancing plan, approval was given by a margin so narrow as to suggest the possibility of contest of the count.

The vote in favor of the proposal was 75 3-10 per cent of the common stock and 76 1-10 per cent of the preferred stock. A three-fourths vote of all outstanding stock was required to ratify the plan.

C. E. Bodurtha, an attorney representing Otis & Co., brokers, who opposed the management plan and solicited proxies to be voted in opposition, said it had not been decided whether legal measures to enjoin carrying out the plan would be taken. He formally renewed the protest of his clients and estimated that he had challenged 2,500 proxies representing about 100,000 shares of stock. He said that while a majority of the challenged votes might not be sustained, only 2,800 shares of common would have been necessary to defeat the proposal.

STEEL SHARES FEATURE RISE IN CHICAGO STOCKS

Prices bounded ahead again yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange as steel shares led the way in a bullish market. Twenty new high marks for the year were recorded and a dozen issues equalled their best previous quotations. Only one-fourth of the issues traded in lost ground. Volume totaled 45,000 shares.

Mickelberry featured the session after attracting almost no trading in weeks. On a turnover of 2,900 shares, occasioned by reports that the company showed its first profit in two years during the first six months of 1935, the price advanced from 1 to 1⅝ to equal this year's previous top.

Continental was the bellwether of the steel flock. The common rose 2½ to a new high of 19 as 2,750 shares changed hands. The preferred shot up 10 to 103.

The most active issue of the day was Crane common which hit a new high of 16¾ but slipped to 16 with 2,950 shares changing hands.

Other gains ranged up to 5 points, with Peoples Gas catching up with its New York market. It had been inactive here for several days. Sangamo Electric hopped up 2 points for a new top and Lincoln Printing preferred staged a 5 point rally for a new high. The common also closed in new ground.

Borg-Warner, still fresh from its highly encouraging six month statement, ran up 2¾ to a 1935 mark of 48 to be an easy leader of the motor accessory group.

GROUP UPHOLDS PRESENT ROCK ISLAND OFFICERS

Carter H. Harrison Jr., chairman of the protective committee for the preferred stock of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company, yesterday said his group is opposed to reported plans to force a change in the operating management of the road. President James E. Gorman, who is one of the three trustees, would remain with the company, but cease to be an active executive officer, according to the plan reported to be backed by representatives of several insurance companies and savings banks now on other Rock Island committees.

NEW YORK BANK DEPOSITS GAIN; DIP ELSEWHERE

Shift to East Is Made for Refunding Uses.

A flow of funds from federal reserve member banks throughout the country into New York was disclosed in weekly banking statistics issued last night covering operations of institutions in 91 cities of the country for the week ended July 24. New York banks were the only ones to show gains in deposits, the piling up of funds in the eastern city apparently representing centralization of money to care for corporate refunding operations.

Gross deposits of New York banks rose 77 million dollars for the period, while Chicago banks reported a drop of 18 millions and the 89 cities a decrease of 142 millions. The net decline for the system was 83 millions.

Individual Deposits Decline.

Individual deposits fell 26 millions through losses of 110 millions in the interior, 14 millions in Chicago. This was partially offset by a gain of 98 millions in New York. Interbank deposits declined 57 millions, slipping 20 millions in New York, 4 in Chicago and 33 elsewhere.

The banks contracted loans and investments 44 millions, with advances to brokers suffering the heaviest cut—a drop of 30 millions. Other collateralized loans declined 7 millions, business advances dropped 27 millions, holding of government bonds increased 33 millions and holdings of other than government securities decreased 18 millions.

LARD AND BELLIES ADVANCE TO SEASON'S HIGH LEVELS

Lard futures forged ahead yesterday into new ground for the season on all deliveries, the finish being at net gains of 12½ to 22½ cents. Production of lard remains light due to the limited receipts of hogs, and stocks are steadily decreasing. The trade is looking for local stocks to show a reduction of between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 pounds during the current month, in the statement which will be issued after the close on Thursday. Liverpool lard closed 9 pence to 1 shilling per 112 pounds higher. Bellies advanced 5 to 15 cents and were also at a new high for the season. Cash lard closed at $15.17; loose, $14.95; leaf, $15.12, and bellies at $18.45 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds follow:

SUGAR

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was steady today with spots unchanged at 3.20c per lb in the absence of further sales. Forward shipments held at a 5 point premium on a sale of 18,000 bags August-September shipment Philippines to an operator at 3.25c. Light offers were being held 5 points above last sales levels, but refiners were inactive.

Futures advanced 2 to 3 points on Cuban and commission house buying promoted by the steady tone of raws, but trading interest centered principally in liquidation of September against purchases of later positions. Approximately half of the day's business represented exchanges. The close showed net gains of 1 to 2 points on No. 3 contracts and 2 to 3 points on the No. 1. Sales, 15,900 tons in the No. 3 and 50 tons in the No. 1.

LAWYERS CLASH AT INVESTIGATION OF EDISON RATES

Columbia Professor Hits Cost System.

Sharp clashes punctuated the Commonwealth Edison rate reduction hearing before Commissioner Charles E. Byrne yesterday, when James C. Bonbright, Columbia university professor and an authority on problems of public utility valuation, took the stand for the commission.

Guy Peters and Harry J. Dunbaugh, Edison attorneys, frequently objected to Prof. Bonbright's testimony, and at one point Harry R. Booth, assistant counsel for the commisson, charged Attorney Peters with "sneering" at the witness.

In another instance Peters observed that there were 5,000 economists in the country, after Prof. Bonbright referred to a consensus of opinion among economists as relating to valuation bases. Attorney Booth retorted that the Edison company only had three law firms as counsel in the rate case, and that it had not quite utilized all experts obtainable as its witnesses to uphold existing rates.

Favors Original Cost Method.

Prof. Bonbright, whose testimony in the main was in favor of the principle that the original cost, or prudent investment, method was the soundest basis of determining the value of utility properties, is vice chairman of the New York power authority.

Prof. Bonbright condemned the reproduction cost basis of valuing utility properties as being detrimental to both the rate payers and investors. He asserted that the major sources of financial chicaneries, which were associated with holding companies, arose from the opportunities for speculative profits for which the replacement cost basis was responsible. He said he knew of no instance where consumers had obtained the benefit of the reproduction cost basis during a depression.

Gives Four Reasons.

He gave four reasons in support of his opinion that the original cost basis should be the foundation of a rate structure, namely [1] less expense and delay in the fixing of rates; [2] reduction of errors in the fixing of a valuation; [3] improved investment structure as distinct from a speculative one; [4] and a coördination of allowances for operating expenses more readily than on the basis of reproduction cost.

Another witness for the commission was William A. Dittmer, a utility expert, who offered testimony and exhibits to attempt to show that the Edison company has been earning a return as high as 9 per cent on its investment for the last fifteen years. Exhibits offered by Arthur Andersen & Co., an accounting firm employed by the utility, endeavored to show only a 7 per cent return for the same period.

Charges Figures Erred.

Other exhibits introduced by Dittmer, who is an expert for the commission, tended to show that the Edison company in presenting its case had adjusted its book figures of operations on the ground that the figures were in error, although they had been included in annual statements sworn to as to their accuracy. These changes, it was asserted, showed that despite the fact the company did as much business in 1933 as it did in 1927, its cost of operating went up. For example, general office and administrative expenses in 1933 were 53 per cent above those in 1927.

Attorney Dunbaugh charged that some of the figures and exhibits offered by Dittmer were misleading. Attorney Booth retorted that he had found many exhibits which had been introduced by the utility likewise misleading.

FAVORABLE CROP REPORTS CAUSE DECLINE IN COTTON

Cotton markets showed a heavy undertone yesterday and while trade was light the support was not aggressive. Closing trades were at net losses of 3 to 12 points in Chicago and 6 to 14 points in other markets. Favorable crop reports were the dominating influence, with some selling credited to hedging pressure.

Consumption of American cotton for the crop year ending July 31 is estimated by the New York Cotton exchange service at 11,314,000 bales, compared with 13,680,000 bales the preceding year, and 14,405,000 bales two seasons ago. The carryover is placed at 9,007,000 bales, against 10,745,000 bales a year ago and 13,228,000 bales two years ago. Spot cotton closed 10 points lower with New Orleans, 11.95 cents; Galveston, 11.85 cents; Houston, 11.75 cents, and New York, 12.05 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound follow:

Consolidated Gas, New York Reports Decline in Profits

Consolidated Gas Company of New York and subsidiaries yesterday reported net income of $34,818,603 for the twelve months ended June 30, after all deductions except minority interests, equivalent to $2.10 a share earned on 11,476,527 no par common shares, compared with $40,354,090, or $2.57 a common share, for the preceding year. For the June quarter net was $8,186,873, or 48 cents a share on common, against $7,480,014, or 41 cents a share, in the 1934 period. For the first half of 1935 net was $22,013,211, or $1.45 a share on common, against $22,904,186, or $1.52 a year ago.

Floyd L. Carlisle, chairman, said that while successful efforts to effect operating economies had overcome the large increase in taxes and additional provisions for retirements, the effect of rate reductions made by the Westchester Lighting company and the new electric rate reductions in New York City, which are expected to be in effect within a few days, will result in lower net revenues unless they can be overcome by greater sales of both gas and electricity.

Reo Earnings Improve.

Reo Motor Car company reported a net profit of $31,544 for the second quarter of this year, equivalent to 1 cent a share on capital stock, compared with a loss of $234,063 in the June quarter last year. This brought the total for the first half year to $42,156, compared with a net loss of $506,944 in the corresponding period of 1934.

The Lockheed Aircraft corporation announced a net profit of $152,935 before federal taxes for the six months ended June 30. Previously the company only issued annual statements, so no comparable figures are available. In the year ended Dec. 31, 1934, net loss was $190,891 before federal taxes.

Net sales for the six months amounted to $1,065,871. Current assets on June 30 totaled $488,316, including cash of $217,533, against current liabilities of $212,072. This compares with current assets of $330,189 and current liabilities of $268,864 Dec. 31, 1934.

Hershey Chocolate Net Higher.

Hershey Chocolate company and affiliated corporations reported net profit of $915,566 after all charges for the June quarter, equal after dividends on the $4 convertible preference stock to 94 cents a share on 701,749 shares of common stock outstanding. This compares with a net income of $832,762 or 82 cents a share on common a year ago.

This brought total earnings for the first half of the year to $2,422,125, equal after preference dividends to $2.27 a share on common, compared with a net income of $2,493,250 or $2.46 a share in the first six months of 1934.

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube company reported net profit of $124,758 for the second quarter of 1935, compared with a loss of $595,770 in the first quarter of the year. Officials said second quarter figures reflect the substantial rise in sales of the company during the period.

MAY CONTINUE PARLEY HERE ON NEW PLAN FOR NORTHWESTERN

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Conferences between an informal committee of bondholders of the Chicago and North Western Railway and executives of the company may be continued in Chicago this week in an effort to speed reorganization plans.

Frederick H. Ecker, treasurer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, at whose offices preliminary conferences have been held, declined today to discuss plans of the group. He pointed out that no committee had been organized.

Under court order issued Saturday, April 1, 1936, has been set as the deadline for completing a readjustment of bond interest. Federal Judge John P. Barnes in Chicago directed the company, creditors, and stockholders to propose a plan, in order that it may be accepted and confirmed within eight months. Claims must be filed by Nov. 1, 1935. The company has been authorized to continue to meet equipment trust obligations.

ORDER PAYMENT FOR INVESTORS IN PORTER FIRMS

Referee Approves 12½% Liquidating Return.

Payment of a 12½ per cent liquidating payment to investors who intrusted their funds to Waterman William Porter's enterprises—the Wall Street Securities corporation and the Tri-State Investors corporation—was authorized yesterday by Referee in Bankruptcy Archie Cohen.

Porter is still missing. Obligations of the two firms amount to about $1,700,000, of which all but $200,000 is owed by the Wall street firm. Best estimates place the value of assets at $600,000 in cash and securities in the larger company, and $75,000 cash and securities and $50,000 real estate in the Tri-State company.

Fee Squabbles Enliven Hearing.

Fee squabbles and discussion of Porter's present whereabouts punctuated the hearing. First to come under surveillance in the matter of fees were Ralph R. Hubbart, originally receiver and now trustee in bankruptcy, and Ralph Hawxhurst, his attorney in both capacities. They have received some $17,000 on account, court records indicate, and filed a request for additional fees yesterday for an undisclosed amount understood to be upward of $25,000.

The receiver and trustee and their attorneys each obtain fees based on the amount of assets turned over to them. In this case the parties are the same, leading to a charge of "double" fees. It was Cohen himself who raised the question. He took the fee request under advisement.

Questions Double Charge.

"There is grave doubt in my mind as to the propriety of such double fees," Cohen said. Attorney Werner W. Schroeder, representing a sizable group of creditors in Porter's two companies, said the receiver's fees amount to $900 a week and his attorney's fees to $1,150 a week. He asked why this is true.

When Harold J. Green and David Riskind submitted fees for $10,000 for their work as counsel for Porter and the two companies, Cohen said he was "getting fed up" on failure to produce Porter to furnish information on his defunct companies.

PWA ACQUIRES HOUSING SITE ON WEST SIDE

305 Families Will Be Sheltered.

BY AL CHASE.

Purchase of 6½ acres on the west side, on which homes for 305 families are to be built by the government at a cost of $1,335,000, was announced yesterday by Public Works Administrator Ickes. The housing improvement will be known as the Jane Addams Houses. The site is in the center of the original 160 acres on which the housing division of the PWA at one time contemplated erecting apartments for 3,000 families and for which $12,500,000 was allocated at Washington.

The site, comprising approximately two city blocks in area, was purchased outright for $100,640 cash from the Jewish People's institute. Overlooking Vernon park, it is bounded on the north by Gilpin place, on the east by Lytle street, on the south by Taylor, and on the west by Sibley street. The property is vacant except for the ruins of the institute's gymnasium, which are to be razed.

Disappointed by Failure.

Just prior to her death Jane Addams expressed her disappointment over the announcement of several months ago by Ickes that all plans for the $12,500,000 west side project had been temporarily shelved and if carried out at all would be on an extremely limited scale. She urged that the government go ahead even on a small project with the hope that it would be the nucleus of future expansion. It was because of her interest that her name is to be used.

The Jane Addams houses will be made up of two types of structures: three story walkup apartments containing three and four room units, and two story row houses and flats containing four and five rooms each. The project will have 1,068 rooms divided into 183 three room units, 91 four room units, and 81 five room suites. The actual buildings will cover about 30 per cent of the site purchased. All will be of fireproof construction.

Raps Land Profiteers.

Although it was made public some time ago that the prices being offered landowners in the west side area for their homes were often ridiculously low, Ickes yesterday reiterated a warning he has made several times that the government "will not allow itself to be gouged by land profiteers in any extension of the project. We will not begin this development until we are assured of the acquisition of contingent property at a fair price."

According to local federal housing officials any additional land contiguous to the Jane Addams Houses will be secured through cash purchase and not by condemnation. Since the Cincinnati court ruling that the federal government has no right to condemn private property for housing and following the recent demurrer filed by Attorney Earle F. Tilley in the local federal courts declaring that federal condemnation of private land for housing is unconstitutional, Ickes has stopped all condemnation proceedings and is going along on a cash basis.

APPROVES 20 GRANTS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt has approved grants totaling $664,566 for twenty nonfederal PWA construction projects, including ten in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Indiana, the division of application and information announced today.

The ten middle western projects received grants aggregating $391,072.

Genl. Motors Diesel Plant to Open Soon

BY HAL FOUST.

Production of Diesel electric locomotives in Chicagoland will being about Nov. 1 with between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 of these modern train pullers tentatively scheduled for the first year's output.

This announcement was made yesterday afternoon by H. L. Hamilton, president of the Electro-Motive corporation, a General Motors subsidiary, after inspecting the $2,000,000 plant under construction at McCook, Ill., a southwestern suburb.

Plant 50 Per Cent Completed.

"The plant is about 50 per cent completed," said W. J. Austin, president of the construction company bearing his name, "and will be finished by Sept. 15."

A three story office and administration building, air conditioned and otherwise modern, is almost finished, while powerful cranes are swinging beams for welding into place in the locomotive assembly plant.

Two and a half miles of track are being laid on the 70 acre site that was a farm a few months ago. A broad acreage was purchased in contemplation of an expansion into a 20 million dollar plant.

"We should be working 350 men here by Jan. 1," Hamilton said.

"Production for the first year can only be approximated roughly. Every large railroad in America is showing an increasing interest in Diesel-electric locomotives and it is mainly a question of finances as to how many will be ordered within the next few months.

Capacity 170 Units Yearly.

"We will have eight or ten locomotives to build as soon as the plant is ready. Initial capacity will call for a production of from 150 to 170 units per year, about $22,000,000 worth of locomotives. We will probably operate 50 to 60 per cent of capacity for the first year."

The Diesel engines will be built in the Cleveland General Motors plant. Generators and motors will be purchased from another subsidiary of the parent corporation. Other parts of the locomotive will be fabricated, annealed, and assembled in the McCook plant.

To aid the railroads in financing purchases, the General Motors Acceptance corporation, which handles instalment payments in automobile retailing, will extend similar credit to the carriers. Hamilton said the displacement of old steam locomotives will save enough in operating costs to meet payments on new Diesels.

DUTCH MONEY RISES; PRICE PEGGED ABOVE GOLD EXPORT POINT

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—With the Netherlands bank pegging the price of the Dutch currency above the gold export mark and a cessation in the export of the metal from Amsterdam, the guilder made a swift recovery today in the foreign exchange market.

Following the request of Queen Wilhelmina that former Premier Colijn return and form a government on a broad basis, a general reaction set in and the guilder began a swift recovery that netted an advance of 75 points, closing at 67.85, thus establishing the price above the export point. The return of the Colijn government indicates, according to advices from Amsterdam, that Holland will continue on the gold standard. An additional $4,000,000 was reported as engaged in Amsterdam for American interests today, bringing to $27,000,000 the amount tagged for this country since last Thursday.

The French franc advanced ¾ point today and closed here at 6.61¼, while pound sterling was off ¼ cent to 4.96¼. The dollar was only slightly changed at 100.3. The lira was steady and the Belgian franc slid off two points.

The statement of the Bank of Italy as of July 20 revealed no change in gold holdings of 5,524,000,000 lire, as compared with the statement of July 10. Credit balances abroad remained at 361,000,000 lire. Notes in circulation increased to 13,266,000,000 lire, as compared with 14,210,000,000. The ratio of gold notes in circulation was 41.64 per cent as against 41.81 per cent on July 10.

With the French franc rising to 6.61¼ cents, the value of the dollar against francs showed a corresponding decline to $1.0031 from $1.0043 on Saturday. Based on the old parity of the franc the dollar dropped to 59.25 cents from 59.32 cents on Saturday.

Eastman Kodak Volume Reported Above 1934

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Frank W. Lovejoy, president of the Eastman Kodak company, announced today that virtually all of the company's lines showed increases in volume in the first half of 1935 over the same period of 1934, and that the level of general business was moderately higher. Despite a temporary current recession, Lovejoy expects the last half of the year also to show gains over the 1934 period.

The sale tomorrow of a new issue of $4,430,000 refunding and tax-exempt bonds of the territory of Hawaii is the largest award scheduled to be made this week in the state and municipal classification. Several of the larger New York banking groups are studying the proposal and are expected to submit bids. COUNTY BOARD ACCEPTS BOND REFUNDING PLAN

2 Investment Firms to Handle Deal.

By a vote of 11 to 2 the Cook county board yesterday adopted the plan of A. C. Allyn & Co. and Stifel, Nicolaus & Co., investment houses, for carrying out a $48,000,000 refunding program, under which the county's defaults will be wiped out and its credit position will be improved. The two houses agree to buy outright $10,000,000 of the new bonds and to handle the exchange operation on $38,179,000 bonds now outstanding.

The commissioners rejected a proposal of the five loop banks to handle a straight bond exchange plan similar to the program in which the banks are acting as refunding agents for the sanitary district. The sanitary district is asking holders of the $139,945,890 bonds to take a similar amount of new twenty year bonds carrying the same coupons as their present holdings. The banks made their formal offer of exchange to sanitary district bondholders yesterday.

Will Clear Up Defaults.

The county plan ratified yesterday contemplates using the $10,000,000 received from sale of new bonds to the Allyn-Stifel-Nicolaus syndicate to pay $6,000,000 interest and $4,000,000 principal past due on bonds. The $10,000,000 new bonds, which will mature in twenty years, will be dated July 1 and will be purchased seventy-five days after the agreement is signed. The interest to be paid will depend upon the amount of bonds the county is able to exchange for the $38,179,000 unmatured bonds outstanding.

If the exchange is any amount less than 75 per cent, the bond houses will obtain 4 per cent on the $10,000,000 they purchase. The rate will drop to 3¾ per cent if from 75 to 84 per cent of the $38,179,000 is exchanged, and to 3½ per cent if the exchange amounts to 85 per cent or more.

The exchange offer is to be made as soon as the formal contract is signed. The new bonds would be dated as of the last interest date and mature in twenty years, but the county retains the option to retire any of the bonds one year after the maturity of the original bonds turned in. The present bonds mature from 1936 to 1952 and carry 4, 4½, and 5 per cent coupons. The rate would be unchanged on the refunding bonds.

Post $100,000 Check.

Purchase of the $10,000,000 by the bond houses will be made after seventy-five days, when the amount of exchanges will have determined the coupon. A certified check for $100,000 has been posted with the county board

New Dealers' Share Wealth Plan to Cover Vast Spending

BY HOWARD WOOD.

New Dealers in the propaganda surrounding their "share the wealth" scheme have given the impression that money is to be taken from the rich to give to the poor, that everybody is to have a chicken in the pot and two cars in a garage behind the house that are to be presented to him by Uncle Sam.

This rosy outlook is destined to be exploded when the realization comes that the wealth to be confiscated from large estates is to be used to cover expenditures already made.

The "sharing" has already been accomplished. It's only the collecting that is being arranged for now.

* *

In the four years ended June 30, 1935, the government of the United States spent the tremendous sum of 14,500 million dollars more than it received in revenues. It borrowed this 14,500 millions from the citizenry. In the present fiscal year, which will end next June 30, it proposes to spend an additional 4,500 million dollars more than it takes in.

This money, a total of 19,000 million dollars, has been spent on the pretext of meeting the unemployment problem, but it hasn't met it. According to a report published Saturday by the national industrial conference board, the total number of unemployed workers in the United States last month was 9,804,000. Estimates of government agencies and the American Federation of Labor run to about the same figure. Four years ago the number of unemployed was about the same as it is now.

* *

About 14,500 million dollars have been spent to "relieve" unemployment, but unemployment hasn't been "relieved." Therefore the administration proposes to spend 4,500 more this of large estates.

President Roosevelt's proposed new inheritance tax, according to official estimates, will raise only a maximum of 250 million dollars of additional revenues each year for the government despite the fact that it will result in confiscating up to 87 per cent ofg large estates.

At that rate it would take 58 years of such "soak the rich" taxes merely to pay for the 14,500 million dollars of deficits that the government has piled up during the last four years. If the official estimate of a deficit of 4,500 million dollars for this year is borne out, it would take 76 years of "soak the rich" taxes to produce enough money to pay the five year deficit.

* *

But the "soak the rich" taxes wouldn't last 58 years. After the big estates are once confiscated there would be no way to build up new large fortunes because along with the inheritance tax is to go a stiff increase in the income tax on big incomes and a boost on corporation income taxes. There is no better analogy for this scheme than the old fable about the murder of the goose that laid the golden eggs.

The wealth has already been "shared" because it has been spent—and a lot more—by the politicians, and unemployment is as great as ever. What's happening now is an attempt by the government to find a way to raise funds to pay off the debts resulting from its fruitless expenditures. There's no prospect of any government surplus to put the worker in his own house, a chicken in his pot and another car in his garage.

* *

Also disquieting is the fact that a lot of wealth that is supposed to exist has simply disappeared. The Chicago and North Western railroad is a good example of this. On the books of this company is property worth 676 million dollars, but last year all it had left to pay the people who hold its securities was about $8,500,000. Capitalized at 6 per cent this would make the company worth only 145 million dollars. In 1929, on the same basis of calculation, the property would have been worth 500 million dollars.

Between the workings of the amended bankruptcy laws which are scaling down the value of investors' securities, inflation which is undermining the purchasing power of what dollars they have left, and increasing taxes which are cutting off larger slices of even that remainder, the "share the wealth" schemers are likely to find that they are foreclosing on a hollow shell.

"PENNSY" SHOWS LESS PROFIT ON MORE BUSINESS

Net operating income of the Pennsylvania railroad declined in June and the first six months of the year from 1934 despite increased operating revenues, the company announced yesterday. Net operating income in June amounted to $6,105,599, compared with $6,474,671 a year ago. Gross revenues increased from $31,348,280 in the 1934 month to $31,676,595 in June of this year. For the first half year net operating income was $32,656,018, against $32,783,140 in the first six months of 1934, while gross revenues totaled $178,853,949, against $176,377,459.

CHARGE BANKERS USING COERCION ON OMNIBUS BILL

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—A charge that the "great bankers of New York" are attempting through coercion to force house acceptance of the omnibus banking bill in the form passed by the senate Friday was made today on the house floor by Representative Goldsborough.

Predicting a difficult conference between house and senate committees named to work out differences between the two chambers, Goldsborough, one of the conferees, saw "the same handwriting, the same sinister influence of that class that controled the people's money since the war to the detriment of the nation."

PACKERS HERE SUE TO KILL AAA PROCESSING TAX

17 Ask Writ to Halt Collection.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Suit was begun yesterday in the United States District court by 17 Chicago packing companies, including the Swift and Armour concerns, attacking the validity of the processing taxes on pork levied under the agricultural adjustment act. The packers seek to enjoin collection of $5,155,531 in taxes which are now overdue to the government.

The suits, the first to be brought by Chicago packers, were precipitated by the refusal of the internal revenue office to grant further extensions on the payments after Aug. 1.

With the packers here joining the fight the number of suits now pending against the AAA throughout the country was boosted to nearly 500.

Injunctions Issued in Other Cities.

Injunctions have been issued in a number of instances in other parts of the country restraining collection of the processing taxes on pork, wheat, and cotton.

Today counsel for the packers will go before Federal Judge John P. Barnes asking issuance of temporary writs to enjoin the government from taking any official action to collect the tax before the validity of the Agricultural Adjustment act be finally decided upon by the courts.

The processing tax is levied at the rate of $2.25 a hundred pounds. Under the law the secretary of agriculture has the authority to raise or lower the tax in order to bring about the avowed purpose of a "balanced production."

All processing taxes collected so far by the department of agriculture amount to $866,000,000. If the present rates continue annual collections are estimated at $360,000,000.

Attack Constitutionality.

Separate bills were filed yesterday by Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Oscar Mayer & Co., and P. Brennan & Co. Thirteen smaller companies joined in three different suits.

The Swift & Co. bill, filed by Attorney Henry Vedder, sets forth that the assessment and collection of the tax is unconstitutional on the grounds that the processing and manufacture of the commodities subject to the tax is purely intrastate business.

The company asserts that it has paid a total of $35,272,677 in processing taxes and $938,470 in floor taxes. This is an average of more than $2,-

Outstanding Bonds of

The Sanitary District of Chicago

Under new legislation which permits the issuance of sinking fund bonds, a refunding plan has been adopted by the Sanitary District of Chicago, and the undersigned Chicago banks have been appointed Refunding Agents.

The objects of the refunding operation are to rearrange the District's very heavy bond maturities of the next few years, to bring the District up to date in the payment of its bonded debt obligations and to make more satisfactory provision for the prompt payment of interest and principal in the future. The refunding bonds will be supported by tax levies designed to insure prompt payment of interest and orderly retirement of principal through the operation of a sinking fund. To gain these advantages both later maturing and past due bonds must be exchanged.

Bondholders are asked to deposit their bonds with any of the undersigned banks as depositary accompanied by a letter of transmittal agreeing to make the exchanges which are offered. A copy of the letter of transmittal and a prospectus outlining the plan and describing the refunding bonds may be obtained from any of the banks named below. We recommend the acceptance of the plan and the prompt attention of bondholders is urged because its success is dependent on a large number of holders consenting to it.

RAILWAY ISSUES PULL STOCKS UP ALL ALONG LINE

Steel Shares Attain New 1935 Highs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Rail shares, recent laggards, assumed leadership of the stock market today when industrials showed signs of heaviness, and their action was largely responsible for a resumption of constructive activities on a wider front late in the session. Steel issues, after absorbing light selling, pushed forward to new highs for the year or longer, United States Steel preferred touching par for the first time since 1933.

Again today many new peaks were recorded. However, the gains were largely fractional, and miscellaneous shares and motors lacked the vigor of recent sessions. There was no evidence of important selling and the market as a whole gave a good account of itself. Low priced issues, as well as "blue chips," attracted increasing interest.

Business News Chief Influence.

Business news, rather than Washington developments, remained the major factor contributing to the betterment. Earnings reports continued satisfactory.

Buying interest was spread over a wide area at the opening, but light selling soon appeared to check the forward movement in standard industrials, like General Motors, United States Steel common, Chrysler, and Montgomery Ward. Rails were firmer, New York Central being well bought around the $19 level. Floor professionals were reported buying stocks, mostly to cover short lines.

Offerings in the industrial sector were absorbed with only minor recessions and most of the pivotal issues were firmer in this period. Warner Bros. Pictures, up 1½ earlier in the day, reacted. Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, American Can, and Bridgeport Brass were strong.

Rails Resist Profit Taking.

Although moderate profit taking was encountered by the rails in later proceedings, most of these stocks held up well. As interest diminished in this group, steels came to life. Bethlehem and other members of this department were among the leaders. Fair demand was reflected by building, machine and utility issues, although the latter were dull. Chrysler, General Motors, and Atchison sold around their highs.

Not since May 28 has today's turnover in the stock exchange, 1,752,170 shares, been surpassed. On that date 2,313,660 shares changed hands.

U. S. PURCHASES OF BUTTER FAIL TO AFFECT MARKET

Purchases of 3,500,000 pounds of butter were made by the government for relief distribution on its request for offers of 5,000,000 pounds last week. The announcement had little effect on the market on the Chicago Mercantile exchange, the amount being regarded as relatively small in view of the heavy production and into storage movement. Stocks at the ten leading cities last week increased 1,600,000 pounds in excess of the corresponding period last year. Scattered buying lifted the November delivery ⅛ cent with the close at 24½ cents per pound.

A belief that the movement of fresh eggs to leading markets will fall off sharply, and stocks will start to decrease shortly, induced fair buying of the October future yesterday, the close being ¼ cent higher at 25⅜ cents per dozen. Spot prices in the local market were ½ to ¾ cent higher. Sales of butter were 52 cars and eggs 37 cars. Prices follow:

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—DRY GOODS.—Trade in unfinished cotton goods continued light today, held back by uncertainty about a processor tax clause on contracts. Finished goods sold in small lots, with inquiries broadening. Rayon yarns are well sold through August and rayon fabrics sold steadily in small quantities for future delivery. Silks were firm under the influence of rising raw silk and a somewhat better demand for quality goods. Wool goods opened firm with sales light. Burlaps were steady and quiet.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Italian government and municipal bonds sounded the one discordant note in the market today, declining 5 or 6 points on rather heavy offerings. Other foreign bonds were as steady as any division of the domestic list, although trading activity was light. Prices generally were slightly higher at the close.

Reported Hostilities Incite Drop.

Reported border hostilities in Ethiopia were responsible for the renewed weakness. Rome 6½s were hardest hit, breaking more than 6 points before meeting support. Italy 7s slumped more than 5 and the Milan 6½s dropped almost as much.

Rail issues commanded greatest attention as prices advanced 1 to 2 points. Southern and New York Central issues were in particular favor. Baltimore and Ohio bonds also moved higher in response to strength for that carrier in the stock market.

Utility bonds were relatively neglected but prices were steady. Industrials followed a moderate uptrend, with rubber issues selected for speculative support.

Federal List Moves Narrowly.

Government bonds moved narrowly in light trading. Treasury 2⅞s were firm in the face of the treasury's new call for bids for an additional $100,000,000 of the issue. Final prices were 2-32ds point lower to 2-32ds higher. High grade bonds generally were firm, with offerings absent.

Issues to hit new 1935 highs included Murray Body 6½s, up 3 at 133; American Rolling Mill 4¼s, up 1½ at 109½; Certainteed 5½s, up 1¾ at 84¾; Gulf States Steel 5½s, up ½ at 98¼; Liggett & Myers 5s, up ⅜ at 123½, and Penn Dix 6s, up ⅞ at 91⅝.

John Evans Bldg. Bonds.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information on the status of "The John Evans" bonds? This is a Chicago Trust issue. Thank you for information given me on Ridgemoor apartments.—G. G.

Answer: The John Evans, northwest corner of Hinman avenue and Davis street, Evanston, is a fireproof building containing 60 apartments, 11 stores and a basement garage. It is constructed on leased ground. Rights of bondholders are subject to the prior rights of the owners of the land to receive their rental for the ground.

The building itself is about ten years old. It is reported to be in good physical condition.

During 1934 an occupancy of 93 per cent was maintained. Gross receipts for the year were $98,146 and operating expenses were $59,150. This left a balance before taxes and ground rent of $38,992. During the first 10 months of 1933 gross receipts totaled $86,841 and operating expenses were $46,441.

Ground rent paid in 1934 was $18,000 and taxes paid were $7,802. Balance on unpaid taxes [1933 levy] was $4,191.

Frank Mall, trustee, is in possession of the property under the petition to reorganize the property under section 77B of the revised federal bankruptcy act. This petition was filed on June 13, 1934, by the owners of the building, 1600 Hinman Avenue Building corporation, but no reorganization plan has yet been presented.

There are outstanding $587,500 of first mortgage leasehold bonds of which 85 per cent are on deposit with the committee.

Euclid Bldg.

Investors' Guide: I shall appreciate very much any information you can give me on the Euclid first mortgage 6s. This was a Cody Trust company issue.—Mrs. W. P. A.

Answer: The Euclid is at 737 Madison street, Oak Park, Ill. It is a one-story store building, containing six stores. There is also a four-car garage. It is reported to be in good physical condition.

Gross receipts for the period of October, 1933, to Dec. 31, 1934, were $2,255 and operating expenses were $703. Attorney and receiver fees were $188. The property had $1,552 cash on hand on Jan. 1, 1935.

Unpaid 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1932 taxes totaled $7,534. Taxes for 1933 were paid in full.

Albert J. Peterson, receiver, is in possession.

There are $60,500 of first mortgage bonds outstanding, of which about 75 per cent are on deposit with the committee.

Operating expenses are well in excess of operating costs, but the margin of excess is small in comparison with the heavy load of back taxes and the large bond issue outstanding. On the basis of operations reported, and using a $1,500 a year tax levy, results of operations barely cover taxes. Under the circumstances, therefore, bondholders can expect little from this issue.

COUNTY BOARD ACCEPTS BOND REFUNDING PLAN

Two Investment Firms to Handle Deal.

as a guarantee of the purchase and handling of the exchange transactions.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the board, who was lined up with Commissioner Peter M. Kelly in voting against the plan, has not signed the contract. He expects to withhold action for a day or two, in the belief that a lower rate of interest can be obtained.

In answer to arguments that a lower coupon should be attached because certain county 4s are selling at a premium, the sponsors of the plan replied that the premium price included defaulted interest.

Group Urges Speed.

It was asserted by the underwriting group that it is ready to start on the refunding project as soon as the contract is signed by Smith. The group stated that if Smith "will coöperate with the county board and sign it promptly," it will be possible to get the refunding under way in time to get an abatement on the 1934 tax levy, the bills for which are scheduled to go out Sept. 1. Every day of delay lessens the amount of abatement which may be obtained, it was stated.

The two investment houses also pointed out that the sliding interest scale in the plan offers special inducement to estates and other large holders to exchange present bonds in that it recognizes the proportionate improvement in credit standing to be effected by a larger exchange. The larger the exchange, they added, the better the tax burden may be distributed over the 20 year period.

The bond houses originally proposed only to purchase the $10,000,000 bonds and have the county handle the exchange operations. This was amended to make them the refunding agents to meet objection of Smith and others that the banks would agree to accept responsibility for the entire undertaking. Originally the county was to have paid $30,000 to the bond houses for their assistance. Under the plan as adopted the county will pay not to exceed $50,000 for the full service.

Five in Bank Group.

The bank proposal was estimated to cost the county from $200,000 to $300,000. The banks proposed to act as refunding agents for a straight exchange plan. No offer was made to purchase any bonds. In the banking syndicate were Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, First National bank, Harris Trust and Savings bank, Northern Trust company, and City National Bank and Trust company.

This group is handling the $139,945,890 refunding plan for the sanitary district. Some 50 issues are involved in this operation and the plan contemplates spreading the tax burden over 20 years instead of having it fall largely in the years from 1936 to 1948. Exchanges will be made for new bonds, with the coupon unchanged, when 85 per cent of outstanding bonds, or such other substantial percentage as may seem satisfactory to the district and the refunding agents. Bondholders depositing under the plan have the privilege to withdraw up to Dec. 1.

INDICES REFLECT BROAD STRIDES TO RECOVERY

165 Firms Report 12% Gain in 1935 Profits.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Three outstanding facts reported today indicate how broad a stride the United States has taken in the direction of recovery in recent months.

More than 165 widely diversified corporations have reported a 12 per cent gain in their profits in the first half of 1935 compared with the first half of last year; nineteen companies are shown to have paid their regular dividends all through the depression and recovery period without reducing them, and the value of fifty representative stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange increased $2,769,750,000, or 24.57 per cent, in the year between last Saturday and the corresponding date a year ago.

Profits Jump 12 Per Cent.

Aggregate earnings of the companies whose profits jumped 12 per cent through the first half of the year were approximately $359,000,000, compared with $321,000,000 in the first six months of last year. While there were no comparable figures available covering corresponding periods in earlier years, analysts say that 1935's results probably were the best since 1931 and the actual gains over a year ago probably were better than the indicated 12 per cent.

Of the nineteen companies with an unbroken depression dividend record, Beach-Nut Packing company has the longest unbroken record. It dates from 1902.

American Snuff in Second Place.

American Snuff comes next with a record beginning in 1903, and the Sun Oil company third with one dating back to 1904.

17 PACKERS HERE SUE TO KILL AAA PROCESSING TAX

Ask Writ to Halt U. S. in Collection of 5 Millions.

000,000 a month since the tax went into effect in November, 1933.

The bill calls attention to the numerous injunctions that have been issued against collection of the taxes in other parts of the country. Because competitors have won relief from the tax, Swift & Co., according to the suit, has been put at a competitive disadvantage.

The following are the representations on which the constitutionality of the act is attacked:

1. Regulation of production of hogs, corn, cotton, and other commodities subject to the AAA act is in contravention of rights reserved to the states.

2. Processing taxes were imposed not to pay government debts, to provide for the general welfare of the United States, or for the common defense, but were imposed for the benefit of a particular class, the producers.

Assail Delegation of Powers.

3. The act violates the fifth amendment of the United States constitution, since the processing "taxes" constitute the taking of the property of one class for a private purpose, to wit, the payment of gratuities or bounties to another class.

4. The act delegates legislative power to the secretary of agriculture without fixing clear and adequate standards.

5. The delegation of power to the secretary of agriculture to pay out the proceeds of the taxes without appropriation by congress violates the fifth amendment to the constitution because the secretary is not required to establish basis in fact or to make specific findings in imposing the levies and no judicial review is provided.

6. The taxes cannot be levied under the constitutional provision giving congress the right to regulate commerce because the production of the commodities is not interstate business.

Basis of Complaints.

The packers' counsel are relying largely on four sentences of the United States constitution to win their cases. One sentence gives congress power "To regulate commerce . . . among the several states" (Article I., Section VIII.), while another asserts that "The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution nor prohibited by it to the states are preserved to the states respectively or to the people" (Amendment X.).

The fifth amendment declares "No person shall be . . . deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. . . . Another clause says "No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. . . ."

The Armour bill sets forth the same complaints as the Swift document. The company asserts that it already has paid to the government $39,965,359 in taxes and owes an additional $3,330,924. The Armour suit was filed by Attorneys Charles J. Faulkner, general counsel; Weymouth Kirkland, Robert N. Golding, and John Potts Barners.

Increases Cost of Handling.

As do the other companies, Armour contends it has been unable to pass the tax along to the consumer. Moreover, the company says, the shortage of hogs caused by the act has substantially increased the price of swine while decreasing the supply, so that its plants operate far below normal capacity with a resultant increase in the unit cost of processing.

"The price at which pork products can be sold on the market is determined," according to Armour, "not only by competition from other packers but also by competition which other food products give pork, by consumer demand and by the price the consumer will pay.' '

Miller & Hart and Roberts & Oake filed a consolidated bill. A joint bill was filed also by C. A. Barnette & Co., Arnold Brothers, Inc., and J. R. Beirsdorf & Brothers.

Another bill was filed by the firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt on behalf of the following companies: Fuhrman & Foster company, Fulton Packing company, Jourdan Packing company, Maier & Co., Oscar Mayer & Co., United Butchers Packing company, Vette & Zuncker company, and Zuegel Packing company.

Borrow Cash to Pay.

Oscar Mayer & Co. also filed a separate bill. The Mayer bill says:

"In order to pay the enormous processing taxes assessed against us the company has been compelled to borrow money and at the present time the company is indebted for such borrowings in the amount of $450,000."

The company declares that in order to pay the remainder of the tax, amounting to $270,953, due for March, April and May, it would have to borrow more. It stated also that it was unable to collect from customers in increased prices. Processing taxes already paid by the company total $3,263,903.

The Illinois Meat company in its petition avers that it has paid $1,064,336 and that it owes $191,470 for May and June.

Wilson & Co. is the only one of the big packers which has not taken a stand against the tax in court. Officials said yesterday that the company's lawyers were busy with the company bond refunding program and had not arrived at any decision on the tax matter.

Cudahy & Co., whose headquarters are in Milwaukee, already has obtained an injunction in federal court there against the collection of the tax. The restraining order was issued last Saturday by Federal Judge Ferdinand Geiger.

Appeals Court Hits Tax Policy.

Denver, Colo., July 29.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today criticized the government for collecting AAA processing taxes while constitutionality of the act is being questioned. Circuit Judges Orie L. Phillips and Robert E. Lewis overruled the decision of District Judge J. Foster Symes refusing an injunction to prevent collection of $185,000 processing taxes from the Colorado Milling and Elevator company. They ordered the money impounded until constitutionality of the AAA tax is determined by the United States Supreme court.

Judges Lewis and Phillips both said the government's policy of collecting the tax and then forcing the taxpayers to sue to recover it, pending a Supreme court decision, was unfair.

U. S. Loses Buffalo Skirmish.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 29.—(AP)—Federal Judge John Knight denied today a government motion asking dismissal of five suits to restrain collection of AAA processing taxes, saying he was satisfied the court had "jurisdiction over the cases" and the suits had been "properly brought."

He denied, also, a motion of the processors for a declaration of judgment in their favor, refusing to pass on the constitutionality of the AAA.

The five suits were filed by the Rochester Packing company, Rochester, N. Y.; the Federal Mills, Inc., Lockport, N. Y.; the Mosley & Motley Milling company, Rochester, and two Buffalo companies. There are eight other like suits pending.

Blame Levy for "Strike."

Detroit, Mich., July 29.—(AP)—AAA processing taxes on pork were blamed by Detroit packers today for Saturday's turbulent meat buying strike which Hamtramck butchers said cost them thousands of dollars. Mrs. Mary Zuk, leader of the 500 housewives who picketed the Hamtramck shops, said the strike would be resumed Friday unless prices were reduced 20 per cent. Friday and Saturday are Hamtramck's heaviest meat buying days.

Lorillard Ties up Collection.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The P. Lorillard company, one of the "Big Four" group making popular priced cigarets, has obtained injunctions from federal courts in Virginia and New Jersey restraining the government from attempting to collect the AAA processing tax on tobacco. The company is the first large cigaret producer to contest the constitutionality of the tax.

CATTLE AND HOGS RISE AS RECEIPTS FALL AND MEAT PRICES ADVANCE

A decided improvement in the wholesale markets for all meats coupled with light receipts bolstered both cattle and hogs yesterday.

Beef sold steady to $1 higher than at the close of last week at the various distributing points, recovering about half of the losses for last week. Veal also was steady to $1 higher. Lamb meat gained from $1 to $2.50, the biggest gains in the east, with prices from $1 lower to $2.50 higher than on the previous Monday. Fresh pork sold steady to $2 higher than at the close of last week and $1 lower to $1 higher than a week ago.

Hog receipts were light for a Monday and demand was fairly good at strong to 10 cents higher prices for the better grades and 10 to 20 cents higher prices for packing "lard hogs," competition for the latter being stimulated by a rise in lard futures.

Upward to $13.10, tax included, was paid for selected lots of 200 to 210 pound young hogs, the highest sale since last Wednesday and within 15 cents of the 1935 high established Tuesday. The average for the session at $12.20 indicated an advance of 5 cents, a price which has been exceeded on only two days since September, 1928.

Cattle receipts at Chicago yesterday at 9,000 were lightest for a Monday since March 25 and second lightest of the year. A brisk demand developed for the comparatively small number of light steers and hefers at 15 to 25 cents higher prices.

The top of $11.90 was paid for a shipment of steers averaging 1,362 pounds that went for eastern account.

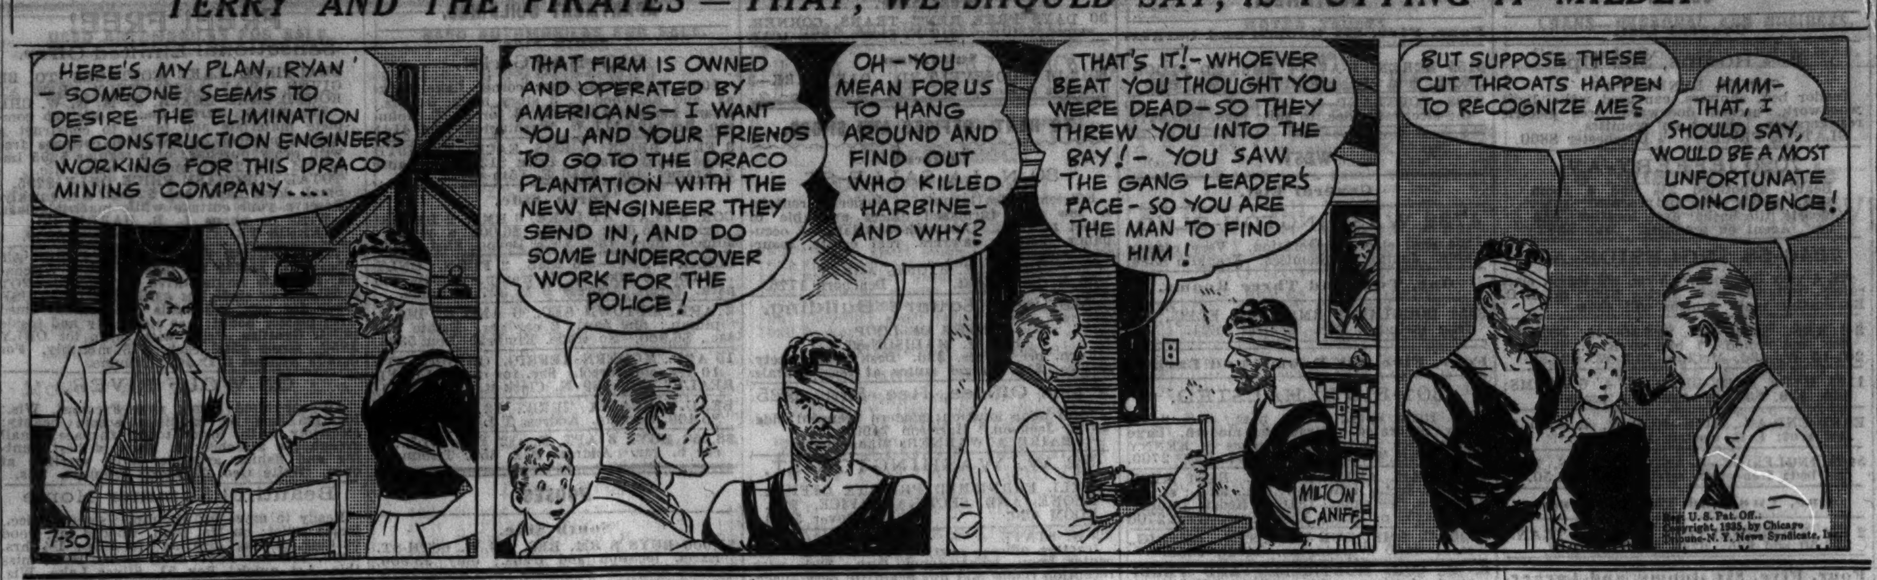
TERRY AND THE PIRATES — THAT, WE SHOULD SAY, IS PUTTING IT MILDLY



HERE'S MY PLAN, RYAN — SOMEONE SEEMS TO DESIRE THE ELIMINATION OF CONSTRUCTION ENGINEERS WORKING FOR THIS DRACO MINING COMPANY....
THAT FIRM IS OWNED AND OPERATED BY AMERICANS— I WANT YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS TO GO TO THE DRACO PLANTATION WITH THE NEW ENGINEER THEY SEND IN, AND DO SOME UNDERCOVER WORK FOR THE POLICE!
OH—YOU MEAN FOR US TO HANG AROUND AND FIND OUT WHO KILLED HARBINE— AND WHY?
THAT'S IT!—WHOEVER BEAT YOU THOUGHT YOU WERE DEAD—SO THEY THREW YOU INTO THE BAY!— YOU SAW THE GANG LEADER'S FACE— SO YOU ARE THE MAN TO FIND HIM!
MILTON CANIFF
BUT SUPPOSE THESE CUT THROATS HAPPEN TO RECOGNIZE ME?
HMM— THAT, I SHOULD SAY, WOULD BE A MOST UNFORTUNATE COINCIDENCE!
